Geology of Oxford and Thames. By J. Phillips. 8vo. $5.25.

Vesuvius. By the same. Crown 8vo. $2.60.

Geology. By Sir J. Prestwich. Royal 8vo. Vol. I. Chemical and Physical. $6.25. Vol. II. Stratigraphical and Physical. With a geological map of Europe. $9.00. Geological Map (separately), $1.25.

Physics of Earthquake Phenomena. By C. G. Knott. 8vo, with numerous diagrams. $4.75.

Astronomy

Astronomy in the Old Testament. By G. Schiaparelli. Authorized English translation. Crown 8vo. $1.15.

A Handbook of Descriptive Astronomy. By G. F. Chambers. Fourth edition. 3 vols. 8vo. $8.75, or separately, Vol. I. The Sun, Planets, and Comets. 8vo. $5.00. Vol. II. Instruments and Practical Astronomy. 8vo. $5.00. Vol. III. The Starry Heavens. 8vo. $3.40.

The Story of the Comets. By G. F. Chambers. 8vo, with many illustrations. Second Edition. $2.00.

Bradley's Miscellaneous Works. 4to. $5.75.

A Cycle of Celestial Objects, observed, reduced, and discussed by W. H. Smyth; revised and greatly enlarged by G. F. Chambers. 8vo. $2.00.

Astronomical Observations made at the University Observatory, Oxford, under the direction of C. Pritchard. Royal 8vo.

No. I. On observations of Saturn's Satellites. Paper covers, 90 c. No. II. A Photometric determination of the magnitudes of all Stars visible to the naked eye, from the Pole to ten degrees south of the Equator. $2.10. Nos. III and IV. Researches in Stellar Parallax by the aid of Photography. Part I, $1.90. Part II, $1.10.

Tables for Facilitating Computation of Star-Constants. By H. H. Turner. Second impression. 8vo. 50 c. (published by Mr. Frowde).

Halley's Comet. By H. H. Turner. Ed. 2. Illustrated. 35 c.

Halley's Comet, with notes on Comets in General. By G. F. Chambers. 8vo. Illustrated. 35 c.

Celestial Ejectamenta: the first Halley Lecture, by Henry Wilde. 8vo. Illustrated. 35 c.

Chemistry

Mathematical Crystallography. By H. Hilton. 8vo. $4.75.

Crystallography. A treatise on the Morphology of Crystals. By N. Story-Maskelyne. Crown 8vo. $3.25.

Fock's Introduction to Chemical Crystallography, translated and edited by W. J. Pope; with a preface by N. Story-Maskelyne. Crown 8vo. $1.40.

The Molecular Tactics of a Crystal. By Lord Kelvin. 8vo. 90 c.

Organic Chemistry of Nitrogen. By N. V. Sidgwick. 8vo. $4.75.

Elementary Chemistry. Progressive Lessons in Experiment and Theory. By F.R. L. Wilson and G. W. Hedley. 8vo, with many diagrams. Part I. Second edition. 75 c. Part II. Second edition. $1.25.

Class Book of Chemistry. By W. W. Fisher. Ed. 5. Crown 8vo. $1.10.

Exercises in Practical Chemistry. By A. G. Vernon Harcourt and H. G. Madan. Fifth edition. Crown 8vo. $2.60.

Van 't Hoff's Chemistry in Space, translated and edited by J. E. Marsh. Crown 8vo. $1.10.

Chemistry for Students, with solutions. By A. W. Williamson. Extra fcap 8vo. $2.10.

Tables of Qualitative Analysis. By H. G. Madan. 4to, paper covers. $1.10.

Pure and Applied Mathematics

Introduction to the Algebra of Quantics. By E. B. Elliott. 8vo. $5.00.

Theory of Continuous Groups. By J. E. Campbell. 8vo. $4.75.

Theory of Groups of Finite Order. By Harold Hilton. 8vo. $4.75.

Treatise on Infinitesimal Calculus. By Bartholomew Price.

Vol. I. Differential Calculus. [Out of print.]
Vol. II. Integral Calculus, Calculus of Variations, etc. [Out of print.]
Vol. III. Statics, including Attractions; Dynamics of a Material Particle. Second edition. 8vo. $1.25.
Vol. IV. Dynamics of Material Systems. Second edition. 8vo. $1.25.

The Collected Mathematical Papers of H. J. Stephen Smith, late Savilian Professor of Geometry in the University of Oxford. Edited by J. W. L. Glaisher. 2 vols. 4to. $15.75.

Rigaud's Correspondence of Scientific Men of the Seventeenth Century. 1841. 2 vols. 8vo. $4.75.

Elementary Books

Responsions Papers in Stated Subjects (exclusive of Books), 1901–1906, with answers to Mathematical Questions and Introduction by C. A. Marcon and F. G. Brabant. Crown 8vo. $1.15.

A School Course of Mathematics. By David Mair. Crown 8vo. 90 c.

A Study of Mathematical Education, including the teaching of Arithmetic. By Benchara Branford. Crown 8vo. $1.10.

School Algebra. By W. E. Paterson. Crown 8vo. Parts I (Ed. 3) and II (Ed. 2), each 60 c. (with answers, each 75 c.); together, $1.00 (with answers, $1.25). Also in Sections: A (Chapters 1–17), B (18–28), each 50 c. (with answers, 60 c.); C (29–end), 60 c. (with answers, 65 c.): A and B, 90 c. (with answers, $1.00). Section A, examples only, 30 c. (with answers, 40 c.). Detailed prospectus on application.

Arithmetic. With or without answers. By R. Hargreaves. Crown 8vo. $1.10.

Elementary Plane Trigonometry. By R. C. J. Nixon. Crown 8vo. $1.90.

Book-keeping. By Sir R. G. C. Hamilton and J. Ball. Fcap 8vo. 50 c.
Ruled exercise book to the above, 40 c.; to preliminary course only, 10 c.

Lectures on the Logic of Arithmetic. By M. E. Boole. Crown 8vo. 50 c.; or interleaved with writing-paper, 75 c.

Figures made Easy: a first Arithmetic Book. By Lewis Hensley. Crown 8vo. 15 c. Answers, 25 c.

The Scholar's Arithmetic. By the same. 60 c. Answers, 40 c.

The Scholar's Algebra. By the same. Crown 8vo. 60 c.

A Text-Book of Algebra: with Answers. By W. S. Aldis. Crown 8vo. $1.90.

Elementary Mechanics of Solids and Fluids. By A. L. Selby. Crown 8vo. 90 c.

Geometry

Geometry for Beginners: an easy introduction to Geometry for young learners. By G. M. Minchin. Extra fcap 8vo. 40 c.

Elementary Geometry, on the plan recommended by the Mathematical Association.

Experimental and Theoretical Course of Geometry. By A. T. Warren. With Examination Papers set on the new lines. Crown 8vo. With or without answers. Third edition with additions (1905). 50 c.

Elementary Modern Geometry. Part I. Experimental and Theoretical. (Ch. I–IV) Triangles and Parallels. By H. G. Willis. Crown 8vo. 1905. 50 c.

Euclid Revised, containing the essentials of the Elements of Plane Geometry as given by Euclid in his first six books, edited by R. C. J. Nixon. Third edition. Crown 8vo. $1.50.

Sold separately as follows:—Book I, 25 c.; Books I, II, 40 c.; Books I–IV, 75 c.; Books V, VI, 90 c.

Geometry in Space, containing parts of Euclid's Eleventh and Twelfth Books. By R. C. J. Nixon. Second edition. Crown 8vo. 90 c.

Geometrical Exercises from Nixon's Euclid Revised. With Solutions. By Alexander Larmor. Crown 8vo. 90 c.

The 'Junior' Euclid. By S. W. Finn. Crown 8vo. Books I and II, 40 c. Books III and IV, 50 c.

Sequel to Elementary Geometry, with numerous examples. By J. W. Russell. Crown 8vo. $1.50. Solutions (Key). Crown 8vo. $3.40, obtainable only from Mr. Henry Frowde, 29–35 West 32nd Street, New York.

Pure Geometry, an elementary treatise, with numerous examples. By J. W. Russell. Crown 8vo. New and revised edition (1905). $3.00.

Analytical Geometry, an elementary treatise by W. J. Johnston. Crown 8vo. $1.50.

Notes on Analytical Geometry. By A. Clement Jones. Crown 8vo. $2.00.

Cremona's Elements of Projective Geometry, translated by C. Leudesdorf. Second edition. 8vo. $3.25.

Cremona's Graphical Statics, being two treatises on the Graphical Calculus and reciprocal figures in Graphical Statics, translated by T. H. Beare. 8vo. $2.25.

On the Traversing of Geometrical Figures. By J. Cook Wilson. 8vo. $2.00. Addendum. 8vo, paper covers. 15 c.

Non-Euclidean Geometry. By J. L. Coolidge. 8vo. $5.00.

Physics

Hermann von Helmholtz. By Leo Koenigsberger. Translated by Frances A. Welby. With a Preface by Lord Kelvin. Royal 8vo, with 3 portraits. $5.25.

Modern Views on Matter. Being the Romanes Lecture for 1903. By Sir Oliver Lodge. New edition. 35 c.

Treatise on Electricity and Magnetism. By J. Clerk Maxwell. Third edition. Two vols. 8vo. $8.00.

Notes on Recent Researches in Electricity and Magnetism. By Sir J. J. Thomson. 8vo. [Out of print.]

Maxwell's Elementary Treatise on Electricity. Edited by W. Garnett. 8vo. $1.90.

Introduction to the Mathematical Theory of Electricity and Magnetism. By W. T. A. Emtage. 2nd ed. Crown 8vo. $1.90.

The Measurement of Electrical Resistance. By W. A. Price. 8vo. $1.50.

The Mathematical Theory of Electricity and Magnetism. In two volumes. By H. W. Watson and S. H. Burbury. 8vo. $1.50 each.
Vol. I. Electrostatics. Vol. II. Magnetism and Electrodynamics.

The Application of Generalized Co-ordinates to the Kinetics of a Material System. By the same. 8vo. 60 c.

Lessons on Thermodynamics. By R. E. Baynes. [Out of print.]

Elementary Treatise on Heat, with numerous Woodcuts and Diagrams. By Balfour Stewart. Sixth edition, revised with Additions, by R. E. Baynes. Crown 8vo. $2.25.

Practical Work in General Physics. By W. G. Woolcombe. Crown 8vo. 50 c. each part.
Part I. General Physics. Out of Print. Part II. Heat. Second edition, Revised. Part III. Light and Sound. Part IV. Magnetism and Electricity. Out of print.

The Theory of a Physical Balance. By J. Walker. 8vo. 90 c.

A Treatise on the Kinetic Theory of Gases. By H. W. Watson. Second edition. Crown 8vo. $1.00.

Acoustics. By W. F. Donkin. Second edition. Crown 8vo. $2.50.

A Treatise on Statics with Applications to Physics. By G. M. Minchin.
Vol. I. Equilibrium of Coplanar Forces. Sixth edition. 8vo. $2.60.
Vol. II. Non-Coplanar Forces. Fourth edition. 8vo. $4.00.

Hydrostatics and Elementary Hydrokinetics. By the same. Crown 8vo. $2.60.

Statutes of the University, etc

Oxford University Sheet Almanack, 1910. $1.50.
With a view of Magdalen Tower and Bridge; a chromo-collotype from a water-colour drawing by EDWARD DAYES (1792): that for 1910 had a view of Tom Tower, Christ Church; that for 1909 a view of Worcester College; both collotypes from original drawings by MUIRHEAD BONE. Catalog of Publications of the Pacific Press Publishing Assn.

Each publication has a number before it to indicate the particular class to which it belongs. Following is the key to these figures:

1. Subscription Books — sold through regular agents.

2. Books for Home Workers — sold through home agents.

3. Trade Books — net.

4. School and Song Books — net.

3. ALMOST A MAN. By Dr. Mary Wood-Allen. This book is not only a doctor's talk to boys, but a mother's talk. No one can come so close to a boy's heart as a mother. She stimulates the good, helps him to correct the bad, and upon her teaching depends much of the success or failure of his after-life.

In this book Dr. Wood-Allen appeals to the manly qualities found in every boy. She describes the functions and natural uses of the organs of the body, and compares their development with familiar plant and animal life.

It is just the book to put into any boy's hands when he begins to ask those delicate questions which many find so hard to answer. Cloth 50

3. ALMOST A WOMAN. By Dr. Mary Wood-Allen. Doubly important is the period when the girl blossoms into womanhood. Upon the training and education which she receives at this time depends her future usefulness as a woman and a mother.

Dr. Wood-Allen knows just how to handle this subject so as to win a girl's confidence, and cause her to recognize the responsibilities which are awaiting her. She presents the whole subject in such a reverent attitude that even the most careless will be led to look upon the mysteries of life as sacred. Cloth 50

3. AMONG THE NORTHERN ICEBERGS. By Emma H. Adams. Interesting sketches of Arctic expeditions of England and America in the nineteenth century. It is a book which will fascinate young folks, and add very materially to their stock of knowledge. 160 pages, illustrated, cloth 50

4. BELL'S GUIDE TO CORRECT LANGUAGE. A ready reference book. A treatise convenient for the use of all people in all callings and professions, and especially helpful to printers, teachers, students, and those who write for the press. It contains facts that everybody wishes to know about the correct use of the English language, and these facts are so arranged that they can be instantly found.

This book is written in three parts.

Part I. Practical grammar, containing the most essential grammatical laws, illustrated with examples that reveal the correct and the incorrect use of words.

Part II. Punctuation; in an entirely new and simple method, embracing illustrations, rules, and examples, so arranged that one can instantly find what he wants.

Part III. Use of Capitals; though this is one of the most difficult problems in the use of the English language, the rules in this book render it as simple as possible.

Substantially bound in cloth. Size, 6 x 9¼ inches. Post-paid 50

4. BELL'S LANGUAGE SERIES. In four books. This series gives an outline study of the English language, adapted to the training of the child from the nursery till he graduates from college. These books claim the attention of practical educators everywhere. Based upon the natural method, giving and illustrating principles rather than rules, and are particularly suited to home study. This unique series consists of:

Book One, Primary Language Lessons from Life, Nature, and Revelation, 227 pages. Cloth 65

Book Two, Elementary Grammar, 224 pages. Cloth 65

Book Three, Complete Grammar, 281 pages. Cloth 80

Book Four, Rhetoric and Higher English, 375 pages. Cloth 1 25

1. BEST STORIES FROM THE BEST BOOK. The best book is the Bible; and the author has selected from that grand volume some of the choicest gems, and placed them in attractive form for children. It opens with a series of easy nature lessons, adapted to the little folks just learning to read. Following this are short stories based on prominent Bible characters, which are very entertaining and inspiring. The book is nicely illustrated, some of the pictures being colored, and will prove very pleasing and helpful to the children, impressing lessons that will never be forgotten. Published in English, German, Danish, and Swedish.

Bound in stiff board with cover design .. 50

Presentation edition, cloth back and corners, with art paper sides 75

2. BIBLE CHILD LIFE. A biography of the principal children mentioned in the Bible, written especially for young people. These biographies are a part of the Word that is "a lamp to our feet and a light to our path." The book presents, in simple narrative, Bible child life in a manner that charms and molds the lives of children. There is nothing that can be done for children that will help them more than to teach them to read the simple story of the lives of children recorded in the Scriptures. The impressive lessons received from the stories written in "Bible Child Life" will mold the mind, quicken the conscience, and prepare the children for true Christian lives. 144 pages, 22 full-page illustrations. Cloth .. 50

4. BIBLE NATURE STUDIES. By M. E. Cady. The aim of this volume is to illustrate the fact that the Book of books is the foundation of all true science. From this standpoint the author has carefully prepared two hundred and sixty-seven lessons, and classified them in sixteen leading chapters, as follows:

1. The Earth in the Beginning. 2. Light and Heat. 3. Air and Sound. 4. Water. 5. The Dry Land. 6. Plants. 7. The Sun, Moon, and Stars. 8. The Water Animals. 9. The Air Animals. 10. The Land Animals. 11. Man. 12. The Sabbath. 13. The Fall of Man. 14. The Flood. 15. The Earth's Final Destruction. 16. The New Earth.

In these chapters the learner is taught to behold the Creator in His creation, and to know that the power and life of true education is a "knowledge of God and of Jesus Christ whom He hath sent." It fills a long-felt need as a text-book in our church schools and colleges, and in a beautiful way connects Bible study with that of the sciences. Parents will find its use valuable in the home training of their children. Cloth 1 00

3. CHRIST'S OBJECT LESSONS. By Mrs. E. G. White. This volume of 436 pages from the pen of Mrs. White is an attractive grouping of the parable-teaching of Christ. The linking of divine truth with common things and incidents is a prominent characteristic of Him who "taught as never man taught;" and in this book the author has developed and illustrated in a beautiful way these teachings, making a volume full of gems of truth, and which will give to many readers a new meaning to the surroundings of every-day life. The publishers have taken great pains to make the setting worthy of the gem, as to both mechanical work and illustrations. The latter are by talented New York artists, and have been expressly designed for this book. Also published in German, Danish, and Swedish at the same price.

1. COMING KING, THE. By James Edson White. Treats in a clear, concise, and readable manner the live issues of our times. It shows our Saviour's connection with the history of the world during the patriarchal age, and the events clustering around His first advent to earth. But more especially does it show how history is accurately fulfilling the great prophecy of our Lord as recorded in Matthew twenty-four. Famines, pestilences, cyclones; the conflict between capital and labor; the money question; the iniquity abounding in political, social, and religious life; the great war preparations of all nations,— these and kindred topics are discussed in separate chapters, showing they are but the response of history to the unerring voice of the prophecies of Christ and His apostles. These events are all shown to point to the great culminating event of this earth's history — the coming of the King and the restoration of this earth as the final abode of those who are faithful in their allegiance to Him. "The Coming King" contains 318 pages, and the text is illustrated with over 180 engravings, many of them full-page half-tones, designed and engraved expressly for this book. Issued also in German, Swedish, Dutch, Spanish, and Danish.

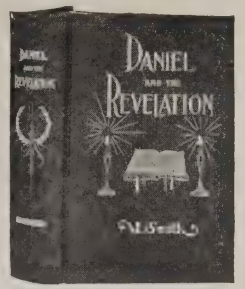
1. DANIEL AND THE REVELATION. The Response of History to the Voice of Prophecy. By Uriah Smith, author of "Here and Hereafter," "Looking unto Jesus," "The Marvel of Nations," "Synopsis of Present Truth." A new edition; new type; new illustrations; carefully revised; a handsome and valuable book. Many have considered the symbolical prophecies of Daniel and the Revelation difficult, if not impossible, to understand; but the statements of the prophets themselves assure the reader that these portions of Scripture were written for our instruction. This book gives the simple and correct rule for the interpretation of all symbolic prophecy. It is a most intensely interesting and instructive volume of nearly 900 pages, in which many wonderful and solemn things are brought to notice. Every chapter stirs the mind with vivid portrayals of present truth. Bible students will particularly prize this book, although it is well adapted to all classes of readers.



"Daniel and the Revelation" contains a verse-by-verse study of both these prophecies. The harmony and completeness of the plan of salvation thus made clear has led many to accept the Bible as the revealed will of God, and Christ as their personal Saviour. Doubtless there are no other books in the Bible which throw as much light on the strained, perplexing conditions in the business, social, and religious world to-day, as those here considered. No one can afford to miss this opportunity of studying the history of the past in connection with present developments, and in the light of these prophecies.

This new edition has been profusely reillustrated, there being about eighty full-page cuts, some of which are beautifully colored, besides numerous illustrated chapter headings, etc. Over 100,000 copies of the previous editions have been sold. It has been translated into a number of languages. Also issued in German, Danish, Swedish, and Dutch, except in plain cloth and paper editions.

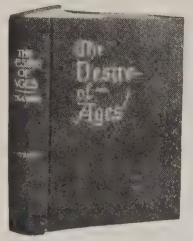
1. DESIRE OF AGES, THE. By Mrs. E. G. White. The life of Christ presented in a new and beautiful form. Its whole object is to show that in Christ the love of the Father is revealed, and that we may live the life He lived if we rightly connect with the same source of power.

In every phase and circumstance His experiences were similar to our own. The wonderful manner in which divinity and humanity were combined; the way in which Christ, while dwelling in a human body, with only human strength, took hold of divine strength, and thus overcame sin; these things are made wonderfully clear and helpful on every page and in every sentence. Step by step the life of our Saviour is traced, and is made to touch our life, so that He becomes, in very truth, "our elder Brother."



The illustrations number about 300, and are largely original. It contains nearly 900 pages, printed on fine book paper. The bindings are handsome, as well as substantial.

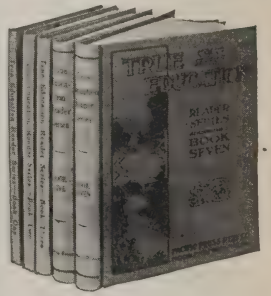
4. EDUCATION READER SERIES, TRUE. This series of school readers is designed to cover the work of primary and intermediate schools in grades one to seven, inclusive.



A competent corps of educators has been working on this series for several years. Believing that fairy tales and myths should have no place in the education of children and youth the authors have eliminated all such matter and given place only to the good, the pure, and the true.

The first three books give the Gospel story, told in different form in each book, using the simple but wonderful truths of science and nature to vary and enliven the telling of the story.

The other books in the series have received equal care in their preparation and the complete line presents absolutely the best and most useful school readers obtainable.

These readers are of uniform size, printed on fine, smooth paper, and illustrated by a large number of expensive engravings prepared especially for these books. All are substantially bound in beautiful cloth with green ink stamp. (Books One and Two, red and green.)

Book One, 204 pages, profusely illustrated 60
Book Two, 256 pages, many illustrations 60
Book Three, 304 pages, fully illustrated 75
Book Four, 348 pages, illustrated 1 00
Book Five, 353 pages, illustrated 90

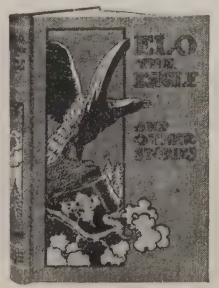
Book Seven, 392 pages, illustrated 1 00

2. ELO THE EAGLE AND OTHER STORIES. A book in which every boy and girl and young man and woman will be deeply interested. It contains ten stories of animal life — life histories of the author's boyhood friends. The subjects are as follows:



Elo the Eagle; Lady Betty the Quail; Jonah the Barred Owl; Joe the Blue Jay; Father Screech-Owl; Frank the Collie; The Coyote, the Last of a Hated Race; Dick the Black Bear; Boblets the Meadow-Mouse; Sobersides the Toad.

Each story is introduced by a handsome portrait of the hero, printed in glossy luxotype.

It contains nearly 200 pages. Fully illustrated, handsomely bound in cloth... 1 00

2. EDUCATION. The object of true education and how it may be realized by the youth, the parent, the teacher, the writer, the tiller of the soil, and the business man, is the great theme of this book.

Its first chapter is devoted to First Principles; following that are illustrations taken from the history of Israel. Master Teacher, Nature Teaching, The Bible as an Educator, Physical Culture, Character Building, The Under Teacher, and the Higher Course, are titles of other chapters. 321 pages. Cloth 1 25

1. GREAT CONTROVERSY BETWEEN CHRIST AND SATAN, THE. By Mrs. E. G. White. This volume presents the most wonderful and intensely interesting history that has ever been written of the great conflict between Christianity and the powers of darkness, as illustrated in the lives of Christian martyrs and reformers on the one hand, and wicked men and persecuting powers on the other. Beginning with our Lord's great prophecy, given while viewing Jerusalem from the Mount of Olives, this book outlines the history of the whole dispensation down to the time when "sin and sinners are no more, God's entire universe is clean, and the great controversy is forever ended." It has 38 full-page illustrations, nearly all of them new and specially engraved. It is printed on fine paper, beautifully and substantially bound, and contains over 800 octavo pages, and 148 engravings. Over 400,000 copies already sold.

Also published in German, Danish, Swedish, and French.

3. GREAT EMPIRES OF PROPHECY. From Babylon to the fall of Rome. A companion of the prophecies concerning Babylon, Medo-Persia, Grecia, and Rome, together with the profane history of these countries. 696 pages and 22 maps. Cloth 2 00

2. GOSPEL IN CREATION, THE. By E. J. Waggoner. A finely illustrated work which sets forth clearly and simply the relation between God's work in Creation and Redemption.

This is an excellent book for those to read who might be disturbed by the specious attacks being made against the Bible, and especially those portions dealing with Creation. A splendid presentation of the fact that in Creation is to be seen the "power of God" which is "unto salvation." 169 pages. Board 25
Cloth 50

2. GREAT NATIONS OF TO-DAY. By Alonzo T. Jones. A graphic explanation of the prophecies concerning the great world-powers and the position assigned to the great nations of to-day in prophetic history. Berean Library No. 7. 257 pages 25

3. GREAT SECOND ADVENT MOVEMENT, THE. This book gives a history of the greatest and most important religious movement this world has ever witnessed. It is written by Elder J. N. Loughborough, one of the oldest pioneers in this movement, and the only person living who has preserved a record of the early experiences. It contains a wealth of information which it is not possible for any other book to contain.

Its illustrations include the portraits of nearly all the leading pioneer workers in this message. This splendid volume contains 26 chapters, 480 pages, and is substantially and neatly bound in paper and cloth with cover design in three colors, thus presenting an attractive appearance.

2. HEALTH: How to Find It When It's Lost; How to Keep It When It's Found. Written by B. Franklin Richards, whose long and careful study of the subject of health in its different bearings has well fitted him to answer the questions propounded in the above title.

The author considers the details of such practical, every-day questions as good foods, food combinations, influence of stimulants, advantages of vegetarianism, how to avoid consumption, care of the teeth, office of the skin, value and proper use of the bath, home remedies, etc.

To illustrate and make all these points perfectly plain, more than a dozen carefully prepared tables are introduced. These tables alone are worth more than the price of the entire volume. Contains 222 pages, and is so thoroughly indexed as to enable one to instantly refer to any passage. Paper cover 50

1. HERALDS OF THE MORNING. By A. O. Tait. A new edition of this popular work, enlarged and thoroughly up to date. It treats on the second coming of Christ, and the signs that the Scriptures tell us should precede that great event. It tells the meaning of the appalling loss of life by murder and suicide, and by fearful calamities on every hand, of the capital and labor troubles, strikes, fires, perplexity among the nations, socially and politically, and the significance of the great phenomena in nature as portrayed all about us. With all this Christ is presented as the Friend of sinners, and His coming as the cheering hope of His children. It points out the place of refuge for those who would be shielded amid the perils of these last days, and how we may be saved from the great deceptions that Satan is multiplying in the earth. The light from the "sure word of prophecy" is turned on life's pathway, clearing up the obscurity and brightening it up amid the troubles and perplexities, even unto the dawning of the morning of the eternal day when strife shall cease. 419 pages.

Also published in German, Danish, and Swedish.
Cloth, marbled edges 2 00
Half leather, marbled edges 3 50

3. HERE AND HEREAFTER, OR MAN'S NATURE AND DESTINY. By Uriah Smith. This work is a thorough canvass of the great questions of a future existence, and the nature of man in the present life. Every text in the Bible which has any possible bearing upon these points is taken up and carefully explained. 357 pages. Cloth 1 00

3. HISTORY OF THE REFORMATION. By J. H. Merle d'Aubigné. This is the one recognized standard and most popular history of the great Reformation of the sixteenth century. D'Aubigné says: "I acknowledge this translation as the only faithful expression of my thought in the English language, and I recommend it as such to all my readers."

The style of the author is elegant, but simple, and the reader with little education, as well as those more educated, will therefore appreciate the book. The description given of the battles waged against error by Luther and his associates is thrilling, and no family should be without this work. Five volumes, cloth 3 00

HOME AND CHURCH SCHOOL MANUAL. See Church-School Manual.

1. HOME AND HEALTH. Prepared and edited by a competent committee of home-makers and physicians.

Home and Health is a household manual containing two thousand recipes and helpful suggestions on the building and care of the home in harmony with sanitary laws, the preservation of health by clean, consistent living, and the home treatment of more simple ailments and diseases by use of natural rational remedies instead of drugs.

It contains six sections as follows:

The Home, Its Location, Suggestions on Building, Sewerage, Healthful Surroundings, Water Supply, etc.

General Housekeeping, including all the general features of the housekeeper's work, such as Care of the Rooms, Laundering, House Cleaning, Fruit Canning, Pests, etc.

Diet.

Care of the Body.

Care and Training of Children.

The Home Treatment of Disease.

The object of this work is twofold:

(1.) The prevention of disease by teaching the principles of life and health.

(2.) The classification in convenient form for reference of such recipes and items of information as are most needed in the home.

The book contains nearly six hundred pages, is fully illustrated.

Published also in Spanish at same prices.

2. HOUSE WE LIVE IN, THE, OR THE MAKING OF THE BODY. By Vesta J. Farnsworth. Here is a most important and instructive book for the young, telling about the wonders of our physical house, in its various parts, the proper function of each organ, and how to care for the body from childhood up. The subject is presented as a conversation between a mother and her children, questions being freely asked and intelligently answered. The style of presentation is certainly a happy one, each part of the body being compared to some part of a house. For example, the mouth is compared to the eating-room, the stomach to the kitchen, the eyes to the windows, our nerves to a telephone system, our lungs to the bathroom, etc., which makes it very interesting and impressive to the young. You can readily see the importance of such a book as this in your family, for we all like to see our children become intelligent and form correct habits of living, so that they will grow up well and strong. This is the purpose of the book; and the numerous pictures well illustrate the thoughts expressed. Published in English only. Bound in cloth 1 00

3. LAST-DAY TOKENS. Revised and enlarged. By. J. N. Loughborough. "Fearful sights and great signs shall there be from heaven" is the Bible announcement concerning events that shall transpire prior to our Lord's return. All are more or less familiar with the accounts of the darkening of the sun and moon, and the falling of the stars, but how many ever saw a full moon in four quarters, each a different color; or a large red cross in the heavens with the letters J. K. S. under it; a Greek cross on the moon; light shooting off from the moon and forming the appearance of a man; a great army in the sky, clothed in red, fighting each other until all were dead; a bright sun two hours after sunset, surrounded by seven stars, the latter finally disappearing in the sun, after which it vanished from sight? These are only a few of the many wonders described and significance defined in this book, all of which are reproduced in their natural colors. Besides the strikingly interesting phenomena portrayed, there is given in connection a complete outline of the Gospel message for to-day.

3. LEFT WITH A TRUST. By Nellie Hellis. It is a story of the struggles of a family to help mother and each other during the absence of father, and pleasantly reveals the brighter side of youth where there is a worthy purpose and a will to be kind and affectionate. 160 pages, illustrated. Cloth 50

3. LETTERS FROM THE HOLY LAND. By Henry A. Harper. Illustrates many customs and practises, people and things, so different from those of our own land. The reading of the book will make more interesting the study and reading of the word of God. It contains a large number of illustrated chapter headings and full-page cuts. 160 pages, illustrated. Cloth 50

3. LIFE ON THE CONGO. By Rev. W. Holman Bentley. This short though comprehensive story of the new-old empire of the Congo, in many respects the choicest portion of the "Dark Continent," can not fail to interest young and old. The information given has the merit of being the product of the personal observation of the author and other well-known parties who have traversed the country which is so graphically described. Young People's Library Series. 12mo, 160 pages, illustrated. Cloth 50

2. LITTLE FOLKS' BIBLE NATURE. By Ella King Sanders. A new child's book of simple, graded lessons on Bible nature, beginning with Light, and continuing with the study of Creation in the order of the Scriptures. It is a beginner's book of the sentence-method order, carefully graded. Each subject is thoroughly illustrated with new drawings, made especially for the book, and with thirteen colored plates. It contains 144 pages, and is beautifully bound. Revised and enlarged.

3. LOVER'S LOVE, THE, OR JOHN THREE SIXTEEN. This book sets forth the great love manifested by Him who gave His life for sinners. One can not read the book without having a greater sense of what the salvation of this world and man has cost, and the desire to step to a higher standard of living. 176 pages 75

3. LUTHER, MARTIN. By Emma H. Adams. The name of this great reformer is well known in every household, and this story of his life, at home, at the university, as a monk, as a priest, at Rome, at the Diet of Worms, and finally the closing scenes of his eventful career, will be of deep interest to the young. 160 pages, illustrated. Cloth 50

3. MAN OF VALOR, A. By A. W. Spaulding. A new book written expressly for young people. The Old Testament character of Jonathan is taken as the leading figure, and around the wonderful story of his life is clustered a wealth of practical lessons and historical information.

Twelve beautiful full-page illustrations have been especially prepared for the book, and each is a real work of art. The illustrations are printed on a fine quality of enameled paper, and greatly enhance the general appearance of the book. Cloth... 75

2. MAKING HOME HAPPY. We all enjoy a home where there is happiness, where all join together to make things pleasant. The writer of this book pictures before us, in interesting story form, the actual experiences of a certain family, and how it grew from a home of discord to one of peace. By this object-lesson held up before us we readily see just the lines of influence to be drawn, and points to be guarded, and the traits to be cultivated to make home life pleasant. In the same way the children almost unconsciously grasp the true ideas of what home should be, and learn to prize its blessings more. The whole family may read the book with pleasure and profit. Published in English only. Bound in paper 25

Cloth 50

2. MAKING HOME PEACEFUL. This book by the same author is the sequel to Making Home Happy, telling the outcome of the family mentioned in the first book. Ten years have passed away, and great changes have taken place. You will be interested as well as pleased in following this family in their later experiences, and learning that the once home of discord became a quiet and peaceful abode, pervaded with love and happiness. In the frontispiece we have given a picture of the author. Published in English only. Cloth 75

1. MARVEL OF NATIONS. Our Country: Its Past, Present, and Future, and What the Scriptures Say of It. By Uriah Smith. A portrayal of American progress since the founding of the nation to the close of the nineteenth century, when this nation stood as one of the first nations in the world. The manner of the rise of this nation and its political nature are evidences of its prophetic importance.

While the historic past and the prophetic present of this nation are of great interest to the American people, the principal and the most interesting feature of this work is its treatise on the scriptural future of the United States and the setting up of the kingdom of God.

Over two hundred and fifty-five thousand of these books have been sold. Contains 324 pages. Also published in German, Danish, and Swedish.

1. MINISTRY OF HEALING. By Mrs. E. G. White. The meaning to us of our Saviour's example in healing the soul as well as the body is made very clear in this cheering volume. In the very first chapter we read, "During His ministry Jesus devoted more time to healing the sick than to preaching." This is a new view-point, perhaps, from which to consider the many incidents in His life, but from it the reader may gain physical as well as spiritual strength from every one of them.

The beautiful way in which these incidents are treated is indicated in the following chapter, entitled "Days of Ministry":

"Hour after hour they came and went; for none could know whether to-morrow would find the Healer still among them. Never before had Capernaum witnessed a day like this. The air was filled with the voice of triumph and shouts of deliverance.

"Not until the last sufferer had been relieved, did Jesus cease His work. It was far into the night when the multitude departed, and silence settled down upon the home of Simon. The long, exciting day was past, and Jesus sought rest. But while the city was wrapped in slumber, the Saviour, 'rising up a great while before day,' 'went out,' and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed.''

3. OUT-OF-DOORS. By M. E. Olsen. The book is permeated with a wholesome outdoor spirit. To read it is like getting a whiff of fresh mountain air. The writer is evidently in love with God's great out-of-doors, and has a way of making others fall in love with it, too. He points out the supreme value of fresh air from the point of view of health preservation. He shows that the morning walk, garden-making, camping, and other forms of open-air recreation are really remarkably effective remedies for common physical ills, and that open-air sleeping has done wonders in building up the health. He also discusses the serious moral and social problems growing out of the tendency to leave the country and crowd into the large cities. Education comes in for its share of attention, and is shown to consist of something more than book knowledge. In a chapter on ''The Higher Ministry of Field and Wood,'' we are reminded of the spiritually uplifting influences to be found out-of-doors, and are led to see nature telling the story of God's love and care. Altogether it is an inspiring book with a message of peace and power straight from God's out-of-doors. 104 pages. Cloth 60

1. PATRIARCHS AND PROPHETS; or The Great Conflict Between Good and Evil, as Illustrated in the Lives of Holy Men of Old. By Mrs. E. G. White. This book treats upon the themes of Bible history — themes not in themselves new, but so presented here as to give them a new significance. Beginning with the rebellion in heaven, the author shows why sin was permitted, why Satan was not destroyed, and why man was tested, gives a thrilling description of man's temptation and fall, and rehearses the plan of redemption devised for his salvation. The life of each of the patriarchs, from Adam to King David, is carefully scanned, and from each a lesson is drawn. This volume traces the great conflict between good and evil from its inception down through the centuries to the time of David's death, and shows God's wonderful love for mankind by His dealings with the "holy men of old." The book contains 825 octavo pages. It is printed from clear, new electrotypes on a fine quality of tinted paper. Its pages are adorned with more than 50 engravings, over 30 of which are full-page, and many were designed and engraved especially for this book and at great expense.

1. PRACTICAL GUIDE TO HEALTH. By Frederick M. Rossiter, B. S., M. D.

A masterly treatise on anatomy, physiology, and hygiene, with a scientific description of diseases, their cause and treatment, especially designed for the home and for the instruction of nurses.

It gives a plain, comprehensive understanding of the construction and functions of the various organs of the human body, with illustrations showing the anatomy of the various parts, and their relations to each other, together with a minute description of the nature and cause of various diseases, and a hygienic prescription for their cure without the use of medicine. It covers practically all the diseases common to the human race, and deals with them in a way that the information given can be applied in all homes. It will be equal to a nurse, and in many instances, a physician. Contains 659 pages, substantially bound as follows:

Cloth, marbled edges 3 50
Half leather, marbled edges 4 50
Full leather, marbled edges 5 50

2. POWER FOR WITNESSING. This book is a practical teacher of diligent doing, from the pen of one of experience, and treats in an able manner the following and many other important subjects: Something to Tell; Personal Experience in Receiving; Repentance and Forgiveness of Sin; Righteousness, Then Power; The Holy Spirit and the Unpardonable Sin; Secret of Rejoicing in Tribulation; How to Find Faith; The Laying on of Hands; Miracles and Healing. The author carries the reader with him step by step as he unfolds the gospel truth in all its clearness, beauty, and simplicity, and imparts a new inspiration with the many practical suggestions and experiences given.

The book contains 44 chapters, 201 pages, also a beautiful and appropriate cover design. Bound in cloth 75

1. PROPHECIES OF JESUS. By Elder J. G. Matteson. This book was first published in Swedish and Danish, and has run through several editions in those languages. It has been thoroughly revised by the author with careful attention to its adaptability to the English-speaking people; and additional matter of a peculiarly timely character has been added.

The book contains 566 pages, printed on finely calendered paper, and is embellished with 34 full-page illustrations. It is divided into four parts. Part 1 treats on the prophetic utterances of Christ.

Part 2 takes up the predictions of the apostles, and marks their fulfilment. Part 3 treats on the great prophecies of Daniel, and gives the historical evidence of their fulfilment. Part 4 treats on the prophecies of John as recorded in the Revelation.

3. PROPHETIC LIGHTS. By E. J. Waggoner. This book treats on some of the leading prophecies of both the Old and New Testaments. It shows the exact fulfilment of the predictions of the Bible concerning Egypt, Tyre, Babylon, Medo-Persia, Greece, and Rome, also the first advent of Christ. These prove the inspiration of the Bible, and give assurance that other prophecies which are noted will as surely and exactly be fulfilled. About thirty illustrated chapter headings and full-page plates adorn its pages, each one a work of art. Nearly all were designed and engraved especially for this work, at great expense. 8vo. 182 pages. Cloth .. 1 00

1. STORY OF DANIEL THE PROPHET. By S. N. Haskell. A biography of this wonderful prophet of God. Entirely new in its conceptions and designs. The scriptures narrating the story are printed in parallel columns with the author's delineations and interpretations. This one feature of the book alone renders it very serviceable and desirable.

In connection with the story of this remarkable life, a clear and forcible exposition of the prophecies is also given. The author has endeavored not to arouse controversy, but to suggest thoughts both in the story and side references, that will create a religious interest and further study in the things of God.

The book contains both a scriptural and general index of subjects, has eighteen chapters, and over 350 pages.
Cloth, marbled edges 1 50

1. STORY OF THE SEER OF PATMOS. By S. N. Haskell. The author's latest book is on the thrilling prophecies of the book of Revelation. It presents no vague new theories, but in simple narrative style portrays the story of the prophet John's life, and traces his prophecies and their wonderful fulfilment.

Illustrated with original engravings made especially for this work. The text of the entire book of Revelation is printed in the margins, and accompanying it are thousands of Scripture references elucidating the text; and besides all this, the explanatory comment of the author on each chapter. It is a companion volume to "Story of Daniel the Prophet," by the same author, and is written in the same style.

The two books are uniform in size and style, and treat two of the most important and least understood books of the Bible. Fully illustrated. Contains 424 pages.
Cloth, marbled edges 1 50

1. STORY OF REDEMPTION. By Elder William Covert. Its object is to assure the sinner that the plan of salvation is for him. It abounds with new and beautiful truths concerning the redemption of man, and will leave with the reader an inspiration for a higher and nobler life.

The illustrations have been carefully prepared, and include four three-color halftones from original paintings, made expressly for this book. Contains 237 pages.

4. STUDIES IN GOSPEL HISTORY. By Milton E. Kern. As indicated by the title, these studies are intended to cover that portion of the Christian dispensation included in the four Gospels, and are designed for the use of academic students. The purpose of this book is briefly but clearly stated in the motto on the title-page, "Study to show thyself approved unto God." A close study of the life of Christ is of supreme importance to our young people in these last days. The forty-five lessons are arranged with space after each question for written answer, and with two blank pages for "notes" at the end of each lesson. One colored map and five outline maps, fourteen halftone illustrations. Authorized by the Educational Department of the General Conference for use in the schools of the S. D. A. denomination. Contains 363 pages, nicely bound in cloth 1 00

3. TEACHING TRUTH. By Dr. Mary Wood-Allen. Is composed of talks and advice to mothers with reference to unfolding to their children the truths concerning their bodies and the origin of life. The queries which arise in the minds of the young must be answered. If not instructed by the parents, answers to their queries will be gotten by them from other sources, and often with the most undesirable results. How and when to teach this and other kindred subjects is the object of this book. Cloth, new edition 50

3. TEMPERANCE TORCHLIGHTS. By Matilda Erickson. Just from the press. A book of studies, stories, songs, poems, and useful information on temperance topics; for the use of individuals, churches, schools, temperance and young people's societies. 2. UNCLE BEN'S COBBLESTONES. Familiar talks with boys and girls about the common articles of every-day use: sunshine, fire, smoke, glass, coal, salt, paper, matches, etc.

Uncle Ben has a very pleasing way of telling about the origin and use of these various things. There is a ray of sunshine streaming throughout the whole book, and yet it does not touch the fiction so prevalent in books for children.

The purpose of the book, aside from the useful information given, seems to be soul-culture, for we observe on every page a moral fragrance that will impress young minds in the right way.

Uncle Ben tells about more than one hundred different things in all, and intersperses with happy thoughts that bring good cheer to young and old. 221 pages 1 00

3. VEGETARIAN COOK BOOK, THE.

While in almost every kitchen there are one or more "cook books" on hand for reference, we have no apology to make for the appearance of this new Vegetarian Cook Book.

The need of good, wholesome advice as to what people should eat and drink is emphatically shown by the alarming increase of disease on every hand.

Mr. Fulton, the author of this volume on vegetarian cookery, is a person of wide experience in vegetarian restaurant work, and is at present manager of the popular and well-known Vegetarian Cafeterias of Los Angeles. He has embodied in his book the results of his long experience and observation in the combination of foods and their healthful and palatable preparation.

The book has 420 pages, including a handy and well-arranged index of all the recipes given. Bound in cloth, post-paid 1 00

1. WEBSTER'S VEST-POCKET DICTIONARY. Until phonetic spelling is universally adopted, we are all likely to be driven to a spelling authority more or less often. To meet this need there are dictionaries and dictionaries, but there is only one "Webster Dictionary and Vest-Pocket Library" which actually spells and pronounces 45,800 words and yet weighs less than three ounces and slips easily into the vest pocket.

This literary wonder also gives the capital, population, and area of all the countries of the world, the population of all large cities, a digest of parliamentary practise, etc., while the 60c style contains a three-year calendar and waxed sheets for the preservation of postage stamps.

Signs of the Times Leaflet Series

A series of leaflets covering vital phases of Bible truth for this time.

Various writers who have made a special study of their subjects have prepared matter, which has been examined and criticized by a committee. Appropriate headings for each were drawn by an artist, which adds materially to the attractive appearance of the leaflets.

The leaflets contain two pages each, and the titles are as follows:

1. The Sure Word of Prophecy.
2. Prophetic History of the World.
3. Second Coming of Christ.
4. Signs of Our Times.
5. The Sanctuary.
6. The 2,300 Days.
7. The Law of God.
8. The Sabbath of the Bible.
9. The First Day in the Bible.
10. Who Changed the Sabbath?
11. The Great Threefold Message.
12. The Seal of God and Mark of the Beast.
13. Church and State.
14. Life and Immortality.
15. The Great Judgment Day.

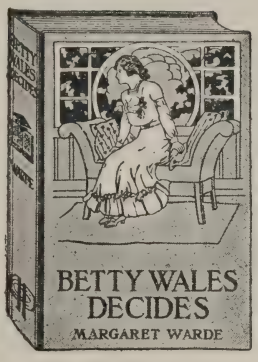
Keystone Series for Boys and Girls

For young people from 12 to 17 years



Of books for young people these are the best. They are readable; there's a good story in each, and in each something useful. They are by popular writers, are well printed, cleverly illustrated, attractively bound—the best to look at, to read, to keep, to give away, to sell. There is nothing better for the private bookshelf, the Public Library, or the school.

The Betty Wales Books

Cloth binding. Illustrated. Each, $1.25

BY MARGARET WARDE. Illustrated by Eva M. Nagel. These books show just that happy mixture of frolic and dead-in-earnest achievement that we associate with the college girl. In fact, Betty Wales is the typical American college girl; eager, warm-hearted, fun-loving, thoughtful and brave. The stories naturally dwell upon the social side of college life, but no less upon its serious purpose and high ideals. The characters, true to life, are all lovable and interesting types.

Classic Stories for Boys and Girls

Cloth binding. Illustrated. Each, $1.25

These stories, by Dr. Edward Brooks, A.M., recently Superintendent of Philadelphia Public Schools, and by John P. Edmison, are everywhere recognized as the best literature for either entertainment or education that can be put into the hands of young people.

While carefully retaining all the elements of romance and adventure, and omitting whatever might prove unwholesome, or divert the purpose of the story, the authors have to a surprising degree preserved the unity, completeness, and spirit of the original.

The Ashton-Kirk Series deals with a remarkable personality—a young and wealthy man of high social position who is nevertheless an indefatigable worker in his chosen field—solving problems of crime. "Grandma" is the charming story of an old lady from the country, who conquered city selfishness by simply refusing to see it. "Rosemary, for Remembrance," is a "love story," exquisite in setting and treatment. "College Comedies" is a set of four rollicking undergraduate plays—full of fun. All but the last are richly illustrated, and all make handsome gift books

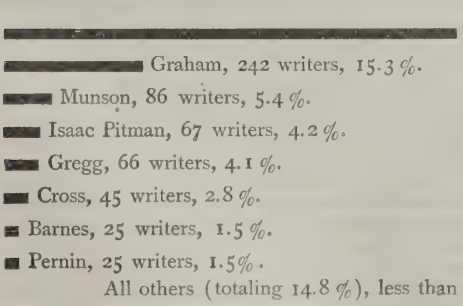
THE PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE COMPANY,

CINCINNATI, O.

The Standard System in American Shorthand Practise.

In March, 1907; a complete census was made of the shorthand clerks in the offices of the United States Government at Washington. These reports, duly signed by the chief clerks of the several departments of the United States Government, show that out of a total of 1579 shorthand clerks employed in the departmental offices 796 are writers of the Benn Pitman system. The proportionate use of other systems is shown as follows:



A table showing the complete details of this census will be sent on request to any address.

Instruction Books.

The Phonographic Amanuensis. A presentation of Pitman Phonography, More Especially Adapted to the Use of Business and other Schools Devoted to the Instruction and Training of Shorthand Amanuenses. By JEROME B. HOWARD. With a Prefatory Note by BENN PITMAN. In this book position-writing and the principles of abbreviation are taught concurrently with the elements of the system. It consists of fifty-nine carefully-graded lessons, each designed to constitute the work of a single school-day. Outlines of words are given in the first lesson; sentences are given in the eighth lesson; phrases appear in the fifteenth lesson; business letters are written in the twenty-second and subsequent lessons. Cloth. $1 00

The Amanuensis is also issued in a special "correspondence edition" for the use of teachers who give instruction by mail. This edition is identical with the regular edition, except in the matter of physical make-up. Each lesson is printed as a separate part, and the parts are placed in a convenient box, from which the teacher can remove any desired part without disturbing the others. The price of the correspondence edition is the same as that of the regular edition. In ordering, always mention expressly the "correspondence edition."

Progressive Dictation Exercises. Designed to Accompany The Phonographic Amanuensis. By JEROME B. HOWARD. Furnishes connected matter that can be read as dictation practise to the learner at all stages of his advancement—from the earliest lessons to the end of the text-book. Paper..... 25

Business Letters. No. 1.—Miscellaneous Correspondence. Written in the Amanuensis Style of Phonography. By BENN PITMAN and JEROME B. HOWARD. The letters have been selected from actual correspondence in various branches of business, and, being free from difficult technicalities, are such as will furnish the best practise for young students of shorthand who are ready to begin fitting themselves for the duties of the shorthand correspondent or business amanuensis. With key printed in facsimile typewriting, furnishing correct models for the transcription of the student's notes on the typewriter. Paper..... 25

Business Letters. No. 2.—Railroad Correspondence. Written in the Amanuensis Style of Phonography. Consists of letters actually used in various departments of railroad work. Key in facsimile typewriting. Paper..... 25

The Phonographic Institute Loose-leaf Tablet. This tablet possesses the following advantages, which make it the most convenient and most economical shorthand note-book for the use of shorthand writers:

1. It lies open on the table perfectly flat, there being no fold in the paper. 2. The paper is held in the cover by metal arches, strong and permanent in construction—superior to rubber elastic bands, which quickly decay, and to tapes, which are inconvenient both in turning the page and in removing a portion of the sheets. 3. The sheets can be removed and replaced quickly and easily. Any one or more sheets may be removed without disturbing the rest 4. The page can be turned with perfect ease and convenience, as the polish metal arches create no friction. 5. The triple perforated sheets may be readily bound with tapes when removed from the tablet. In this way the notes of any single piece of work may be permanently preserved intact. 6. When notes are transcribed the tablet may be doubled back on itself and inserted in any kind of copy-holder, just as any other note-book, or it may be used itself as a copy-holder by standing it upright. 7. Perforated paper for refilling may be bought in any quantity, ruled with single or double lines, and suitable for use with pen or pencil. 8. The tablet is strongly made and will last for years.

N. B.—This tablet is especially adapted to the use of schools of shorthand. For this purpose it is provided with four guide-cards that separate the sheets into four divisions—Copying Exercises, Writing Exercises, Dictation Exercises, and Corrections. By the use of the tablet the student has his work in one compact cover and the guide-cards enable him to turn instantly to any of its divisions. When the student has finisht his school course the guide-cards may be removed and the tablet is ready for his regular daily use as a professional shorthand writer.

With Filler of 100 sheets (200 pages), 4¾ x 8½ inches, 50 cents, post paid $0 62

SHORTHAND READING BOOKS.

The student, to increase his speed, and to improve his knowledge of Phonography, cannot read too much well-engraved shorthand. One advantage of studying the Isaac Pitman system—and one which cannot well be over-estimated—is, that the shorthand literature in that system is far in excess of all other systems combined.

> "We would emphasise still further the wealth of literature the Isaac Pitman system has. . . . These publishers are continually issuing new works in shorthand, and this in itself should make their system a great force in the shorthand world."—The Business Journal (New York).

TYPEWRITING.

Practical Course in Touch Typewriting. By Chas. E. Smith, Author of "Cumulative Speller." Ninth Edition, revised and enlarged. 50c.; cloth, 75c. A Scientific Method of Mastering the Keyboard by the Sense of Touch. The design of this work is to teach touch typewriting in such a way that the student will operate by touch—will have an absolute command of every key on the keyboard, and be able to strike any key more readily without looking than would be the case with the aid of sight. A separate Chart containing Keyboard and Diagrams printed in five colours, on a heavy double-calendered cardboard accompanies each copy. Contains specimens of actual Business Letters, Legal Forms, Specifications, Instructions for the Use of the Tabulator, etc., all printed in actual typewriter type. In ordering state whether Single or Double Keyboard or Oliver Edition is desired. Adopted by the New York Board of Education.

> "I am pleased to state that I consider 'A Practical Course in Touch Typewriting' the only text-book from which I studied, the best Typewriting instruction book that I have seen. The exercises are excellent, and have helped me wonderfully in working up speed. The whole course is very interesting from the beginning, and it cannot but produce the best results in the shortest time."—Rose L. Fritz, World's Champion Typist.

Isaac Pitman's Typewriter Manual. 85c. Sixth edition, revised and enlarged. A Practical Guide to Commercial, Literary, Legal, Dramatic, and all classes of Typewriting work. Contains 58 plates. All-finger or Touch Typewriting method.

Remington Typewriter Manual. 40c.; cloth, 50c.

Typewriter Backing Sheet. 10c. Designed to protect the type, the platen, and to assist in giving better and longer service to the writing machine and lessen the noise. The sheet is printed with line numerals from 1 to 60, which indicates the hearing of the end of the sheet. It prevents slipping of the paper and wrinkling of carbons.

The New Universal System of Touch or Sight Typewriting. By I. W. PATTON. Third Edition Revised and Enlarged. 60c.

COMMERCIAL CORRESPONDENCE, BUSINESS ENGLISH, SPELLING, Etc.

Pitman's 20th Century Business Dictation Book and Legal Forms. 272 pp., stiff boards and cloth back. 75c.; cloth, $1.00. (Fifth edition.) Containing an up-to-date collection of genuine letters (in ordinary type) which have been used in the transaction of actual work in large American business houses, classified under fifty distinct lines of business, each set of letters separate; Legal Forms, and a judicious selection of practice matter for general dictation. Also chapters on Spelling, Punctuation, Capitalization, and Short Practical Talks with the Amanuensis, etc. This work, which is the most complete dictation course published, is specially compiled for the teacher, the beginner, and the advanced student. All progressive Schools, without reference to the system of Shorthand taught, should insist upon each student procuring a copy.

Also published in two parts, as follows:—

Part 1.—Business Dictation. 168 pp., stiff boards and cloth back. 50c. Containing fifty distinct lines of business.

Part 2.—Legal Forms and Miscellaneous Selections, etc. 103 pp., stiff boards and cloth back. 40c.

The Progressive Dictator. Containing a selection of business letters relating to twenty-seven different lines of business. In ordinary print. 180 pp., cloth, 75c.

Pitman's Cumulative Speller. 112 pp., cloth, 40c. By CHARLES E. SMITH, author of "A Practical Course in Touch Typewriting." A modern and practical speller for Commercial Education. As the title indicates, the plan is cumulative. Each lesson consists of sixteen words, the first twelve of which are respelled phonetically and defined. The syllabication, pronunciation, and definition of the remaining four words should be assigned to the student, either as homework or seat-work. A homework dictionary, containing all of these special words, is included in the speller at the end of the first hundred regular lessons. This feature of the work is intended to afford the student a ready means of acquiring the dictionary habit—a habit so essential to all who take pride in turning out accurate work.

 A special edition of "Cumulative Speller" is also issued with a Shorthand Vocabulary for schools teaching the Isaac Pitman system. Cloth, gilt. 145 pp., 50c.

Pitman's Commercial Dictionary. The latest and best pocket dictionary, 384 pp., full cloth. lettering in colour, 25c.; French morocco, gilt, 50c. At the suggestion of a number of teachers who have found the various present-day pocket dictionaries incomplete and inaccurate for commercial or public school work, we have prepared this work, which contains many features not found in books of this character.

Punctuation as a Means of Expression. Its Theory and Practice. By A. E. Lovell, M.A. 50c. This is much more than a mere statement of rules. The author has written an interesting and helpful manual of the subject, that will greatly impress the intelligent student and be much appreciated by all who value clearness and thoroughness in writing.

Style Book of Business English. 234 pp. 85c. For Stenographers and Correspondents. This new treatise will especially appeal to the teacher of English wherever it is seen. Teachers of this subject using this work can feel assured of vastly better results than they have ever before secured. It will be an inspiration to both teacher and student.

"It is a real pleasure to me to testify to the merits of your 'Style Book of Business English.' I recommend your book for the following reasons: It is so comprehensive, thoroughly practical, and above all, it is so plainly composed that a teacher even unfamiliar with the subject can conduct a class with it."—Prof. F. R. Beygrau, Columbia University, New York City.

Supremacy by Superiority

ISAAC PITMAN SHORTHAND

HOLDS THE WORLD'S RECORD FOR SPEED AND ACCURACY

"There is always room at the top," is the old and true adage. But in the ladder that leads to attainment the perspective is reversed and the rungs become farther apart as the top is reached. The poorly equipped will reach no higher than the level of their attainments, and so is it with shorthand writers and shorthand systems. The writer who chooses a poor system is far from the winner when the race is over.

ISAAC PITMAN SHORTHAND HAS DEMONSTRATED ITS SUPERIORITY OVER ALL OTHER SYSTEMS by winning all the principal honors in the following International Shorthand Contests:

First International Contest, Baltimore, 1906. The Miner Gold Medal, the only trophy awarded, won by Sidney H. Godfrey.

Second International Contest, Boston, 1907. Miner Gold Medal won by Sidney H. Godfrey, and the Eagan International Cup won by Miss Nellie M. Wood.

Third International Contest, Philadelphia, 1908. Eagan International Cup won for the second time by Miss Nellie M. Wood.

Fourth International Contest, Providence, 1909. Eagan International Cup won for the third time and permanently, by Miss Nellie M. Wood. Gross speed 280 words per minute, Net speed 264 words per minute.

WORLD'S RECORD FOR ACCURACY

The world's record for Accuracy in Shorthand Writing was established by Mr. Sidney H. Godfrey, an Isaac Pitman writer, at the Third International Speed Contest, Philadelphia, April 18, 1908, when he handed in a transcript from notes taken at 180 words per minute. In his transcript of 900 words, Mr. Godfrey had 895 absolutely correct, giving him a percentage of accuracy of $99\frac{4}{5}\%$.

BLACK BEAUTY

The Autobiography of a Horse

BY

ANNA SEWALL

This famous story needs no special introduction. Since its first publication it has continually grown in popularity and is to-day one of the most consistent "best sellers." It embodies features that particularly appeal to the mind of the child, and imparts such information as all should acquire.

The present edition is a triumph of the book-maker's art. The cover is very artistic, the combination of colors in the black cloth, gold design and the red in the colored inlay being most effective. The quality of the paper is excellent, the type clear and readable, and the illustrations beyond criticism.

PRINCESS POLLY

By

AMY BROOKS.

Author of the "Dorothy Dainty" series, the "Prue" Books, the "Randy" Books, etc.

The first volume of the PRINCESS POLLY series

SIX ILLUSTRATIONS BY THE AUTHOR

Polly Sherwood, named Princess Polly by her admiring playmates, is a sweet-tempered, sunny, lovable little girl, who lives at Sherwood Hall. The author has told in her most pleasing manner the story of Princess Polly's childhood days at the old homestead, and of her friendship with the girls and boys of the neighborhood.

Rose Atherton, an orphan, who lives with an old aunt in a nearby cottage, is the playmate whom Princess Polly loves best, and the story of their friendship, the days they spent together, and of the many kindnesses shown to Rose, will touch the hearts of all of Miss Brooks' young readers.

Near the close of the story Rose goes to make her home with her Great-Aunt Rose, who lives in a grand old mansion in a nearby village. She at once gets her aunt's permission to have Princess Polly visit her. This visit is chronicled in "Princess Polly's Playmates."

Size, 5¾ x 7¾ inches. 252 pages.

Bound in cloth, stamped in gold and colors.

PRICE, $1.00.

PRINCESS POLLY'S PLAYMATES

By

AMY BROOKS.

Author of "Princess Polly," the "Dorothy Dainty" series, the "Randy" books, the "Prue" books, etc.

The second volume of the PRINCESS POLLY series

SIX ILLUSTRATIONS BY THE AUTHOR

All the children who made the acquaintance of Princess Polly last year will be glad to renew the acquaintance this year in the new volume of the series, "Princess Polly's Playmates." Those who have not met her still have a treat in store.

The story opens in the beautiful garden of Sherwood Hall, but the scene shifts to Rose Atherton's new home, where Princess Polly goes to visit Rose for two weeks. Uncle John Atherton calls for the little playmates, and takes them to his fine villa at the seashore, where they enjoy a week's stay. All the characters which were introduced in the first volume reappear in this story.

The series will be continued next year in "Princess Polly at School."

Size, 5¾ x 7¾ inches. 246 pages.

Bound in cloth, stamped in gold and colors.

PRICE, $1.00.

TEDDY AND TROTS IN WONDERLAND

BY

AGNES GROZIER HERBERTSON

AN IMAGINATIVE STORY

FOR CHILDREN OF 8 TO 12 YEARS

This story has a conception as quaint as Alice in Wonderland. Teddy and Trots make a visit to their Aunt, and in the play-room they find a key which opens the White Gate at the end of the lane.

Through this gate the children successively visit "The Blue-China Country," where all the houses and bridges are flat; "The Land of Make Believe," where the inhabitants can have anything they "make-believe"; "The Kingdom of Riddles," where the conversation has limitations; "The One-Try-More School," where difficult problems are solved; "The Land of the Brown Mugs," and "The Land of Do-As-You-Like."

Many bits of sound advice are quietly slipped in between humorous situations.

The illustrations are quaint and humorous, and carry out the spirit of the text.

STORIES FOR THE CHILDREN

FAVORITE TALES RETOLD IN SIMPLE STYLE

EIGHT FULL-PAGE COLORED ILLUSTRATIONS

All are agreed that the surest way of instilling a life-long taste for good reading into the minds of children is by introducing them at the earliest possible moment to the great masterpieces of English literature. In this series some of the world's greatest stories are re-told in simple language for children, the text being treated with absolute reverence, and the atmosphere and feeling of the originals most carefully preserved. It can be safely said that all children who make acquaintance with these favorite stories in so simple, dainty, and attractive a form will, in due course, want to read the works themselves.

The books are a sheer delight to the eye, and cannot fail to captivate the little folks into whose hands they pass. The pretty pictorial bindings, richly gilt; the gold end-papers, and the charming colored illustrations (eight to each volume) make this at once the best and the daintiest series of gift-books for young people ever produced.

Size, 4⅜ x 6 inches. Eight colored illustrations in each volume.

ALEXANDRE DUMAS.

HANDY SIZE - - LARGE TYPE - - THIN PAPER

This masterpiece of Dumas is one of the greatest stories ever written in any language. It is so long, that heretofore there has been no one-volume edition except those that are cumbersome to handle or are printed from small type.

The present edition, printed from new plates, presents the story in a handy volume, easy to hold on account of its size, and easy to read because the type is a good size and very clear. The paper is thin, but remarkably opaque, and the book weighs only 16½ ounces.

Size, 4½ x 7 inches. 752 pages.

Bound in cloth.

PRICE, NET 50 CENTS.

Bound in full leather. Boxed.

PRICE, NET $1.00.

LES MISERABLES

By

VICTOR HUGO.

Uniform with "The Count of Monte Cristo"

Les Miserables has been pronounced by many literary critics to be the greatest novel ever written in any language.

The present is the best one-volume edition of this immortal work ever offered to the American public. It contains the five books, thus presenting the complete story. It is printed from large clear type on a thin, but remarkably opaque paper, and is handy in size and easy to read.

Size, 4½ x 7 inches. 528 pages.

Bound in cloth.

PRICE, NET 50 CENTS.

Bound in full leather. Boxed.

PRICE, NET $1.00.

TO HAVE A FRIEND, BE ONE

Selected by

RICHARD GLASSPOOL.

This is an anthology designed to teach the great lesson of friendship: that no more can be gained from a friendship than is given to it. The selections cover a wide range, from the early classical writers down to modern English and American men of letters. No books are ever more acceptable as gifts than books of friendship.

PRINTED THROUGHOUT IN TWO COLORS.

Size, 5½ x 8 inches. 169 pages.

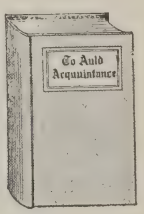
Bound in cloth, stamped in gold. Boxed.

PRICE, $1.00.

Bound in full leather. Boxed.

PRICE, $2.00.

TO AULD ACQUAINTANCE



A Book of Real Toasts

Something bright and pithy, something witty, something reminiscent, something sentimental, something rousing and full of good-fellowship—all of these are in demand by the after-dinner speaker, the club member and by those who occasionally draw round the festive board. Every toast in "To Auld Acquaintance" is a real toast, and one may be found suitable for any occasion. Many of the toasts are original, and others have been selected from the works of popular and standard writers.

Size, 3¼ x 4¾ inches.

Bound in antique cover with paper label and parchment back.

PRICE, NET 35 CENTS.

Bound in ooze leather. Boxed.

THE HOME AMUSEMENT BOOKS

A Series of six books that will supply ideas for many hours of pleasure in the home circle.

Size, 5 x 7⅝ inches.

Durably bound in cloth.

PRICE, PER VOLUME, 50 CENTS.

GAMES AND AMUSEMENTS.

140 pages. The aim of this volume is to include new games and new ideas for home entertainment, as well as the old ones that meet with general favor. No game is included which cannot be played with genuine and harmless enjoyment in it. Children may as readily consult the book as the parents themselves. The volume includes round games, forfeits, conundrums, table games, card games, charades, tricks, etc.

HOW TO READ CHARACTER IN HANDWRITING; or, the Grammar of Graphology Described and Illustrated.

By Henry Frith.

138 pages. This volume lays down simple rules whereby all may obtain much amusement and instruction in depicting character from handwriting. It is an accepted fact that spontaneous and unstudied writing will reveal character, and by the study of the subject as set forth in this volume anyone may become adept in the science of character reading.

PRACTICAL PALMISTRY. A treatise on Chirosophy, based upon actual experiences.

By Henry Frith. With numerous illustrations by Edith A. Langton.

138 pages. The "Science of Palmistry" should not be confused with common "fortune-telling." The lines of the hand, the shape of the hand, the fingers, etc., differ as greatly as people differ. It is the aim of this volume to classify and interpret these differences, and present clearly the salient features of modern palmistry. This book is written and illustrated with cuts in such a manner that anyone can, by intelligent reading, master the subject.

PHOTOGRAPHY. A complete guide to the art of photography in all its branches.

144 pages. This book explains in as clear and concise a manner as possible and principles of photography, all unnecessary technical terms being avoided. Complete instructions are given for the guidance of the amateur as to equipment of every description, including necessary formulæ, methods of procedure under various conditions, etc. No previous knowledge is required to become an adept photographer if the instructions in this volume are carefully followed.

THE STANDARD COMIC RECITER.

Edited by John W. Kirton, LL. D.

256 pages. While the selections in this volume are humorous, they are at the same time dignified and meritorious. They include selections from the works of such famous writers as Mark Twain, Jerome K. Jerome, Lewis Carroll, J. G. Saxe, Tom Hood, Artemus Ward, Eden Phillpotts, and others.

THE STANDARD POPULAR RECITER.

Edited by John W. Kirton, LL. D.

256 pages. This reciter includes some of the best selections in the whole range of English literature. It represents such authors as Rudyard Kipling, Longfellow, Poe, Burns, Whittier, Mark Twain, etc.

THE HANDY HAND-BOOKS

A carefully edited series in which each subject has been handled by an authority. The volumes are sensibly planned, well written, and the material concisely presented.

Size, 4 x 7⅝ inches. Bound in cloth.

"TEACHERS' HELPS THAT ARE REAL AIDS."

CAMBRIDGE BIBLICAL ENCYCLOPEDIA.

These Bibles contain the Biblical Encyclopedia, based on the Cambridge Companion to the Bible, the work of the most eminent scholars at the Cambridge University, the object of which is to provide Sunday-school teachers and other students with a concise book of reference to the Bible.

In the Encyclopedia much useful matter has been compressed into a small space and the arrangement of helps in alphabetical form will be found most convenient for the purpose of ready reference.

THE REFERENCES IN THE CAMBRIDGE BIBLES.

Have been re-edited and revised throughout and in this revision full use has been made of the late Prebendary Scrivener's invaluable work on the References which was first published in the Cambridge Paragraph Bible.

CAMBRIDGE INDIA PAPER.

For whiteness, opaqueness, thinness and toughness, the new Cambridge India Paper is generally declared by experts to be the equal of, if not superior to, any thin paper now used in Bibles.

In N.T. Anna of tribe of Aser (Asher, R.V.), Lk. 2. 36.

ASHERAH (of which the plural is Asherim or Asheroth), either a living tree or a tree-like pole, set up as an object of worship, being symbolical of the female or productive principle in nature. Every Phœnician altar had an ashĕrah near it; in A.V. the word is often translated "green trees" or "grove." This "nature worship" became associated with gross immorality, and so the practice of setting up asheroth was forbidden by Hebrew prophets, Dt. 16. 21; cf. Nu. 25. 3; Judg. 2. 11—13; 1 S. 7. 3, 4; 1 K. 11. 5; Is. 17. 8; Mi. 5. 12 ff.

ASHIMA, 2 K. 17. 30, a god worshipped in Hamath.

ASHKELON, Judg. 14. 19; Jer. 25. 20; 47. 5, 7; Am. 1. 8; Zep. 2. 4, 7; Zec. 9. 5, also written ASKELON, Judg. 1. 18; 1 S. 6. 17; 2 S. 1. 20, one of the five cities of the Philistines (q.v.).

ASP, some kind of poisonous serpent, Dt. 32. 33, etc.

ASPATHA, Est. 9. 7.

AS(H)RIEL, ASRIELITES, Num. 26. 31; Jos. 17. 2; 1 Ch. 7. 14.

ASSHUR, Gen. 10. 22; 1 Ch. 1. 17. See Assyria.

ASSHURIM, Gen. 25. 3; ? same as Ashurites.

ASSIR, Ex. 6. 24; 1 Ch. 3. 17, the captive, R.V.; 6. 22, 23, 37.

ASSOS, a seaport in Roman province of Asia and district of Mysia, Ac. 20. 13.

ASSUR, Ezr. 4. 2; Ps. 83. 8, R.V. has Assyria.

ASSYRIA and BABYLONIA were the two great Eastern empires before which all the old states of Syria and Palestine fell. We learn their history partly from the Bible narrative and also from contemporary monuments written in cuneiform characters and recently deciphered.

Babylonia or Shinar (Gen. 10. 10) is the alluvial country on the lower course of the Euphrates and Tigris, of which Babel or Babylon was the chief city. Assyria, or Ashur, occupied the Tigris valley to the north of Babylonia. Its centre lay on the left bank of the Tigris, where the great city of Nineveh stood, opposite Mosul. Babylon and Nineveh were long rivals, but they had a common civilisation, of which the southern alluvium was the original home. Their language was Semitic, but in the southern country the Semites seem to have been pre-

106 REVISED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

149 Why are the "peacemakers" so distinguished?—Because of the difficulty of making and keeping peace, and as Christ is the Prince of Peace.

If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men. (Rom. xii. 18.)

150 How does our Lord connect His disciples with Himself in Matt. v. 11?—By promising them a blessing upon all that they endured for His sake.

151 What great lesson of mutual forgiveness do Matt. and blessing upon earth) is the eternal one, of glory in heaven.

158 What encouragement for our imperfect petitions is there in verse 8?—That our Heavenly Father knows what we have need of, before we ask.

159 How do the first words of the Lord's Prayer adapt it to the whole family of man?—They show that we have "all one Father."

160 What is it to "hallow" anything?—To treat it as holy.

161 How are we taught the broad road?—No; not to the eye of the thoughtless worldly man.

170 Should not our Lord's declaration in Matt. vii. 14, excite us to make diligent search?—Yes, that we are among the few in the narrow way.

171 What lesson do we learn about our conduct in Matt. vii. 16, and following verses?—That we shall be judged by our conduct, rather than our profession; by our fruits, rather than our leaves.

The Christian Life Bible

SCHEME: The five great themes, SIN, CHRIST, FAITH, LOVE and SALVATION, may be said to form the heart of all Bible truth. The choicest passages referring to these subjects have been brought together from all parts of the Bible, each subject in its own color.

By orderly steps the reader can now follow the very language of Scripture as it first pictures SIN and then puts over against it CHRIST and FAITH on man's part leading to LOVE and SALVATION.

COLORS: The choicest passages from all parts of the Bible have been brought together and arranged in colors.

ST. JOHN, 8

34 Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come.
35 Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto the dispersed among the Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles?
36 What manner of saying is this that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come?
37 In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink.
38 He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.
39 (But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet given; because that Jesus was not yet glorified.)
40 ¶ Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth
44 And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.
45 ¶ Then came the officers to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him?
46 The officers answered, Never man spake like this man.
47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceived?
48 Have any of the rulers or of the Pharisees believed on him?
49 But this people who knoweth not the law are cursed.
50 Nicodemus saith unto them, (he that came to Jesus by night, being one of them,)
51 Doth our law judge any man, before it hear him, and know what he doeth?
52 They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and look: for out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.
53 And every man went unto his own house.

supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbours; lest they also bid thee again, and a recompence be made thee.
13 But when thou makest a feast, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind:
14 And thou shalt be blessed; for they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the just.
15 And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God.
16 Then said he unto him, A certain man made a great supper, and bade many:
17 And sent his servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready.
18 And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a piece of ground, and I must needs go and see it: I pray thee have me excused.
19 And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused.

BAGSTER'S RED LETTER NARROW TESTAMENT

Size, 5½ x 2½.

All the New Testament story, its wonderful teachings, centre around the words of Christ. These words, printed in red, are easily seen, and in this way favorite passages can readily be referred to. The alignment of the Red and Black is absolutely perfect, a feature very important in a Red Letter Testament.

In point of compactness combined with clear type this book is par excellence.

I. TIMOTHY 3, 4

10 And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being found blameless.
11 Even so must their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things.
12 Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well.
13 For they that have used the office of a deacon well purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.
14 These things write

ducing spirits, and doctrines of devils;
2 Speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron;
3 Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth.
4 For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving:
5 For it is sanctified by the word of God and prayer.

240 THE COMMUNION.

That these Sentences may be used on any other occasion of Public Worship, when the alms of the People are to be received.

REMEMBER the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive. Acts xx. 35.

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven. St. Matt. v. 16.

Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. St. Matt. vii. 21.

Zacchæus stood forth, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have done any wrong to any man, I restore fourfold. St. Luke xix. 8.

Who goeth a warfare at any time of his own cost? Who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? Or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock? 1 Cor. ix. 7.

GOD, that madest earth and heaven,
Darkness and light;
Who the day for toil hast given,
For rest the night:
May Thine angel-guards defend us,
Slumber sweet Thy mercy send us,
Holy dreams and hopes attend us,
This livelong night.

2 Guard us waking, guard us sleeping,
And, when we die,
May we in Thy mighty keeping,
All peaceful lie:
When the last dread call shall wake us,
Do not Thou, our God, forsake us,
But to reign in glory take us
With Thee on high.

BURIAL OF THE DEAD. 297

And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all. Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead? and why stand we in jeopardy every hour? I protest by your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily. If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? let us eat and drink; for to morrow we die. Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners. Awake to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of 448 GENERAL.

4 Like Him, with pardon on his tongue,
In midst of mortal pain,
He prayed for them that did the wrong:
Who follows in his train?

5 A glorious band, the chosen few,
On whom the Spirit came:
Twelve valiant saints, their hope they knew,
And mocked the cross and flame.

6 They met the tyrant's brandished steel,
The lion's gory mane;
They bowed their necks the death to feel:
Who follows in their train?

The World Famous Cambridge Editions

THE PRAYER BOOK

ALL CAMBRIDGE EDITIONS PAGINATED ACCORDING TO THE NEW STANDARD OF 1892, EXCEPTING THE 48mo SIZES.

THE HYMNAL, Revised and Enlarged

Copyrighted, 1889, by James Pott & Co.

No HYMNALS are genuine unless they contain the above copyright notice.

ALTAR SERVICES

The Cambridge edition varies from some others in being paginated according to the Standard Prayer Book, as required, and contains only such matter as is contained in the Standard.

THE CAMBRIDGE EDITIONS

OF THE

PRAYER BOOK AND HYMNAL

The Best Editions for Print and Elegance of Bookbinding.

In Combination Sets. According to the New Standard of 1892.

Many new and attractive styles have been added, which brings the Cambridge Editions nearer perfection than ever before. The Cambridge Editions are acknowledged the best printed and most exquisitely bound of any of the Prayer Books or Hymnals published.

The celebrated India paper used in the manufacture of the India paper editions is far in advance of all others. It produces a book light, opaque, and beautiful, and the impression on one side does not show through upon the other side.

GENERAL CATALOGUE OF MISCELLANEOUS PUBLICATIONS

Illustrated Books of Travel, Biography and History.

HOW TO SEE ITALY. By Douglas Sladen. With 160 illustrations. Small crown 8vo, net $3.00. (Postage, 16 cents.)

The advantage of this book is that the visitor going to Italy will see exactly where to go for the things which interest him most, and will see the route he ought to follow, and what places can be most advantageously combined for a tour.

To help the reader in understanding it there is a splendid map and 160 illustrations. The book is published with the concurrence of the Italian Government.

The Scenery of Italy. The Architecture of Italy. Italian Painters. Italian Sculpture and Mosaics. Railway Routes and Motor Coaches. Lombardy. Venice and the Veneto. Genoa and Its Riviera. Tuscany. The Republic of San Marino. Umbria. Lazio. Rome. Naples and the Campagna. Sicily.

A MOTOR TOUR THROUGH ENGLAND AND FRANCE. By Elizabeth Yardley. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, net $1.50. (Postage, 12 cents.)

A record of twenty-one and a half days' automobiling in England and France, covering in a most interesting and instructive manner many important places, such as the Dukeries and Sherwood Forest, the Byron and Gladstone countries, the Lakeland, Wales, etc., and in France, Blois and Touraine, Brittany, Trouville, Rouen, Paris, etc. This book, the text of which is enhanced by a series of beautiful illustrations, will be found most valuable by the tourist motoring through these countries as well as the general traveller.

A TOUR THROUGH OLD PROVENCE. By A. S. Forrest. Profusely illustrated. Cloth, net $2.00. (Postage, 12 cents.)

The very name of Provence excites vivid anticipations of the quaint and the picturesque, and no more delightful companion for a trip through its old-world associations with pen and pencil could be found than the author of this book. In his foreword he says: "The wayfarer in this land of sunshine and fertility, passing through its villages and visiting its towns, will continually meet with relics, ruins and remains, which are like footprints of races, dynasties, and empires long since passed away. Some are nearly effaced, but others stand out in clear and distinct outline, recalling whole histories of bygone days. There is something about this region that makes an irresistible appeal to strangers from northern lands. Romance is written so plainly on its face that even 'he who motors may read.'"

THE NEW CHINA. By Henri Borel. With 48 illustrations. Demy 8vo, cloth, net $3.75. (Postage, 20 cents.)

This book, by a writer well known to students of Eastern problems, discusses a "Yellow peril" unlike that of the journalists—a peril not threatening Europe with ironclads, airships, or bayonets, but with the vastly greater power of ideals. The author shows how recent years have changed the entire situation in China, and how among the hundreds of millions of Chinamen new ideas are fermenting. A movement, such as has rarely occurred in the history of the world, has begun to form into one conscious nation what used to be a loosely connected agglomeration of tribes and races, knowing nothing of each other's language or interests. The wars in the North, against Japan or Russia, scarcely interested the Chinese of the South. Canton and Shanghai are as unlike each other as Paris and Madrid; not different dialects but different languages are spoken in the two cities. But now, for the first time, the author notices a tendency towards the possibility of a united Chinese Empire, with a common language and common ideals. Politics and economics are not neglected in the book, but its chief object is to show the new China against the background of the ancient beauty of the land, a beauty now dying a tragic death in the dawn of a new day.

THE COBURGS: The Story of a Princely House. By Edmund B. d'Auvergne. Photogravure frontispiece and other full-page illustrations on art paper. Demy 8vo, cloth, net $3.50. (Postage, 20 cents.)

The rise of the ducal house of Saxe-Coburg Gotha forms one of the most romantic chapters in the history of modern Europe. Unknown a hundred years ago except within a petty German duchy, the dynasty is now seated on the thrones of England, Belgium and Bulgaria, and is allied with nearly every royal and imperial house in Christendom. Little more than ninety years ago Leopold, a younger scion of the house, set forth in quest of a queen or a crown. He married Charlotte, the only daughter of George IV., only to lose her by the hand of death a few months later. After this he became King of Belgium, where he reigned many years, reputed the wisest monarch in Europe. A life-long friend and counsellor of Queen Victoria he was the means of introducing her to his nephew Albert, whose memory as the Prince Consort is still venerated. This fascinating story is full of anecdotes and details of curious Court intrigues, of which Mr. d'Auvergne is the first to tell. Dealing as it does with sovereigns actually living or their immediate predecessors, many of whom are, or have been, familiar to our eyes, the book is full of personal interest.

THE FAIR DOMINION OF CANADA. By R. E. Vernede. With color illustrations by Cyrus Cuneo. 8vo, cloth, net $3.00. (Postage, 16 cents.)

Nobody knows why, but most writers upon Canada fall into a solemn and portentous way of describing the country. They may know much or little, but they feel it their duty to tell their readers all about it—with the result that their readers say, "This is indeed an important country, but dull." As a matter of fact, it is a most exciting country—starting with its grizzly bears and ending with its political problems. So Mr. Vernede very evidently thinks, and having spent delightful months in various parts—some known, others (such as the French River, the Columbia Valley, and the Selkirks) less known—sometimes trying to catch maskinongas (a tigerish kind of pike), at others trying to catch Prime Ministers—he has sought to describe them without feeling that the whole of Canada depended upon his efforts for its future.

Mr. Cuneo's beautiful drawings will add very greatly to the charm and value of the book.

SOME ECCENTRICS AND A WOMAN. By Lewis Melville. With illustrations from contemporary portraits and caricatures, 8vo, cloth, net $3.00. (Postage, 16 cents.)

Mr. Lewis Melville, in his new book, introduces many statesmen, wits and dandies of the time when George IV., as Prince of Wales, was Regent. He shows us the dandies in their habit as they lived, and we are presented with pen-portraits of many of the leading bucks, both those whose fame has come down to the present day and those who are now but little more than a name. He gives us an account of the quaint provincial society that gathered at Crazy Castle round the hospitable board of John Hall-Stevenson, where Laurence Sterne was frequently to be met. Sterne's Eliza is one of Mr. Melville's subjects, and that brilliant madman, Philip, Duke of Wharton, is another. Charles James Fox has his place, so has that good-humored satirist of Georgian manners, "Peter Pindar," and the interesting, eccentric William Beckford, of Fonthill, the author of Vathek.

TURKEY AND THE TURKS. By Z. Duckett Ferriman. Illustrated. 8vo, cloth, net $3.00. (Postage, 14 cents.)

The subject of this volume, which is issued uniform with "Greece and the Greeks," is dealt with in the same delightful and interesting manner and its chapters thoroughly cover the various phases of Turkish life, present and past.

GREECE AND THE GREEKS. By Z. Duckett Ferriman. Illustrated. 8vo, cloth, net $3.00. (Postage, 14 cents.)

"If you would know what modern Greece truly is, apart from its ruins and classic associations, you must read 'Greece and the Greeks.' It is the best book of the sort I have seen since Colonel Leake ceased to write."

AN EIGHTEENTH CENTURY MARQUISE. Emile du Chatelet and Her Times. By Frank Hamel. With a photogravure frontispiece and 16 illustrations printed on art paper. Demy 8vo, cloth, net $3.50. (Postage, 16 cents).

Among all the famous French women of the eighteenth century none represents more typically certain interesting phases of social and court life than Madame du Chatelet. Born in 1706, her most impressionable years were spent under the Regency. Highly educated, she was precieuse and pedantic, yet womanly and coquettish. She occupied a position in literature and philosophy which, in Saint Beuve's opinion, it was easier for the women of her day to smile at than to dispute.

MY ITALIAN YEAR. By Richard Bagot. Illustrated. 8vo, cloth, net $3.00. Postage, 16 cents.)

The author has spent the greater part of his life in Italy and probably there is no English writer who has a more profound knowledge of the Italians, or who has so identified himself with Italian matters. Although written in a style that is almost conversational, "My Italian Year" contains much curious information regarding the manners and customs of Italian life, both in town and country, and there is scarcely a feature in that life upon which he does not touch.

EIGHT CENTURIES OF PORTUGUESE MONARCHY. By V. de Braganca Cunha. 12 portraits. Demy 8vo, cloth, net $3.50. (Postage, 16 cents.)

Recent events in Portugal have naturally very greatly increased the interest of the English-reading public in Portuguese affairs, and this book reveals the series of causes, both political and social, which have brought Portugal to its present condition and affected the character of its people.

The entire history of Monarchical Portugal is reviewed in masterly fashion, and the work is based on a thorough knowledge and critical appreciation of all available sources. The author writes, not as an outsider, but as one who knows his country from within, and the book therefore constitutes a serious attempt to tell the English-speaking world the truth about Portugal.

THE UNITED STATES OF BRAZIL. By Charles W. Domville-Fife. Profusely illustrated. Demy 8vo, net $2.50. (Postage, 14 cents.)

The author's extended tour through this vast country, which is still so little known to the majority of readers, included visits to all the principal towns and States, and a voyage, up the Amazon, into the heart of the country. This book will be found a very interesting and readable consideration of the Brazil of to-day, its history, its cities, its people, and, more especially, its industries, commercial position, and outlook. The chapters on these latter subjects alone should make the work well worthy the attention of those who may be considering commercial possibilities or advantages offered them by the rapidly developing American States.

A CHATEAU IN BRITTANY. By Mary J. Atkinson. With many illustrations. 8vo, cloth, net $2.50. (Postage, 16 cents.)

A most delightful and interesting volume on Brittany, covering in a chatty but scholarly manner the country, its people, customs and history. By far the best book on the subject published.

THE DAUPHINES OF FRANCE. By Frank Hamel. With frontispiece and 16 illustrations. 8vo, cloth, net $4.00. (Postage, 18 cents.)

Court biography is always fascinating, but seldom has an author been more happy in the choice of a subject than the author of "The Dauphines of France." The story of the fifteen charming princesses who form the subject of this volume is connected with much that is most fascinating and picturesque in the history of France.

NOOKS AND CORNERS OF OLD LONDON. By Charles and Marie Hemstreet. Fully illustrated. Cloth, 16mo, net $1.00. (Postage, 10 cents.)

The object of this book is to add interest to rambles in London by a careful record of the many quaint old nooks still left in London, arranged so that a wanderer may reach the points in consecutive order without going too far afield. London is full of these memorials, and this is an ideal guide book for those who wish to make themselves acquainted with them.

PRIVATEERS AND PRIVATEERING. By Commander Edward P. Statham, R.N. With many illustrations. Large crown 8vo, cloth, net $2.50. (Postage, 16 cents.)

The entire volume is one that may be cordially recommended to all lovers of a good yarn and to all enthusiasts of the sea. While there is, in one sense, no romance about this volume, the stories being derived in every instance from authentic sources and absolutely free from "embroidery," the true relation of the careers of such men as Woodes Rogers, Fortunatus Wright, George Walker and others, among Englishmen; of Jean Bart, Du Guay Trouin and Surcouf, among Frenchmen; and of Joshua Barney, Thomas Boyle, etc., among Americans, teems with exploits and adventures of the most romantic description and often of the most thrilling interest.

A CORNER OF SPAIN. By Walter Wood, with an introduction by Martin Hume. Many illustrations in black and white and in color, by Frank H. Mason, R.B.A. Cloth, net $2.00. (Postage, 9 cents.)

A fascinating new travel book. The country dealt with is Galicia, that northwest region of Spain which includes Santiago, Corunna and Vigo, and has a stirring and enthralling history.

The author and the artist, during their recent visit to Galicia, both enjoyed exceptional facilities for seeing the country's beauties and possibilities from the tourist point of view.

LOUIS XVIII. By Mary F. Sandars. With photogravure portrait and other illustrations. 8vo, cloth, net $4.00. (Postage, 15 cents.)

There is a strange analogy between the circumstances of Louis XVIII. and those of Charles II. of England. Each was a homeless wanderer, while his throne was occupied by a Cromwell or a Napoleon; each was, at least, called upon to reign over a kingdom weary with military despotism, and each acquitted himself well in a position bristling with difficulties.

"The book is well informed, well arranged and clearly written, and the authoress has duly subordinated the historic to the biographical interest."

IN THE DAYS OF THE GEORGES. By William B. Boulton. With many portraits and illustrations. 8vo, cloth, net $4.00. (Postage, 15 cents.)

Mr. Boulton has read deeply in the memoirs of the Georgian period, and he has a pleasant, gossiping style. He gives us a number of well-written, light, historical sketches, which entertainingly describe men and manners of the Georgian era.

ROYAL PALACES OF ENGLAND. Edited by R. S. Rait. Illustrated. Demy 8vo, net $2.50. (Postage, 14 cents.)

Studies of the historic Palaces of Hampton Court, St. James's, Whitehall, Buckingham, Kensington and Windsor Castle.

ROYAL PALACES OF SCOTLAND. Edited by R. S. Rait. Illustrated. Demy 8vo, net $2.50. (Postage, 14 cents.)

Descriptions of the Palaces of Holyrood, Balmoral, Falkland, Stirling and Linlithgow.

ENGLISH PALACES—CANTERBURY. Edited by R. S. Rait. Illustrated. 8vo, cloth, net $2.50. (Postage, 14 cents.)

The Palaces of Lambeth and Fulham, Farnham Castle, the Old Palace of Lincoln—Norwich, Hereford, Wells, etc.

ENGLISH PALACES—YORK. Edited by R. S. Rait. Illustrated. 8vo, cloth, net $2.50. (Postage, 14 cents.)

This is the second of a series dealing with the history of the episcopal and royal palaces of Britain. In a readable and popular form, it gives the results of a considerable amount of research, more particularly with regard to the historical incidents enacted in the palaces, and the personal associations of their inmates with them. The Palaces dealt with are York, Durham, Auckland and Carlisle.

THE MARRIAGE VENTURES OF MARIE LOUISE. By Max Billard. English Version by Evelyn, Duchess of Wellington. Fully illustrated, with photogravure plates. Demy 8vo, cloth, net $3.50. (Postage, 14 cents.)

Daughter of one Emperor, wife of another, Marie Louise would always be an interesting personality, even if her later life had not been so full of incident as it actually was.

Handed over to Napoleon for a wife by her country, as the price of peace, she had no love for her husband, and the sorrows and pathetic appeals of the captive of Elba and St. Helena, who really cared for the light-hearted girl, had no effect upon her.

OLD CONTINENTAL TOWNS. By Wallis M. Gallichan. Fully illustrated. Crown 8vo, cloth, net $2.00. (Postage, 10 cents.)

THE ORIGINS OF POPULAR SUPERSTITIONS AND CUSTOMS. By T. Sharper Knowlson. Crown 8vo, cloth, net $1.75. (Postage, 10 cents.)

We meet people every day who are superstitious, but who can give no intelligent account of the origin of those beliefs: that it is dangerous, for instance, to sit thirteen at table, or to break a looking-glass. To trace a habit of thinking and of action to its source is frequently to dispel an illusion; at any rate, the interest of the search for origin has a charm all its own, and Mr. Sharper Knowlson, working on the basis of old authorities, has brought forth a mass of attractive exposition respecting popular beliefs and customs which cannot fail to secure the reader's attention.

A WINTER HOLIDAY IN PORTUGAL. By Captain Granville Baker. With colored frontispiece and 32 original drawings by the author. 8vo, cloth, net $3.00. (Postage, 16 cents.)

Captain Granville Baker, who has served in several campaigns in the British as well as the German Army, is an experienced traveller. In this volume he describes with the pen, pencil and brush the scenic charm of Portugal, the old buildings, the manners and customs of the people, and gives a history of the rise and growth of the nation, bringing his survey up to the recent important changes in the government. The author sets forth, in fascinating pages, the attractions of Portugal as a winter resort.

THE WALLS OF CONSTANTINOPLE. By Captain Granville Baker. Beautifully illustrated with pen and ink sketches. 8vo, cloth, net $4.00. (Postage, 19 cents.)

Constantinople—The Approach to the City by the Bosphorus—Seraglio Point—The Golden Gate—The Walls of Theodosius—The Valley of the Lycus—From the Gate of Edirné to the Golden Horn—Appendix.

TYROL AND ITS PEOPLE. By Clive Holland. With 16 illustrations in color by Adrian Stokes and many in monotone. Demy 8vo, net $2.50. (Postage, 14 cents.)

To those who do not know the Tyrol, the book should prove an incentive to personal exploration of its manifold beauties; and to those who do, it will possibly prove an awakener of many pleasant memories.

OLD ENGLISH TOWNS. By William Andrews, Author of "Bygone England," etc. Crown 8vo, 16 full-page illustrations, net $2.00. (Postage, 12 cents.)

In this charming volume are included descriptive and historical accounts of the more important old English towns. Sketches of the chief buildings of past ages, remarkable episodes, curious old laws regulating the religious and social life of bygone ages are noticed in scholarly style. Old customs linked with the daily life of the people receive consideration. Sports and pastimes which have made the inhabitants famous are not forgotten.

SUNNY DAYS IN ITALY. By Elise Lathrop, Author of "Where Shakespeare Set His Stage." 8vo, cloth, decorative cover, with 30 illustrations, net $2.50. (Postage, 15 cents.)

The author is an appreciative and observant woman who has spent much time in Italy—living in small establishments frequented by Italians, and conversing with them in their own language.

TO-DAY IN PALESTINE. By H. W. Dunning, Ph.D., late Instructor in Semitic Languages in Yale University, Author of "To-day on the Nile." 8vo, cloth, with many beautiful illustrations, net $2.50. Three-quarter levant, net $5.00. (Postage, 20 cents.)

Few of those who have written on the Holy Land have better knowledge of it than Dr. Dunning.

The book covers all Palestine quite thoroughly, taking us north through Samaria and Galilee to Beyrouth and Damascus.

TO-DAY ON THE NILE. By H. W. Dunning, Ph.D. Photogravure illustrations and maps. 8vo, cloth, net $2.50. Three-quarter levant, net $5.00. (Postage, 20 cents.)

This book is a spirited presentation of the Egypt of to-day. The author sees everything and so does the reader; he enjoys everything and he takes you into his confidence. The book is full to the overflow and alive to the spirit of the hour.

THE MEDITERRANEAN: Its Storied Cities and Venerable Ruins. By J. T. Bonney and others. Photogravure illustrations and map. 8vo, cloth, $3.00. Three-quarter levant, $6.00. (Postage, 17 cents.)

A most delightful description of these old cities, and the itinerary is a rarely attractive one, including Gibraltar, Algiers, Malaga, Nice and the Riviera, Naples, Venice, Sicily, Malta, and Alexandria. It ought certainly to be read by anyone who intends to cover the journey and will prove a pleasure to those who cannot. The photogravures are exceptionally beautiful.

THE TEMPEST. By William Shakespeare. With many full-page illustrations in color by Paul Woodroffe, and songs by Joseph Moorat. Cloth, net $4.00. (Postage 16 cents.)

UNKNOWN SWITZERLAND. Picturesque and descriptive. By Victor Tissot. Photogravure illustrations and map. 8vo, cloth, $3.00. Three-quarter levant, $6.00. (Postage, 16 cents.)

This valuable book of travel gets away from the beaten track. The Switzerland presented is the Switzerland of the scholarly traveller, who knows its least frequented and most beautiful parts. A map and excellent illustrations add to the book's value.

ALGIERS. By M. Elizabeth Crouse. Beautifully illustrated with full-page plates from original photographs. Cloth, decorative cover, net $2.00. Three-quarter levant, net $4.00. (Postage, 14 cents.)

"A book of impressions is 'Algiers,' by a writer who has the literary gift to express them."

"Algiers is one of the cities of the Mediterranean that have not been overwritten by English writers. The book was worth writing, the task has been admirably performed, and the pictures have much artistic merit."

NORWAY AND ITS FIORDS. By M. A. Wyllie. With many illustrations, of which 16 are in color. Cloth, net $2.00. (Postage, 14 cents.)

In this book the reader is carried, as it were, on a pleasant cruise from Christiania Fiord to the North Cape; steaming in and out of beautiful inlets with which the coast of Norway is intersected, chatting on the way on every subject of interest, from Ancient History and primeval formations to the flowers by the roadside.

SCOTLAND OF TO-DAY. By T. F. Henderson and F. Watt. With many illustrations in color and monotone. Cloth, net $2.00. (Postage, 14 cents.)

The aim of "Scotland of To-day" is to describe Scotland and the Scot of the present in their relation to the past. The views of Burns, Scott, the Stuarts, Covenanters, and other legends are considered. Scotch scenery in its most representative aspects—Highland, Lowland and Border—is discussed, and the chief characteristics of its different cities and towns are treated of at length. The book will prove useful and interesting as a handbook to the stranger.

OUR WEST INDIAN NEIGHBORS. The Islands of the Caribbean Sea, "America's Mediterranean." By Frederick A. Ober. 50 full-page illustrations, net $2.50. Three-quarter levant, net $5.00. (Postage, 21 cents.)

Spanish America becomes a familiar country to the readers of this book. Mr. Ober is an authority on the West Indies, and also he has the gift for interesting narration.

"An entertaining, instructive, finely illustrated and typographically attractive book of travel, covering the Bahamas, Cuba, Jamaica, Hayti, San Domingo, Porto Rico and Martinique."

OLD TOURAINE. History of the famous Chateaux of France. By Theodore Andrea Cook. 30 photogravures. 2 vols., crown 8vo, cloth, $5.00. Three-quarter levant, $10.00.

The chateaux of France are perhaps as full of romantic interest as any buildings in the world. Mr. Cook's intimate acquaintance with French country life and castles of the French aristocracy have fitted him to write one of the most delightful of books, of permanent value both to the traveller and to the reader.

WHERE SHAKESPEARE SET HIS STAGE. By Elise Lathrop. With numerous full-page illustrations. 8vo, cloth, net $2.00. Three-quarter crushed levant, net $4.00. (Postage, 14 cents.)

Equally interesting and very useful to the student of Shakespeare. The author takes us to the localities in which the great dramatist placed the scenes of his various plays. She discusses also the period of the action of each drama and the general characteristics of the chief personages.

THE RUINED ABBEYS OF GREAT BRITAIN. By Ralph Adams Cram. With 67 full-page illustrations from photographs by the author. Cloth, net $2.50. Three-quarter levant, net $5.00. (Postage, 20 cents.)

The author is thoroughly acquainted with his subject and describes and illustrates the ruined abbeys of England and Scotland in a way to make one long to visit them, or to recall past days spent under their direct fascination.

THE ENGLISH CASTLES. By Edward B. D'Auvergne. 32 illustrations, crown 8vo, cloth, net $2.00. Three-quarter levant, net $4.00. (Postage, 12 cents.)

The writer discusses the architecture of the English castles and reconstructs for us these old feudal strongholds in all their pride and strength. He repeoples their halls with their former occupants, and tells us of the thrilling scenes enacted there, and of the dire and tragic downfall of great baronial houses. The work will prove of profound interest alike to the antiquarian and the reader of romance.

WANDERINGS IN LONDON—Piccadilly, Mayfair and Pall Mall. By E. Beresford Chancellor, M.A., with 20 illustrations of old London—in color and monotone. Cloth, net 75 cents. (Postage, 10 cents.)

AMONG THE DANES. By F. M. Butlin, with many illustrations, of which 12 are in color by Ellen Wilkinson, 8vo, cloth, net $2.50. (Postage, 12 cents.)

This is a book, descriptive and historical, on one of the most interesting of European countries. The subjects of the different chapters are: Historical Introduction—Skagen and its Fishermen—The Gutland Heath—Some Danish Towns—Copenhagen—Strandvegen—Life on a Danish Farm—The Danish Middle Class—A Danish National High School—Among the Social Democrats, etc.

THE CATHEDRALS OF ROME AND CENTRAL ITALY. By T. Francis Bumpus. Fully illustrated. Cloth, 8vo, net $3.00. (Postage, 20 cents.)

In this volume, the latest of the Cathedral Series, the author describes the sacred buildings visited during this tour as "the most wonderful" in all his ecclesiological experience. Arriving on the scene of his labors at Genoa, he proceeds through Pisa, Siena, Orvieto, Viterbo, as far as Rome, and then, turning northwards, describes Spoleto, Assissi, Perugia, Cortona, Arezzo, Florence, Pistoja and Lucca.

THE CATHEDRALS AND CHURCHES OF NORTHERN ITALY. By T. Francis Bumpus. With 80 illustrations in color and half-tone. 8vo, cloth, net $4.00. (Postage, 21 cents.)

Among the numerous Cathedrals and Churches described in this volume are those of Verona, Vicenza, Padua, Venice, Ferrara, Bologna, Ravenna, Modena, Piacenza, Cremona, Bergamo, Milan, Pavia, Asti, Vercelli, Novara and Turin.

THE CATHEDRALS AND CHURCHES OF NORWAY, SWEDEN AND DENMARK. By T. Francis Bumpus. Uniform with "Cathedrals of Northern Italy." With 80 plates and frontispiece in colors. 8vo, cloth, net $4.00. Three-quarter levant, net $7.50. (Postage, 21 cents.)

Scandinavia is rich in remains of ancient ecclesiastical architecture, yet they have been but little regarded, or at least we have not had the advantage of any published work which treats of it in a general manner.

Breaking, as it does, ground but little trodden by the English tourist, this volume will, it is believed, command attention from the novelty of the subject of which it is designed to treat.

THE CATHEDRALS AND CHURCHES OF NORTHERN FRANCE. By T. Francis Bumpus. Fully illustrated. Cloth, net $2.00. (Postage, 12 cents.)

This recent addition to T. Werner Laurie's "Cathedral Series" is perhaps at once the most interesting and delightful. Mr. Bumpus, than whom no more able cicerone could be desired, has written it with a simplicity and ease which denotes mastery of his subject. It does not matter whether the question to be discussed be design or construction, the work of the mason or the carver, the stained glass of the windows or the tracery surrounding it, Mr. Bumpus is equally at home and equally interesting. When we remember the author's three volumes on the cathedrals of England and Wales, or his single volumes on those of northern Italy, northern Germany and the Rhine, Belgium and finally Norway, Sweden and Denmark, to say nothing of his two volumes on London churches and his history of English cathedral music, it may seem high praise to say that he has never done anything better before, but it is none the less probably the case.

THE CATHEDRALS AND CHURCHES OF BELGIUM. By T. Francis Bumpus. With many illustrations. Cloth, net $2.00. (Postage, 12 cents.)

In this volume the talented author has treated the subjects covering Antwerp, Bruges, Brussels, Ghent, Liége, Alost, Mons, etc., in a most delightful and fascinating manner.

THE CATHEDRALS OF ENGLAND AND WALES. By T. Francis Bumpus. 3 vols. complete, illustrated. Cloth, net $6.00. Three-quarter levant, net $12.00. (Postage, 30 cents.)

More than a guide-book and something less than a history, yet in a very clear and readable manner it presents the stories of the famous Cathedral buildings in England and Wales, and the text is illustrated by means of a number of very successful photographs.

"We question if there is anything about the Cathedrals of which Mr. Bumpus is ignorant. He is a delightful companion in exploring these great churches. He is full of enthusiasm and knowledge, and he always gives you of his best. His 'Cathedrals' ought to become a standard book."

BY THE WATERS OF SICILY. By Norma Lorimer. Large illustrated edition. 8vo, cloth, $1.50.

"A delightful book; it will probably live longer than 90 per cent. of present-day fiction. Fresh, vivid, and full of information, it should be the companion of every one who goes that way."

"The author's vivid and picturesque style is fitted to her theme and the sunny atmosphere of Sicily. It is one of the most original books of travel that has ever been written."

BY THE WATERS OF CARTHAGE. By Norma Lorimer, Author of "By the Waters of Sicily." 8vo, cloth, with 32 illustrations from photographs, and color frontispiece, net $2.50. (Postage, 16 cents.)

Miss Lorimer has an original way of recounting her travels which is all her own. The wonderful Oriental life of Tunis—that most Oriental of cities—is vividly depicted and under a light and racy style the author conceals a real knowledge of the Arab, his ways and customs, his religion and social life, and proves herself well read in the works of the various authorities upon the subject.

BUDAPEST, THE CITY OF THE MAGYARS. By F. Berkeley Smith. With an introduction by F. Hopkinson Smith. Copiously illustrated. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

SOME LITERARY ECCENTRICS. By John Fyvie, author of "Some Women of Wit and Beauty," etc. Illustrated. 8vo, cloth, net $3.00. (Postage, 14 cents.)

Thomas Amory—Thomas Day—William Beckford—Walter Savage Landor—William Hazlitt—Henry Crabb Robinson—Charles Babbage—Douglas Jerrold—George Wither—James I.—St. John Mandeville.

MEMOIRS OF THE DUKE OF SAINT-SIMON. On the Reign of Louis XIV. and the Regency. Translated from the French by Bayle St. John. With a Preface by James Breck Perkins. Illustrated with photogravures. 4 vols., cloth, 12mo, with index, $6.00. Three-quarter levant, $12.00.

"The Student's History of France," in giving the authorities for the Reign of Louis XIV., says: "The principal source of contemporary history for this period is the Memoirs of the Duc de Saint-Simon. This work will always preserve its reputation and authority, from the high position of its author, his general fidelity and accuracy, and his remarkable power of delineating individual character."

BYGONE LONDON LIFE. Pictures from a vanished past. By G. L. Apperson, I.S.O. With many illustrations from old prints and engravings. Net $1.50. (Postage, 11 cents.)

Leaving the common places of history alone, he delves into forgotten corners and brings out odd treasures of information—for example, anecdotes of the habitués of the famous old coffee-houses.

ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON. By G. K. Chesterton. Small 12mo, with frontispiece portrait. Cloth, 50 cents.

A collection of valuable matter about Stevenson, matter not heretofore published, is to be found in this volume on Stevenson.

Every lover of Stevenson will read this little volume with the keenest interest. It is most suggestive, as Mr. Chesterton's expressions usually are, and will take an honorable place among the many studies of an especially difficult and complex personality.

LIFE AND TIMES OF GALILEO. By J. J. Fahie. With portraits and illustrations. 8vo, $5.00.

Whoever has paced the cool quadrangles of Padua will find this magnificent piece of biography more fascinating than any romance and more profound than any other utterances of religious philosophy. Mr. Fabie has endeavored to speak the truth. His narrative is lucid and ingenuous. He neither eulogizes nor disparages Galileo.

THE BOOKMAN BIOGRAPHIES. A series of popular, illustrated monographs on great writers. Profusely illustrated with 40 or more illustrations and Special Portrait in tint. Quarto, cloth, each 75 cents.

SIR WALTER SCOTT. By W. S. Crocket and James L. Caw.

ROBERT BROWNING. By James Douglas.

ALFRED TENNYSON. By G. K. Chesterton and Richard Garnett.

WILLIAM M. THACKERAY. By G. K. Chesterton and Lewis Melville.

The Bookman Biographies, exceedingly suggestive work throughout, were undertaken because a need was felt for thorough and concrete "lives" of these great men. The names of the biographers sufficiently indicate the character of these books.

General Literature

THE MINIATURES. This is a series of bibelots, tastefully produced and consisting of selected gems of literature in an ornate yet artistic setting. Format 5¼ x 3. The value of these pretty little volumes must be gauged, not by their mere size or bulk, but by their quality and beauty. Each booklet is printed in old style type in two colors, on real Japan paper, and contains several exquisite miniature tinted plates. Each has a decorative title-page, and specially designed end-papers. Cloth, 35 cents.

THE TITLES ARE:

Sir Roger de Coverley. By Joseph Addison. With tinted plates by Dion Clayton Calthrop.

Notes of a Week's Holiday. By W. M. Thackeray. With tinted plates by Sidney Gardner.

The Seven Poor Travellers. By Charles Dickens. With tinted plates by Arthur Hogg.
Tam O'Shanter and Other Poems. By Robert Burns. With tinted plates by S. B. Pearse.
Coaches and Coaching. By Leigh Hunt. With tinted plates by Paul Hardy.

I'VE BEEN THINKING. By Charles Battell Loomis. Frontispiece and decorative cover by Robert A. Graff. Square 12mo, $1.00.

Charles Battell Loomis is a humorist and a thinker—virtues which do not always go together. He has put them both in this little book, "I've Been Thinking," which treats all sorts of subjects in a breezy way; not too much of thought to weary, not too much of fun to bore.

THE FOUNDATIONS OF THE REPUBLIC. By Rev. Edward Everett Hale, author of "The Man Without a Country," "In His Name," etc., with a frontispiece portrait. Cloth, 12mo, 50 cents; leather, 75 cents.

"Somehow we have a little more faith in the stability of the American Republic after we have read this valuable little book. It is just such a book as we should expect from the distinguished author of 'The Man without a Country.' It bears evidence of that maturity of judgment which comes to one who, for more than three score and ten years, has lived in accordance with the principles and ideals of the founders of the American Republic."

THE WOMAN OF TO-MORROW. By Helen M. Winslow. 12mo, cloth, net $1.00. (Postage, 8 cents.)

A readable, sensible, serious, humorous bit of writing. Its optimism is infectious and holds the attention both of men and women.

THE ESSENTIALS OF SPIRITUALITY. By Felix Adler. 12mo, cloth, net $1.00. (Postage, 8 cents.)

This book crystallizes Dr. Adler's teaching throughout his long service as an apostle of Ethical Culture. Dr. Adler has produced comparatively few books, and none of recent years to which he has given such minute preparation.

A SOUTHERN PLANTER: Social Life in Old South. By Susan Dabney Smedes. Illustrated with photogravures, decorative cover. 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

Containing autograph letter from the Hon. W. E. Gladstone to the author, in commendation of the book. This is one of the most delightful books depicting Southern life in Ante-Bellum Days, the Old South that has passed away.

THE MOON. A new and popular edition. The moon considered as a planet, a world, and a satellite. By James Nasmith, C.E., and James Carpenter, F.R.A.S., late of the Royal Observatory, Greenwich. With numerous illustrations. $2.00.

THE GEM CLASSICS. The best of the world-famous classics in uniform binding. Photogravure frontispiece. Red Venetian morocco, limp, gilt top, $1.00.

1. Rasselas. By Samuel Johnson, LL.D.
2. Religio Medici, etc. By Sir Thomas Browne.
3. The Story of the Chevalier Bayard. By Edith Walford.
4. Vathek: An Eastern Romance. By William Beckford.
5. Abdallah and the Four-Leaved Shamrock.
7. Frankenstein: or, The Modern Prometheus. By Mrs. Shelley.
8. Reflections of Rochefoucauld.

"For purity of text, elegance of topography, and beauty of external form, they cannot be equalled."

THE WILL POWER. By J. Miller Fothergill, M.D. 12mo, cloth, 75 cents.

"It is full of illustrations drawn from the widest reading, and showing how far the will has inherited qualities, its relation to self-culture, its behavior under unexpected circumstances, its operation in fight, and its manifestations under the influence of disease."

GHETTO SILHOUETTES. By David Warfield. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, 50 cents.

Nature Books

ALONG FOUR-FOOTED TRAILS. Wild Animals of the Plains as I Know Them. By Ruth A. Cook. With numerous illustrations by Mabel Williamson. 12mo, cloth, net 75 cents. (Postage, 14 cents.)

John Burroughs has heartily commended this western nature book which Miss Cook's personal acquaintance with animals has well fitted her to write. Although accurate scientifically, the volume is characterized by an absence of scientific discussion and terms that so often spoil an otherwise readable book.

MINIATURE AND WINDOW GARDENING. By Phoebe Allen and Dr. Godfrey. 12mo, cloth, net 50 cents. (Postage, 8 cents.)

More and more every year Americans see the delightful fashion so much the vogue abroad —the fashion of the window garden—adopted in the United States. With its adoption comes the need for knowledge on the subject, and our authors have given just the simple, easily adopted rules necessary to the cultivation of window plants and other small garden effects.

PARABLES FROM NATURE. By Mrs. Alfred Gatty. Small 12mo, cloth, photogravure frontispiece, $1.50.

There is a geniality and a naturalness in Mrs. Gatty's Parables that we look for in vain in the attempts of other writers.

The cheerfulness of the cricket, the honest toil of the bee, the faith of the caterpillar in its future existence, the joy of the lark in its being, the belief of the robin in a Providence, the silent trustfulness of the oak and the beech—all these and many other lessons do these parables bring with them as we listen to the voices with which Mrs. Gatty has clothed the thoughts of tree and insect, flower and bird.

Poetry

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE. Also index and glossary, and portraits of eminent American and English artists.

Linen cloth, gilt top, boxed, colors green and maroon, $1.50.

French Levant Morocco, limp, red under gold edge, round corners, blind blocking, initial letter inlaid in colors, boxed, colors tan and maroon, $2.50. Genuine three-quarter polished red levant, gilt top, boxed, $3.50.

This is acknowledged to be the best one-volume edition of Shakespeare published, the type being large and clear, the paper thin and opaque, and the volume not cumbersome or heavy. It has been adopted by many schools and colleges and the book trade as by far the best.

THE SAVOY EDITION OF POETS. Bound in a superior quality of leather, with handsomely designed title, colors, gold edges. 12mo, in box, $2.25.

The publishers have spared neither pains nor expense to render the volumes in this series the most beautiful editions published.

Each is a beautiful 12mo volume, illustrated very fully by half-tone engravings, after original designs made especially for the work. Many of the illustrations are full page, and the remainder are of various sizes and odd shapes, and are set in the text in the French style with wide margin. Our superior facilities for manufacturing leather bindings enable us to offer the best line of leather editions that can be had.

The World's "Best Seller"

THE Bible holds the distinction of being the first printed book and the King James or Authorized Version of the Bible is to-day the best selling book in the world. Such a book cannot be said to be out of date.

The first book printed from movable metal types was the Latin Bible in the year 1455.

The King James or Authorized Version of the Bible was first printed in 1611 by Robert Barker.

The Cambridge University Press — the earliest of existing presses to produce a Bible — issued the King James or Authorized Version first in 1629.

The first Bible printed in this country was in the Indian language in 1663 by John Eliot.

The first English Bible printed in this country was in 1782.

The first Bible printed in New York City was in 1792. George Washington owned a copy.

The first Pocket Reference Bible was printed by Bagster in 1812.

The first Bible in flexible binding was bound by Bagster in 1816.

The first Bible printed on India paper was published by Bagster in 1828.

In 1865 Bagster bound the first Bible with "yapp" or divinity circuit (overlapping) edges.

In 1910 the Patent Tubular "Open-Flat" Flexible Binding was first devised.

This new patented way of binding Bibles is controlled by James Pott & Co., and used exclusively on Cambridge and Bagster Bibles.

SENT POSTPAID ON RECEIPT OF PRICE

ARNOLD, SAMUEL GREENE

History of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, 1636-1790. New edition, 2 Vols., cloth, octavo, 574 and 600 pp. $7.50 net.

Governor Arnold's History of Rhode Island, based upon a careful study of documents in the British State Paper Office and in the Rhode Island State Archives, supplemented by investigations at Paris and the Hague, has from its publication been the authoritative history of the State.

Genealogical students will find in these volumes the names of fifteen hundred persons prominent in Rhode Island affairs. This work is of much more than local interest, as the experiment of religious liberty here tried, gives to this history an importance far beyond the narrow limits of the State.

"One of the best State histories ever written is S. G. Arnold's History of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations." JOHN FISKE.

"The best history of Rhode Island is that of Arnold's."

PROF. GEORGE P. FISHER, Yale University.

"A work prepared after long and careful research. Probably no student has ever made himself more familiar with the history of Rhode Island than did Arnold. This work abounds, therefore, in valuable information."

PRES. CHARLES KENDALL ADAMS, Cornell University.

BAILEY, W. WHITMAN
(Professor of Botany, Brown University)

Among Rhode Island Wild Flowers. Cloth, 16mo., 3 plates, 50c. net.

The favorite collecting grounds are fully described, thus forming a botanical guide to Rhode Island.

In writing this volume Professor Bailey has had in mind the needs of the nature lover, and has discarded technical terms as far as possible, adapting the work to the amateur as well as the botanist.

New England Wild Flowers and their Seasons. Cloth, 16mo., 75c. net.

The characteristics of the conspicuous and dominant flowers of the months are sketched in broad lines, rendering identification easy.

The flowers of the White and Green Mountains—our alpine flora—receive separate treatment, as do also the flowers of the seashore—our coast flora.

Botanizing. A guide to field collecting and herbarium work. New revised edition. Cloth, 12mo., illustrated. $1.00 net.

"This is an honest and successful attempt to attract amateurs to the delightful study of plants in the forests, fields and waters. The endeavor is made to show the casual as well as the expert collector, that by the employment of a few simple appliances and by the exercise of a certain amount of patience, it is possible to accumulate at small cost, a wealth of material for fascinating investigation during the winter months."—The Nation.

Botanical Note Book. A Synopsis of Lectures and Laboratory Plans in General Morphology and Systematic Botany. Cloth, 12mo., 75c. net.

Poems. Boards, 8vo., 186 pp. $1.25 net.

COLLINS, J. FRANKLIN & PRESTON, HOWARD W.

Key to New England Trees, Wild and Commonly Cultivated. Paper, square, 24mo., 42 pp. 40 cents, net.

A simple and compact pocket key for the identification of trees, chiefly by their leaves in the fields and woods.

FIELD, EDWARD

Revolutionary Defenses in Rhode Island. An historical account of the fortifications and beacons erected during the American Revolution, with muster rolls of companies stationed along the shores of Narragansett Bay, with maps, plans and illustrations. Cloth, 8vo. $2.25 net.

Muster rolls and company lists, containing the names of more than seven hundred officers and enlisted men, many of which have hitherto been inaccessible, are here printed. The work is profusely illustrated with plans and views of old earthworks, together with illustrations of the various styles of equipments used by the patriots of '76, and fac-similes of the enlistment papers of the Continental Army.

The Colonial Tavern. A glimpse of New England Town Life in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries. Cloth, octavo, 292 pp. $2.00 net.

Tax List of the Town of Providence During the Administration of Sir Edward Andros and His Council, 1686-1689. Cloth, 60 pp., 8vo., Price, $1.00 net. The edition is limited to TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY numbered copies.

Among the rate bills is the list of polls for 1688, which contains the names of all males sixteen years of age and upwards living in Providence in August of that year; practically a census of the town. For the genealogist and historian this volume contains material of the greatest value on account of the great number of names which these lists contain, besides showing the amount of the tax assessment in each case.

The returns of ratable property form a study by themselves, for they tell in the quaint language of the colonist what they possess, and therefore shed much light on the conditions of the times. For a study of this episode in New England Colonial History this work is invaluable.

Diary of Colonel Israel Angell of the Continental Line, with Annotations by Edward Field Explanatory of the Text, and giving the Military History of the persons mentioned. With map and two plates. Cloth, 8vo. $2.00 net.

"His diary throws some added light on important occurences, such as the evacuation of Newport and Arnold's treason; records familiar routes of travel, civil and military, in his day ; affords glimpses of army discipline and of the genus patriot in the service."—The Nation.

GUILD, REUBEN ALDREDGE

Footprints of Roger Williams. Paper, 48 pp. 35 cents.

In this little pamphlet Dr. Guild deals with the vexed question of Roger Williams' birth, and also traces his wanderings from his landing at Boston to his settlement at Providence.

ISHAM, NORMAN M.

The Homeric Palace. Illustrated by eleven full page plates. Cloth, 8vo. $1.00 net.

"A small and handsomely finished book of interest to every reader of the Homeric poems, whether in the original or in translations."—The Outlook.

"An interesting little study in archæology."—London Spectator.

ISHAM, NORMAN M., and BROWN, ALBERT F.

Early Connecticut Houses. A historical and architectural study. Cloth, square octavo, with map, 7 plates and 115 illustrations. $5.00 net.

"There is a completeness of record, a successful attempt to tell the whole story as far as it is important it should be told, upon which it is hard to comment in terms too favorable. Each house is presented in a small, carefully made drawing, mainly in outline, without the slightest attempt at artistic effect; and the more artistic on that account, as revealing the work of architectural art without the interference of the draftsman's fancies. It is clear that these little drawings (stated to have been made with the aid of photographs) and the plans and explanatory sections are as trustworthy as it is possible to make drawings of the kind."—The Nation.

JANES, LEWIS G.

Samuel Gorton: a forgotten founder of our liberties, first settler of Warwick. Cloth, 12mo. $1.00 net.

This is a fresh and comprehensive study of the varied career of the pioneer of Warwick. For the first time his political and religious opinions are adequately presented and their remarkable agreement with the most advanced thought of our day is indicated.

JERNEGAN, MARCUS W.

The Tammany Societies of Rhode Island. Paper, 8vo., 39 pages, 50 cents net.

KIMBALL, GERTRUDE SELWYN

The East India Trade of Providence, from 1787 to 1807. Paper, 8vo. 34 pages. 50 cents net.

By a careful study of log books and commercial papers of the old shipping firms, the author is enabled to present an interesting picture of the East India trade of Providence in its palmy days.

Pictures of Rhode Island in the Past, 1642-1833, by Travellers and Observers. Gertrude Selwyn Kimball, the editor, with an introduction by Prof. J. Franklin Jameson. Cloth, 8vo. $2.00 net.

Many interesting descriptions of Rhode Island appear in the pages of old writers. Miss Kimball has made a comprehensive collection of such descriptions. They come from a surprising variety of sources—natives and foreigners, governors and clergymen, soldiers and geographers, Quakers and Catholics, French officers and American travellers.

RICHMAN, IRVING BERDINE

Rhode Island: a study in separatism. Large paper. Rhode Island edition, one hundred copies only printed. Boards, 8vo., 395 pp. $5.00 net.

WHITMAN, SARAH HELEN

Poems. Cloth, 261 pages, with portrait. $1.50.

Edgar Poe and His Critics. Second edition, with portrait of Poe from daguerreotype taken for the author. Cloth, 69 pages. $1.00.

KING, HENRY M.

(Pastor Emeritus of the First Baptist Church)

The Baptism of Roger Williams. Cloth, 12mo. $1.00 net.

A vivid picture of the religious controversy in early New England and the wide diffusion of a Baptist sentiment.

A Summer Visit of Three Rhode Islanders to the Massachusetts Bay in 1651. Cloth, 12mo. $1.00 net.

An account of the visit of Dr. John Clarke, Obadiah Holmes, and John Crandall, members of the Baptist Church in Newport, R. I., to William Witter, of Swampscott, Mass., in July, 1651. Its innocent purpose and its painful consequence.

Religious Liberty. An Historical paper. Cloth, 12mo. $1.00 net.

Rev. John Myles and the Founding of Swansea and the First Baptist Church in Massachusetts. Cloth, 12mo. $1.00 net.

John Myles founded the First Baptist Church on Massachusetts soil, and also a town the most unique of any in the New England settlements. The book contains a vivid picture of the times, the man, and his service.

Sir Henry Vane, Jr., Governor of Massachusetts and Friend of Roger Williams and Rhode Island. Cloth, 12mo., 207 pages. $1.25 net.

KOOPMAN, HARRY LYMAN

At the Gates of the Century. Boards, 12mo., 88 pages. 75 cents net.

Morrow-Songs, 1880-1898. 12mo., 73 pages. $5.00 net.

Christian Doctrine, A Catechism on. By George G. Smith. Paper. 5 cents.

Christian Doctrine, A Manual of. By Rev. John S. Banks. 12mo. $1.50. The same in Spanish. (See Spanish Publications.)

The author of this book was a pupil of Dr. Pope, author of "Compendium of Theology," "Higher Catechism of Theology," etc., and now occupies the post of theological tutor in one of the chief Wesleyan Methodist (English) colleges.

Bishop Tigert says of the book: "He has compressed into this small volume an amount of clearly stated and vigorously argued theological thought that seems almost incredible. The author's power of succinct and luminous statement and cogent argument has, with his careful and wide reading, resulted in one of the best treatises possible within so narrow a compass."

Christian Giving. By Rev. H. G. Henderson. 12mo. Paper. 10 cents.

The trend of this little book may be seen from the author's statement that, "while the New Testament does not specify the amount we are to give to the cause of Christ, it nevertheless distinctly enunciates the imperative obligation of Christian liberality."

Christian Growth. By O. P. Fitzgerald, D.D. 16mo. Paper, 10 cents; 50 cents.

This is one of the choicest productions of the religious press. The vital principles of the gospel of religious life and growth are here presented in a most thoroughly practical yet charming manner.

Church, The Mission of the. By Rev. W. P. Lovejoy. 12mo. $1.

The author's position is that the Church is the representative of Christ on earth, and that its one purpose is to save the world. He magnines and ably presents the phases, what the Christ is whom the Church represents and what that salvation is which the Church is to bring to the world, and shows what the Church must be to accomplish the results for which it exists. It is a strong presentation.

Nelson, Rev. R. Scriptural Holiness. Leatherette. 30 cents.

New Era in Old Mexico, A. By Rev. G. B. Winton. 12mo. $1.

This is not a history of Mexico. The author says that "the history of Mexico in English remains to be written." Wishing to give some account of Mexico as it is, after a residence there of many years, the author explains the things that are by relating things that have been. The volume is full of most interesting things attractively told, and gives one a good general view of Mexico as it is and how it arrived there.

Skilled Labor for the Master. By Bishop E. R. Hendrix. 12mo. $1.25.
The author in his Foreword says of this book: "It is designed to stimulate and save from arrested development any whose ideals are less than the highest. It was the great and devout Olin who said: 'Not to study is only less wicked in a preacher than not to pray.' It was a wise maxim which Bengel gave to the preacher: 'Apply your whole self to your subject and your whole subject to yourself.'"

Bishop Galloway says: "This is a timely and thought-provoking book, written with a holy purpose and sure of a wide and a beneficent mission. It was born in the heart of an earnest and able minister and of his divine concern for the larger usefulness and deeper consecration of his brethren and fellow-laborers. One cannot escape the impression that some fervent paragraphs were penned when the devout author was sitting very close to the feet of his Lord."

Sunday School Teacher, The. By Rev. H. M. Hamill, D.D. 16mo. 50 cents.

This is the best book to be had on the work of the teacher. Its author has for twenty years given his entire time to the study and active work among Sunday schools, and is "the dean" of the great experts of the day in his work. Every teacher would be helped by its use.

Sunset Views. By Bishop O. P. Fitzgerald. 12mo. $1.

The author says in an introduction: "Several kindly voices said to me: 'Tell the story of men and times you have seen in your own way.' The thought took hold of my mind and almost grew into a purpose." This book is the concrete result, and it is useless to add that the many thousands of people who have the benediction of the friendship of the venerable author need no assurance that blessings and sunshine will accompany the reading of this volume from his heart and pen.

Sunday School Periodicals.

International Uniform Lessons.

Sunday School Magazine. For teachers and Bible students. Published monthly. Sixty-four pages. It contains editorials and contributions from prominent Sunday school workers, choice selections of interest for teachers, and gives the latest and best results of biblical learning applicable to the lessons. To individual addresses, 15 cents each per quarter, 60 cents each per annum. Club rates: All in one package, to one address, five or more copies, 50 cents each per annum, 12½ cents each per quarter.

The Adult Student. A 32-page monthly magazine, designed to meet the demand of the adult classes. Besides an appropriate treatment of the lesson, it contains suggestive articles on various phases of the work—notes from the field, class pictures, and all sorts of helpful information for those engaged in Bible study and Christian service. To individual addresses, 15 cents each per quarter, 50 cents each per annum. Club rates: All in one package, to one address, five or more copies, 40 cents each per annum, 12 cents each per quarter.

Boys and Girls. A monthly paper in weekly parts, for children up to the age of twelve years. Its stories, poetry, and reading matter are carefully selected to suit the juvenile mind. To individual addresses, 40 cents per annum. Club rates: Five or more copies, to one address, 25 cents each per annum, 8 cents each per quarter.

Senior Quarterly. A 32-page quarterly magazine, prepared for the Bible class and advanced scholars. Contains the International Lessons, with brief but explicit expository notes, maps, Bible dictionary, questions, catechism lessons, editorials, and other matter of interest to the student. To individual addresses, 5 cents each per quarter, 20 cents each per annum. Club rates: All in one package, to one address, five or more copies, 12 cents each per annum, 3¼ cents each per quarter.

Home Department Quarterly. A 32-page quarterly magazine, especially prepared for those who cannot attend the regular service of the Sunday school to unite with those who attend in the study of the Scriptures. To individual addresses, 10 cents each per quarter, 35 cents each per annum. Club rates: All in one package, to one address, five or more copies, 25 cents each per annum, 7 cents each per quarter.

Intermediate Quarterly. A 32-page quarterly magazine for the intermediate class; similar in make-up to the Senior Quarterly, but more simple for the student. To individual addresses, 5 cents each per quarter, 20 cents each per annum. Club rates: All in one package, to one address, five or more copies, 12 cents each per annum, 3¼ cents each per quarter.

The Junior Lessons. A 32-page quarterly. It is designed for children between the ages of nine and twelve. It is illustrated, and contains, besides the lessons, maps and other helps suitable to the class it serves. To individual addresses, 5 cents each per quarter, 20 cents each per annum. Club rates: All in one package, to one address, five or more copies, 12 cents each per annum, 3¼ cents each per quarter.

Our Little People. A 32-page quarterly. Its grade is for children between the ages of six and nine. It contains pictures, songs, and general lesson treatment, and is adapted to the class that uses it. To individual addresses, 5 cents each per quarter, 15 cents each per annum. Club rates: All in one package, to one address, five or more copies, 10 cents each per annum, 3 cents each per quarter.

The Primary Teacher. A 64-page quarterly, prepared by one of the leading primary teachers of America, beautifully illustrated, and containing maps, children's songs, and suggestions for the teaching of each lesson. Primary workers will find this just what they need. To individual addresses, 15 cents each per quarter, 50 cents each per annum. Club rates: All in one package, to one address, five or more copies, 40 cents each per annum, 12 cents each per quarter.

The Visitor. A weekly illustrated paper, full of choice, original, and select matter, which not only pleases the young, but interests the old. A gem of a publication. Excellent not only for the Sunday school, but for home reading. To individual addresses, 15 cents each per quarter, 60 cents each per annum. Club rates: All in one package, to one address, five or more copies, 40 cents each per annum, 10 cents each per quarter.

The Olivet Picture Cards. Admirably adapted to the needs of the primary class. These cards are three by four inches in size, made of good wearable cardboard (printed in colors), and are issued quarterly. The first page gives illustration, with topic and golden text; the second page gives lesson, with questions and answers. A set of these cards consists of one card for each Sunday in the quarter. Order as many sets as you have pupils to supply. Club rate orders only. All must be sent to one address. Per annum, 10 cents per set; per quarter, 2½ cents per set.

Bible Lesson Pictures. A roll of twelve full pages, 25x36 inches, beautifully illustrating the lessons in colors. Bound in flexible cover, and ready to hang on the wall. Published quarterly. It is an enlarged edition of the Olivet Picture Cards, except lessons, but gives topic and golden text. Invaluable to superintendents and teachers. Your school should use this publication. Per annum, $3; per quarter, 75 cents.

Remember this: That club rate prices are not given when ordered to more than one address. When sent to individual subscribers, either in clubs or single subscriptions, the price is the rate charged for single copies. Club rate prices are given only when all are sent to one address in one package.

The International Graded Lessons.

They consist of a special series of lessons for each grade in the Sunday school. These lessons for each grade are selected especially for that grade so as to fit their mental capacity, appeal to their interest, and meet their spiritual needs. These lessons are given us by the same Lesson Committee that selects the Uniform Lesson, and are just as truly "international" as the Uniform Lessons. In other words, the International Lesson Committee now gives us our choice of two series of lessons: The International Uniform (ungraded) Lessons, which we have used in the past, and the new International Graded Lessons. The International Lesson Committee does not prepare any helps or notes or comments of any kind on these lessons. This is left entirely to each denomination. All that the Committee does is to select the Scripture passage, title, and Golden Text, just as it has always done. Then each denomination prepares its own helps and comments on the lesson. This gives each denomination the opportunity to teach its own special doctrines.

TRADE PUBLICATIONS

SEASON
1911-1912

RAND McNALLY & COMPANY
CHICAGO LOS ANGELES NEW YORK

To The Trade

Again we take pleasure in presenting to the trade our annual catalogue of miscellaneous publications. It should be remembered, however, that this list describes only the books issued by the MISCELLANEOUS PUBLISHING DEPARTMENT.

Any of the following catalogues, covering all the well-known Rand-McNally department publications, will be mailed upon request:

1. Miscellaneous Department (General Books).
2. U. S. Map Department (Commercial and Trade Maps).
3. Educational Department (School Books).
4. Educational Department (School Maps).
5. Educational Department (Globes).
6. Office Specialties.

In this connection we desire to thank the dealers for their continued interest in our publications, and to express the wish that before holiday orders are placed our exceptionally strong line of juvenile and standard books may receive careful and favorable consideration.

With best wishes for a prosperous and successful year, we remain,

Faithfully yours,

RAND MCNALLY & COMPANY.

The Joy of Gardens

New Books for Adults—on the Press

Lena May McCauley

The Joy of Gardens is a wonderful little book—the work of a true interpreter of nature. In it we feel the coming of the spring, the warming of the air; we scent the faint, sweet odor of green things growing—know all about the outdoor joys of the changing seasons. The little book is the very artistry of gardening—no hard and fast directions for planting, but just an easy, beautiful development of outdoor scenes, leading the reader to model his garden after the picture the author paints. Illustrated with exquisite colored photographs of fair gardens.

Hiawatha

(Players' Edition)

By Henry W. Longfellow

A beautiful edition illustrated with unusual photographs by Grace Chandler Horn. Taken from life among the Ojibwas, they give us the very characters, the very scenes so beautifully sung in Longfellow's poem. Minnehaha, Hiawatha, as a baby, child, and man; the beautiful woods; "the luminous water" are brought before us with startling and life-like vividness. The natural theater is also shown in which, as a play, Hiawatha was so remarkably given by full-blooded Ojibwa Indians not so long ago over the Canadian border. From this representation the edition takes its name. Frontispiece of Minnehaha, and eight full pages tinted. Seventy-five half-tones.

The Enchanted Peacock

Julia Brown

A series of rarely beautiful fairy stories. New, original, delightfully written. Miss Brown is, indeed, the find in modern fairy-story writing. The tales are charmingly interpreted in color by Lucy Fitch Perkins. Four full-page pictures in colors, eight illustrations, together with headings and tail pieces in half-tones.

Cover design by Mrs. Perkins, with colored paster.

Edda and the Oak

Elia Peattie

The story of the little city girl who lived with her parents in a top flat in a great apartment building. Her only companions were a cat and a doll; she never knew a child because there were no children for blocks and blocks. She seldom saw the sky or trees because walls blocked her view. Then one day she went to her grandmother's house in the country—the magical country. What she learned there of Mother Nature's secrets is for the little reader to find out. Cleverly illustrated in colors by Katherine Merrill.

Jackieboy in Rainbowland

William M. Hill

A fine little story of Jackieboy's adventures in Rainbowland. For playing in the rain he was sent to bed. From here he was promptly transported to Rainbowland, where he passed through countries of marvelous coloring, strewn with jewels. Everywhere his clothes changed color to suit the country. For a little boy, he had many experiences. In fact, we fear they may tempt some other little boy to play in the rain. Dashingly illustrated in colors by Fanny F. Cory. Seven full-page pictures and smaller illustrations.

Other Rhymes for Little Readers

Wilhelmina Seegmiller

A second book of those popular and talented co-workers for children—Wilhelmina Seegmiller and Ruth Hallock. The verses are charming and have a child-like quality seldom found outside Stevenson's work. This, together with Miss Hallock's irresistibly real children and five full pages in color, will make the new book a greater favorite, if possible, than its predecessor. Other illustrations and borders in black and white.

Cover design by Ruth Hallock. Large quarto $1.25

Baby Days

A Sunbonnet Record

By Bertha E. Corbett

The very latest thing by the Mother of the Sunbonnet Babies—a dainty little record book for every mother's own baby. And here the babies reign supreme. Whichever way we turn, we meet them. In delightful little water color sketches, spiced with a line or so of text, they trip across the pages, and reveal themselves at every step with a newer charm.

Below each drawing, a fascinating space, empaneled in spring green, pink, or blue ribbon, invites the record of current "great events" in baby's life and begets a further mysterious interest in the story yet to come.

In Baby Days, Miss Corbett still further endears herself to the American public. Every mother will love this record even more than she did the Sunbonnet Babies, for it will hold the story of her baby. And every child in later days will keep the book among its treasures.

The Hiawatha Alphabet

By Florence Holbrook

In the Hiawatha Alphabet, Miss Holbrook has touched on one of the great interests of American children. For them, Hiawatha, the great wonder worker of Indian mythology, has an ever fresh and unique charm. His youth, his wonderful experiences in our primevalfor ests appeal to the children as something peculiarly close to them, while his supernatural powers furnish the wonder element necessary to a perfect story of this sort.

In her Alphabet, Miss Holbrook has utilized this romantic interest with good effect. Her verses feature some character, animal, interest, or scene of the young hunter's story, while through the large colored illustrations by Hugo D. Pohl, the situation, as well as the letter of the alphabet, is vividly emphasized. On each page the initial letter is printed in large size in red.

The pages are all paneled and the pictures are reproduced in colors by the popular Ben Day process.

Cover of green cloth, paneled, with decorations of gold and red. Quarto. Price.....$ .75

The Rhyming Ring

By Louise Ayres Garnett

A charming little book of verses, and a happy successor to that beloved of the children—The Muffin Shop. The Rhyming Ring is instinct with that musical quality and keen appreciation of the child's point of view that in so short a time have placed Mrs. Garnett among the favorite authors for children.

The tender child thoughts ring so true, their charms and questioning are so naturally presented, that any child reader will delight in the book, and the older person will gladly read to the child.

In this, as in her other verses, one secret of Mrs. Garnett's gift of interpretation is easily revealed: She is the mother of a lovely little boy, and herself is not very far from the edge of girlhood. Reason enough for that freshness of view that makes her work so attractive.

With the particularly fine color work of Hope Dunlap, to further reinforce her verses, Mrs. Garnett provides for the children "a lovely time" this winter, and other winters to come.

Illustrated with eight full pages in color; numerous illustrations in color and in black from the drawings by Hope Dunlap.

El Estranjero
(The Stranger)

By Russell Judson Waters

In the development of any land, history and romance are indissolubly blended, and nowhere is this more vividly shown than in the settlement of our own Southwest.

In El Estranjero, the reader meets the fullness of this life. Beneath the breathless excitement of rapid action, the fire of daring deeds, the love and mystery of the story, are seen the strength and earnestness of the men who opened to civilization this great land, the intensity of their desires, and their belief in what they are doing.

For a story full of dash and color, strengthened with a deep historic interest, read El Estranjero.

Marjorie Moxie—Her Experiences

By Maud Morrison Huey

The vivid and unusual personality of the little girl whose "experiences" are related lends a unique flavor and a constant, active interest to such incidents as naturally occur in the life of a wide-awake child in a small town. Her vivacity and quaint philosophy are bewitching. She has discovered that stray cats have a mission in life, and what it is. She has a respect for tramps that is based on plausible reasons, and a hundred other original ideals and childishly wise theories make the book a continual surprise and a delight from cover to cover. People are going to quote things from "Majorie." There is a little twist in her phrases that makes one laugh and makes one think. She is altogether charming.

Illustrated with colored frontispiece and four full-page half-tones from drawings by Ruth M. Hallock.

The Pied Piper of Hamelin

By Robert Browning

In the Pied Piper of Hamelin, the story itself has always had a wonderful sort of attraction. Children liked it, men liked it from the first day the book appeared.

Though neither mice nor children could resist the Piper, in the older editions of the poem the journey was rather sad.

Now it is different. The "getting there" is wonderful. In the beautiful new edition of Browning's great child story, we are given a new vision. The pictures by Hope Dunlap throw wide to the sunlight the full beauty of the story. The illustrator brings out with an exquisite art all the humorous touches; the quaint beauty and interest of the town, the time, and the people; the rich color possibilities of the situation, and further—she imparts a life and individuality to her characters which will entrance the children.

In illustrating this, the fourth book, for us—and such a book—Miss Dunlap again makes the public her debtor.

Naya

Elizabeth Egleston Hinman

A story of life in the great West. The atmosphere of the plains, the canyons, the mountains sweeps over you in a wave of freshness. Naya, the heroine, affects you like a tonic. The daughter of an Indian princess and an English gentleman—a rancher on the plains—she is the embodiment of the wild, sweet freedom of the prairies, tempered by the influence of the colder clime. Fearless, beautiful; showing in every thought and line of her, the grace of her noble blood, Naya simply takes possession of the reader. Her adventures, her life bristle with interest. Never once, from the beginning of the story to the end, as she leaves for England, does this interest fail.

So strong is the girl's hold on the reader, that when she leaves him, in imagination he still follows her into that broader, richer development which must await her beyond the seas.

A fine, exhilarating tale.

Frontispiece in color, and four full-page illustrations in black and white by DeForest Schook.

Stories of Heroism

By Professor William H. Mace

In Stories of Heroism, by Professor William H. Mace, of Syracuse University, children have a rare sort of treat—life stories of America's great men touched by the spirit that puts the glow in the romance, the fire in the story. The characters affect the reader like living people. Throughout boyhood, youth, and manhood, navigators, soldiers, statesmen, scientists live with the intensity of their hour. Children see them as boys like themselves with all a boy's joys and troubles, later as men, contending with all their strength for the great things—surmounting obstacles, making themselves vital figures in the affairs of the nation, and eventually, vital influences in the lives of the children who read about them. The author has done a splendid piece of work for the children.

Homer W. Colby provides innumerable pen drawings, Reich and Audibert the portraits, and Denman Fink ten beautiful color plates.

The Little Lame Prince

By Miss Mulock

An enchanting new edition of Miss Mulock's classic for children. It would be hard to imagine a book more gorgeously and bewitchingly decorated than this. Dashing horses and gayly decked riders, kingly processions in brilliant regalia, the fairy godmother in her starry robe, and the dear little Prince himself, all appear in the handsomely colored plates. No one can look at these pictures without appreciating the dainty, whimsical, fascinating story they illustrate.

The fact that they are by Hope Dunlap, the illustrator of "The Muffin Shop," one of the most popular of last season's books for children, should place them instantly. Besides illustrations in colors, there are many panels and other decorative drawings.

A Child's Garden of Verses

Robert Louis Stevenson

Verses that will always stand as the truest revelation of a child's heart and outlook. Delicate, simple, with the inexpressible charm that Stevenson alone can give. "The Garden" is full of enchantment for young or old. Who could pass by "The Shadow March" and "The Windy Night"? And as for "The Dark," "The Moon," and the wonderful "Wind," as long as there is a child to enjoy them, these beautiful verses will be charged with glamour and mystery. Illustrated in colors and line drawings.

Peter Pumpkin in Wonderland

By Ida M. Huntington

Such a dear, breezy, original fairy story is "Peter Pumpkin in Wonderland." Without doubt one of the most unique and pleasing ever published for little folk.

It relates the adventures of Peter Pumpkin, who is visited by his friends, the fairies, on national holidays—Hallowe'en, Christmas, Washington's Birthday, Fourth of July, etc., and tells of experiences that befell him, as amusing as they are unexpected and ingenious.

8 vo., cloth binding. Handsomely illustrated in colors and in black, from drawings by Isabel Hunt. Price.....$1.25

"PETER" AMONG THE REVIEWERS

The book will certainly appeal to the universal heart of boyhood and girlhood and win for itself a lasting place in their memory.—Albany Evening Journal.

"Peter Pumpkin in Wonderland" is rarely imaginative and entirely wholesome. There is much more poetry and ideality in the book than is usually found in juvenile fiction.—Chicago Daily News.

Each story is told with richness of imagination, a skilled daintiness of touch, and a thorough understanding of the hearts of the children. Altogether the book is charming, and older people, as well as children, will enjoy every word, every "make believe," and every illustration.—Cleveland, Ohio, Town Topics.

Wouldn't You Like to Meet Him?

Old Fashioned Fairy Tales

Retold from the poetic version of Tom Hood

Long and long and long ago, when Grandmama was small
Her Grandma told her all these tales;
She listened to them all.

"And now when Grandmama is old, as old as old can be,
She knows these stories all by heart
And tells them all to me."

So runs the rhyme which introduces this collection of old-time tales retold and admirably adapted for the schoolroom and nursery of to-day by Marion Foster Washburne.

Although slightly changed from the way Grandmama's Grandma related the story, "Red Riding-hood," as told here, cannot fail to charm every little reader. "Hop-o-my-Thumb," "Puss in Boots," and "The Sleeping Beauty" are as delightfully retold in the same volume, with extracts from Tom Hood's poetic version woven into the entertaining narrative.

The book is printed in large type with many artistic illustrations by Margaret Ely Webb, printed flat in poster colors. Besides the small illustrations published throughout the text there are four full page illustrations printed on dark brown paper in poster colors.

8 vo., novelty cloth binding stamped in gold.

The Bandit Mouse and Other Tales

By W. A. Frisbie

The story of a wicked little mouse and his bandit crew in their raids by land and sea. The life was glorious, but retribution followed. A bunch of toy balloons was the cause; the mice explored them, a bandit joker gnawed the string, and the raiders floated away forever. Other stories just as good.

Brightly illustrated with dashing little drawings in colors by Fred R. Bartholomew.

Quarto, 30 pages, with artistic cover in colors, paper binding.....$0.25.

The Shanghai Twins

By W. A. Frisbie

Verse stories for children full of humor and go. The Shanghai twins, two enormous Shanghai chickens, astound their little Bantam mother when they break through the eggs and tower above her. They never cease to amaze her. The children will be delighted with her efforts to feed her great babies, and to otherwise train them. Cleverly illustrated in colors.

The Muffin Shop.

By Louise Ayres Garnett, illustrated in colors and in black and white from drawings by Miss Hope Dunlap.

This dainty story will prove to be one of the notable children's books of the year. It is a verse-book recounting the delights of the Muffin Man and his Shop, located in Pudding Lane. The faithful Jack and Jill, the fastidious Miss Muffet, Mr. and Mrs. Spratt, heretofore unable to agree, the Son of the Piper and his Spotted Pig, and many other inhabitants of Mother-Goose-land, visit the Muffin Shop and buy muffins at a "penny each." The child is given a more extended knowledge of the characters he so well loves. It is a connected story delightfully told, and will appeal unfailingly to the little folks. There are throughout the text various resting-places for the reader.

By no means the least attractive feature of the book are the illustrations in colors by Miss Hope Dunlap. They are sure to capture the child's fancy, for the pages are alive with gay color and the designs are most artistic. The two-page color illustration of the royal coach of gold is delightfully natural and charming. The combination of talent of both author and artist has added to juvenile literature another children's book which will take rank among the best published in recent years.

"It is with a rare pleasure that one looks back at the days of old and thinks of the fascinating books that he used to receive from his friends at Christmas, decorated by Kate Greenaway. When she died, it seemed as though there would never be anyone to take her place. Mrs. Garnett certainly comes the nearest to Kate Greenaway's work of any of those who have succeeded her. There is life in every illustration. Any child would rejoice to be the owner of this volume."—Troy Record.

The Song of Hiawatha.

By Henry W. Longfellow, illustrated with numerous half-tones and cuts from line drawings printed from tint-blocks.

This delightful epic poem by the "people's poet" always gains fresh interest with each reading. In preparing this new edition it has been the aim of the publishers to make it one of the most attractive ever published at a popular price.

It is printed from large clear type on enameled paper, with lines numbered, thus making it a suitable edition for school use. The text is also supplemented with notes explaining the Indian phrases and terms used throughout the text.

The illustrations are a distinctive feature of the book. A number of these are reproduced from old steel engravings and wood cuts, and portray the characteristic life of the Indian. The line drawings also reproduce symbols and characters pertaining to Indian lore, giving a distinct air of individuality to the book.

Bound in full cloth with artistic stamping in ink and gold, size 5 x 8 inches, boxed $1.00

Our Bird Comrades.

By Leander S. Keyser, author of "In Bird Land," "Birds of the Rockies," etc.

In this book the author gives the reader an unusual insight into the lives and traits of a number of well-known birds. In the interest of his work, and with an expenditure of much time, effort, and money, Mr. Keyser spent day after day in the woods and fields studying the birds in their native haunts. The result of his investigations is a true and intimate study of bird life—a book both entertaining and instructive. "Our Bird Comrades" is printed on a good grade of paper from large, clear type, and is beautifully illustrated with sixteen full-page plates in colors.

Cover and Specimen Illustration.

Really Babies.

By Elizabeth B. Brownell, illustrated with reproductions from exquisite photographs of children.

A new book of charming rhymes which make a strong appeal to children. The verses are such that little folks will demand they be read again and again, and that grown-ups will delight in reading to children on account of the true pictures of the unforgetable days of childhood which are so delightfully presented.

The following stanza selected from the book accompanies the specimen illustration shown above:

I had to have my picshur tooken,
For my grandma's far away,
And wants to see jes' how I'm lookin'
'Cause I'm five years old to-day.
I had to stand jes' awful steady
When he said, "now sonny ready;"
An' I got my picshur tooken
The very way that I was lookin'.

The illustrations, which are reproductions from photographs, show a wonderful understanding of child nature and unusual skill in photography. The arrangement of pictures and text is artistic and effective. A large full-page picture is shown on the left-hand pages, while on the opposite pages appear the rhymes accompanied by smaller illustrations.

Quarto, size 9 x 12 inches; 64 pages of pictures and text matter. Beautifully printed paper wrapper.....$1.25

The Independent Library.

Cloth, 12mo. Illustrated. Price, $1.00 per Volume.

The special features of the Independent Library are the varied stampings and the assorted colors of the cloth. Six artistic designs used in embossing the covers, and six shades of cloth—gray, red, olive, green, blue, and brown—make it the most attractive and desirable library published. An elegant window or counter display can be made with this series alone. All of the decorations are in the latest and most approved style, and the books are printed on extra laid paper, with trimmed edges and gold tops. This series will unquestionably meet with the approval of those who appreciate good literature and good book-making.

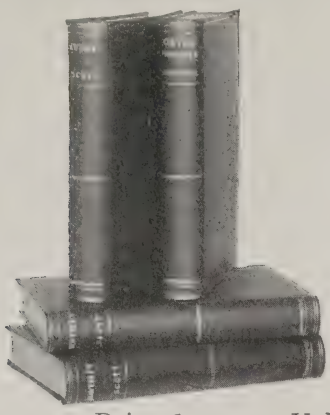
The Atlantic Library.



Cloth, 12mo. Price, $1.00 per Volume.

Already to the front among the Rand-McNally libraries, the Atlantic Library is creating for itself a steadily increasing demand. It is another witness to the fact that there is always room in the market for good books when they can be supplied at a reasonable cost. The volumes included in the Atlantic Library hold a permanent and high place among the English Classics and they are, accordingly, issued in a form appropriate to the library. The books are printed on extra laid paper, with trimmed edges and gold tops and are bound in maroon silk-ribbed cloth.

Copyright Juveniles and Miscellaneous Works.

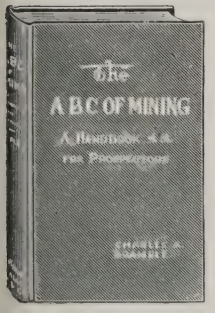
A B C Mother Goose.

Verse by W. A. Frisbie. Pictures by Bart. Price, $1.00. Sixty pages. Size, 9¾x12¼ inches. Printed in colors. Cloth binding with artistic design in colors.

This is a very charming book for little children. The pleasing verses are easily committed to memory and the bright coloring is attractive to the eye. It is printed from large, clear, readable type on extra heavy paper and durably bound in cloth.

A B C of Mining, The

By Charles A. Bramble, D. L. S. Price, Cloth Binding, $1.00.



A Handbook for Prospectors, treating fully of exploratory and preparatory work, of the physical properties of ores, of field geology, the occurrence and associations of minerals, methods of chemical analysis and assay, blowpipe tests, promising indications, and simple methods of working valuable deposits, together with chapters on quartz and hydraulic mining, and especial detailed information on placer mining, with an addenda on camp life and medical hints. Fully illustrated.

Abbe Constantin, The

By Ludovic Halévy. With 32 engravings from the original illustrations by Mme. Madeleine Lemaire. Gift Edition, 12mo. Cloth, $1.25.

This beautiful story has won its way into the hearts of many people in many lands. So long as unselfish love, modest nobility and humble devotion to duty are regarded as admirable; so long as manly men and womanly women are regarded as lovable —so long will this story be admired and loved. To the perfect touch of the author, Mme. Lemaire has added the interpretation of a sympathetic artist of fine taste and skill; and the book, as it now appears, embellished with her beautiful designs, is one of the finest things in literature of this class.

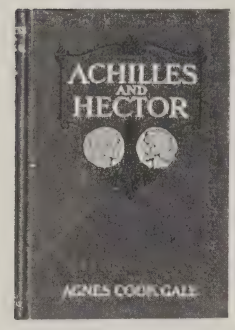
American Book of the Dog, The

Edited by G. O. Shields ("Coquina"). Illustrated. Cloth, 8vo, plain edges, $1.50; half Morocco, gilt top, $3.00; full Morocco, gilt edges, $4.50.

This is a most scientific and exhaustive, as well as a most interesting, work on the dog. Its particular value to the American lies in the fact that it is the American dog as modified by American environment which is discussed in all its phases. The men who write on the subject are entitled to speak with authority, and the name of the editor is a guarantee of the highest excellence. Accurate and ample illustrations add to the scientific value of the book.

Achilles and Hector.

By Agnes Cook Gale, author of "The Story of Ulysses." Illustrated and decorated by Helen Maitland Armstrong. Cloth, 172 pages, 60 cents.



This is the classic story of Homer's "Iliad" retold in a delightfully dramatic spirit for boys and girls. The heroes of Achilles and Hector are great men: what they do they do with all their might; they are willing to work for others without reward; they are withal so clean, brave, healthy, and honest, that they are worthy of the admiration of boys and girls. This is one of the most attractive editions of this famous story.

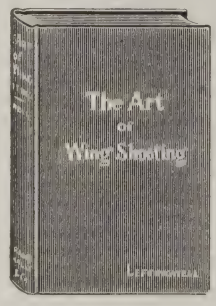
American Game Fishes.

Edited by G. O. Shields. Profusely Illustrated. Cloth, 8vo, $1.50; half Morocco, $3.00; full Morocco, $4.50.

This is a sportsman's book, written and edited by sportsmen, and is a complete guide to the art of angling. The information contained in its pages is not confined to a limited species of fish, nor to those of any one locality, but embraces the entire United States and Canada. Not only is it an exhaustive treatise on the finny tribe, but it also gives full directions for making and using fishing tackle, how, when, and where to angle for all kinds of fish, their habits, habitat, and peculiarities, and a detailed description of the angler's camp outfit. The text is fully illustrated, including portraits of all the fishes described, and two special plates, giving the natural colors of flies commonly used in angling.

Art of Wing Shooting, The.

By William Bruce Leffingwell. Price, Cloth, $1.00; Paper, 50 cents.

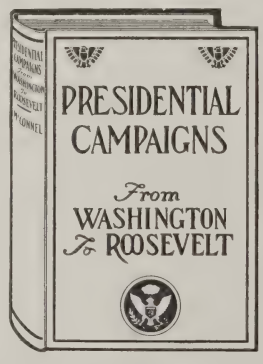


A practical treatise on the use of the shotgun, illustrating, by sketches, how to become an expert shot; also treating of the habits and resorts of game birds and water fowl. It tells also how to become a proficient inanimate target shot. Profusely illustrated.

Presidential Campaigns from Washington to Roosevelt.

By Major G. M. McConnel.

This important historical work, describes briefly and accurately the paramount issues in the various campaigns from Washington to Roosevelt. The author, a well known editorial writer and newspaper man, has taken part in every campaign since the election of James Buchanan in 1856. He tells of these quadrennial contests in an intimate way that is fascinating as well as instructive.



12mo, cloth binding, illustrated...$1.25

Big Game of North America, The

Edited by G. O. Shields. Cloth, 8mo, $1.50; half Morocco, gilt top, $3.00; full Morocco, all gilt edges, $4.50.

Mr. Shields has gathered into this volume articles by twenty-seven writers well known as experts in their several lines. From tracking the caribou in Canada to alligator-shooting in Florida, the ways of the chase are laid bare by these keen-eyed and successful hunters. It is only by the hearty and sympathetic co-operation of such ardent sportsmen and trained naturalists that so comprehensive and valuable a work as this is possible. They have done a service for which all lovers of nature will feel grateful.

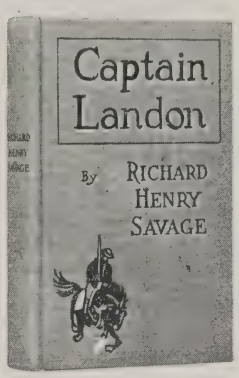
Banking System of the United States.

By Charles G. Dawes. Cloth, 12mo. Price, $1.00.

There can be no proper understanding of the monetary problems of the day unless the relation of the bank-credit money of the country to the money of the government is fully comprehended. This the author, a practical business man, has explained clearly and succinctly. The book will prove a valuable addition to the literature of economics.

Captain Landon. A Story of Modern Rome.

By Col. Richard Henry Savage, author of "My Official Wife," "Checked Through," etc. Illustrated. 12mo, Cloth. 75 cents.



A stirring novel by this well-known and fascinating writer. The scene is laid in Rome, the characters are American, and the plot is one of absorbing interest, bringing into play all those arts of which this author is past master.

The book is handsomely illustrated with half-tone pictures, which lend an additional charm to Colonel Savage's graphic descriptions.

Child Vivien and Other Stories.

By Carlotta Cipriani. Illustrated and decorated by Bror Nordfeldt. Cloth, 12mo, 75 cents.

"Child Vivien" is based upon some of the most famous stories found in the early French epics, and is full of fighting, self-sacrifice, and heroism. The stories have been classic for hundreds of years, and should be a part of every one's literary possessions. It is a companion volume to Radford's "King Arthur and His Knights."

Cheiro's Guide to the Hand.

By Cheiro. Cloth, 12mo. 178 Pages. Price, $1.00.

The study of palmistry from a useful and scientific standpoint, based on the system and experience of Cheiro.

Cheiro's Language of the Hand.

By Cheiro. Large Quarto, 162 Pages. Price, $2.50.

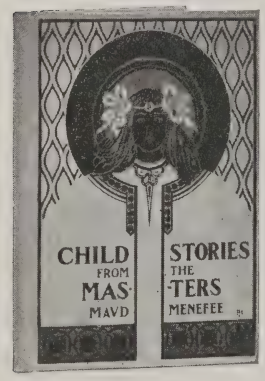
A complete, practical and the only standard work on the science of cheirognomy and cheiromancy. With fifty-five full-page illustrations and over two hundred engravings of lines, mounts, marks, etc.

"Without knowing either the names or the positions in life of any of the people, and without asking a question, or any beating about the bush, Cheiro read from impressions of hands on paper the life and characteristics of each person with the most wonderful accuracy."—New York World.

"Cheiro can tell without error the field or fields in which a person can distinguish himself, if in any. He can reveal to him his whole inner nature; he can warn him of impending dangers; he can even foretell with considerable accuracy of time and circumstances, the chief events of life."—Boston Herald.

Child Stories From the Masters.

By Maud Menefee. Illustrated with reproductions in sepia of famous paintings. Cloth, 12mo, 50 cents.



"Child Stories from the Masters" is artistically and mechanically one of the most attractive books of the year for children. In an admirably simple and sympathetic manner Miss Menefee has told the stories of Browning's Pippa, and Saul and David, of Dante's Beatrice, and of Goethe's Wilhelm Meister and Mignon. Less unusual than these, perhaps, as subjects for stories for children, but not less attractive than they, are the tales from Wagner's operas, Siegfried and Parsifal, presented without any of the heaviness or obscurity of the master. It is an excellent thing to have provided children who have outgrown their gruel with reading matter full of pith and vigor and yet sufficiently easy for their comprehension.

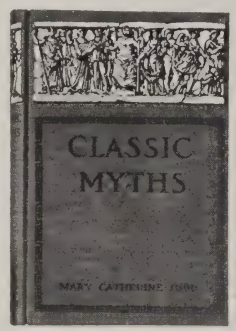
Child's Garden of Verses, A.

By Robert Louis Stevenson. Illustrated by M. H. Squire and E. Mars with many drawings in pen and ink and half-tone, and ten full-page pictures in five colors. Cloth, 96 pages, 75 cents.

This is easily the most beautiful edition of Stevenson's classic volume of children's verse. It is probable that no children's book in the last decade has given as much pleasure as "A Child's Garden of Verses." It is a book for every home and for every children's library.

Classic Myths.

By Mary Catherine Judd. Illustrated by Agnes MacDonall. Cloth, 12mo, 60 cents.



"Classic Myths" is unquestionably the most satisfactory collection of mythological stories for children. It includes stories from Greek, Norse, Roman, Russian, and Finnish stories, told in a childlike and dramatic manner. By reading these myths the child will gain interest and sympathy for the life of beast, bird, and tree; he will learn to recognize those constellations which have been as friends to the wise men of many ages. Such an acquaintance will broaden the child's life and make him see more quickly the true, the good, and the beautiful in the world about him.

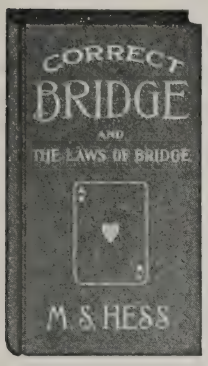
Constitutional History of France, A.

By Henry C. Lockwood. Illustrated. Cloth, 8vo. Price, $2.50.

An outline of the intellectual, social, and political causes which led to the changes in the form of government in France, together with the salient features of its organic law, is given in this essay. The need of such a guide, terse, scholarly, accurate, has long been felt by the intelligent student who yet has not the time to follow the governmental changes of France through the mazes of a general history.

Correct Bridge.

By M. S. Hess. Illustrated. 16mo, Cloth, 25 cents. Full leather, 75 cents.



A necessary book for the beginner and a reference work for the experienced player. Containing the laws of "Bridge," illustrated hands, and all the principles of the game.

The most popular and fascinating card game of the present day is "Bridge." There is, perhaps, no other game at which the instructed and skillful player will derive a greater advantage from his superior knowledge than at "Bridge." To become a successful player one must know the relative value of each card in his hand, and must comprehend the proper declaration of trump, the best card to lead, the opportune time to finesse, the hand in which to unblock, the combining of the dummy hand with his own, and the many other essential points that are constantly arising. All the instructions necessary to make one a successful player are contained in "Correct Bridge."

Cruisings in the Cascades and Other Hunting Adventures.

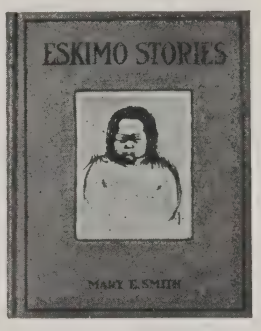
By G. O. Shields ("Coquina"). Illustrated. Cloth, large 12mo, $1.50; half Morocco, $2.50.

A narrative of travel, exploration, amateur photography, hunting and fishing, with special chapters on hunting the grizzly bear, the buffalo, elk, antelope, Rocky Mountain goat, and deer. There are also chapters on trouting in the Rocky Mountains; a Montana roundup; life among the cowboys, etc.

No sportsman's library is complete without this, "Coquina's" best production. As a narrative of travel and adventure for the ordinary reader it is unsurpassed.

Eskimo Stories.

By Mary E. Smith. Profusely illustrated by Howard V. Brown. Cloth, large quarto, 75 cents.

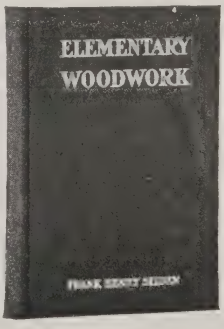


In "Eskimo Stories" Miss Smith has depicted the varying life of an Eskimo family during the long Winter night, the short Summer, and the approaching Winter. It tells of the happier side of the Eskimo life, the Winter sports of real boys and girls, Kyo, Magda, and Agoonack, with snowshoes, sledges, and ivory hockey sticks. The stories are told in very simple language, and with a dramatic quality which holds the child's attention. The book is printed in large type, and is illustrated with more than 150 pictures in half-tone by Mr. Howard V. Brown.

Olof Krarer, a real Eskimo, tells the story of her life in a delightful chapter at the end of the book.

Elementary Woodwork.

By Frank Henry Selden, a successful instructor of shopwork, and a practical mechanic of broad experience. Fully illustrated with half-tone engravings and line drawings showing the work in progress and the correct use of tools. 12mo, Cloth. Price, $1.00.



The most complete, comprehensive, and strictly up-to-date book of its kind on the market. It is thoroughly practical and of great value to both student and instructor, and is written in clear, concise, intelligible language, with no doubtful points left unexplained. Printed from new, large, perfect type on extra heavy paper and substantially bound in the best dark blue ribbed cloth, making it durable and handsome. A practical text-book for use in manual training classes, and also, because of its numerous illustrations and complete text, a very valuable book for home use.

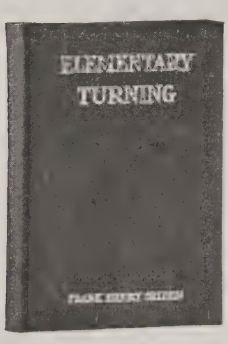
Elementary Turning.

By Frank Henry Selden, an expert wood turner. Illustrated with 288 half-tone engravings and line drawings, showing each step in all the ordinary elements of wood turnings. 12mo, $1.00.

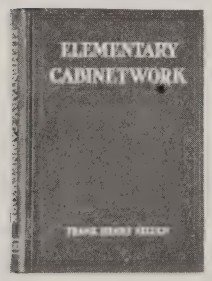


This book marks a great advance in the method of treating this subject. It is sufficiently complete and clear in text and illustrations for use in the home shop, but is especially valuable as a text-book for use in manual training classes. In addition to the many typical exercises given, it contains illustrations of many objects, and describes and illustrates each step in turning them. One should be able to do almost any work in wood turning after a careful study of this book.

Elementary Cabinetwork.

By Frank Henry Selden.

This new book by Mr. Selden contains more than two hundred illustrations, showing designs and combinations in furniture. Every instructor in manual training will find the book replete with suggestions and new ideas in furniture building. It is not only an admirable text-book to place in the hands of the student who is pursuing a course of study in manual training, but it is an excellent book for individuals who have the time and inclination to construct furniture for their own amusement and for use in the home.



From the illustrations shown in cabinetwork, it is easy for one to construct morris chairs, old-fashioned hall clocks, and many other pieces of furniture which are not only useful, but decorative.

Small 12mo, with many illustrations and figures, cloth.....$1.00

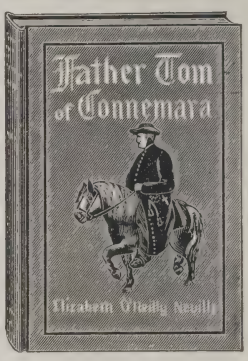
Mists of Fire.

By Coats Kinney, Author of "Lyrics of the Ideal and Real." Cloth, 12mo, $1.50.

This is a volume of poems of the heart which will appeal to many for their simplicity and their pathos. There is also a trilogy of more extended poems on the larger problems of religion and psychology.

Father Tom of Connemara.

By Elizabeth O'Reilly Neville. Illustrated with photographs of the Connemara Country. Cloth, 12mo, 75 cents.



"'Father Tom of Connemara' is a collection of rollicking Irish stories depicting various phases of life in the highlands of Galway. The character drawing throughout the book is as careful and truthful as it is kindly, and Connemara, as Mrs. Neville portrays it, ceases to be merely a name in our ears and becomes an actuality, a real district of Emerald Isle peopled by a race to the full as original and entertaining as those one reads of in 'The Bonnie Brier Bush.'"

"As a story it is full of humor and pathos and closely approaches 'Luke Delmege,' by Father Sheehan, in point of excellence."—The New World.

Folk Tales from the Russian.

By Verra Xenophontovna Kalamatiano de Blumenthal. Illustrated by Lucy Fitch Perkins after suggestive sketches by the Author. Cloth, 147 Pages, 60 cents.

"Folk Tales From the Russian," by Verra Xenophontovna Kalamatiano de Blumenthal, a Russian countess, presents a few of the many stories which indicate the beginning of Russian literature. This is probably the first collection of Russian folk tales in the English language.

American boys and girls know their Andersen and their Grimm, and now they may share with Russian children the imaginative tales of the Slavic people. This world acquaintance, this knowledge of the classic stories of the great countries is at the foundation of all culture.

Four Old Greeks.

By Jennie Hall. Illustrated by Raymond Perry. Cloth, 12mo, 60 cents.

Miss Hall has told in this volume the story of Herakles, Alkestis, Dionysius, and Achilles in a simple, graphic way, splendidly adapted to boys and girls. In their interpretation of Greek life, their dramatic quality, their crisp and picturesque style, the stories are noteworthy. The book has a Greek cover design, a Greek title page, with Greek head-and-tail pieces, and fifty pen-and-ink illustrations from Greek sources.

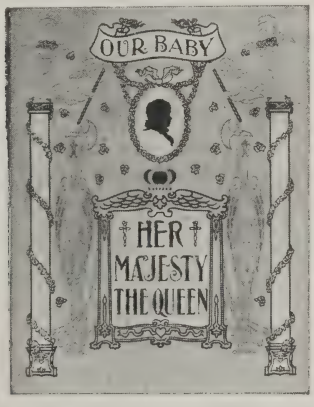
Freckles and Tan.

By Roland C. Bowman. An Illustrated Book of Humorous Verse. Cloth, 12mo, 50 cents.

To one who has not forgotten his childhood days this volume will come as a happy surprise. The spirit of the book is suggested by its title, and the humor and pathos of youth breathe from every page. The spontaneity of the verse with its touches of humor and real pathos constitute its charm. Not since the days of Eugene Field has one written in verse so charmingly or with such freshness as Mr. Bowman in "Freckles and Tan."

Her Majesty the Queen.

By Ethel Elaine Barr. 4to, Cloth. Price, 75 cents.



An artistic baby book—a record of her life. Illustrated with novelty half-tones reproduced from free-hand paper cuttings—a new method of expression. Borders printed in tint. Artistic cover design. Size, 9x11 inches.

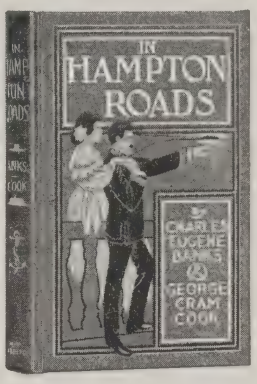
His Majesty the King.

By Ethel Elaine Barr. 4to, Cloth. Price, 75 cents.

An original baby book, uniform with "Her Majesty the Queen." Artistic cover design. Size, 9x11 inches.

In Hampton Roads.

By Charles Eugene Banks and George Cram Cook. Illustrated. 12mo, Cloth, 75 cents.



The fascinating and dramatic romance is adroitly connected with the battle between the Monitor and the Merrimac in Hampton Roads.

It is not too much to say that no single event in American history was decisive of greater issues than was the struggle between these floating iron-clad engines of war. It changed the character of naval warfare for all nations and for all time. It virtually decided the issue of the American Civil War. And that war decided, forever, a question left unsettled through all the foregoing events in our national development, the question, whether a state or any number of states could collectively nullify the Federal Constitution and secede from the Union.

In the Shadow of the Pyramids.

By Col. Richard Henry Savage. 12mo. Cloth. Price, 75 cents.

The story is full of incident, rapid action and wonderful perils and escapes, just as are all stories by this writer. It is a fascinating tale and contains a good deal of political history mingled with its love and tragedy. The one who begins its reading will be likely to continue through to the end.

Honeymoon and Other Poems, The.

By S. H. M. Byers. 12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Price, $1.00.

A dainty volume of "Love Poems" by a well-known western writer. Major Byers' earlier volumes of poems, "The Happy Isles" and "The March to the Sea," enjoyed wide popularity. A critic has said of his style and verse, that they are exceedingly felicitous and marked by an exquisite verbal music not surpassed by the masters of English verse.

In the Swim.

By Richard Henry Savage. Cloth. Price, 75 cents.

"This is 'a story of currents and undercurrents in gayest New York,' told with spirit and dash, and with an art that bears the reader along easily and holds his interest. There is much plotting and counterplotting, and the story is well worked out."

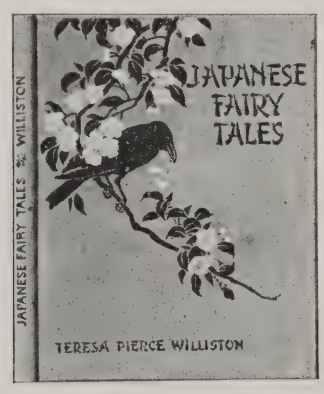
Jarl the Neatherd.

By H. Escott-Inman. Cloth, 12mo, 60 cents.

A fascinating fairy story written in the author's most charming style. It is a tale of the sturdy old warriors of ancient Norway the sea kings of their day. It is delightful, creepy reading for children, full of fights, and giants, and bears, and all manner of monsters who lived in the good old times. Some of these old warriors were grand heroes, too, brave true soldiers. The moral of the story is of the best, but does not spoil the reading of the story for the youths.

Japanese Fairy Tales.

By Teresa Peirce Williston. Illustrated in five colors by Sanchi Ogawa. Cloth, square, 12mo, 80 pages, 75 cents.



Among all the beautiful books that have been published since the struggle between Russia and Japan, none, we believe, is more beautiful and more strikingly unique than "Japanese Fairy Tales." Others have told of the past, the present, and the future of these most interesting little people, but Mrs. Williston went straight to their literature and found there some of the most charming little fairy tales ever told to boys and girls. Mrs. Williston has retold the stories with all the characteristic flavor and charm, all the quaintness and naiveté that pervades everything from Japan.

No effort has been spared in trying to give the book a Japanese touch. The stories themselves are the stories that Japanese mothers tell to Japanese children. The illustrations were drawn by Sanchi Ogawa, a native of Japan. Mr. Ogawa is a graduate of the Imperial Art School of Tokyo, and has a first-hand Japanese instinct as well as a knowledge of Japanese tradition. The illustrations are reproduced in five colors.

King Henry V.

By William Shakespeare. Cloth, 16mo, 50 cents. Paper, 25 cents.
A Special Acting Edition of Shakespeare's Play.

In no other play has Shakespeare attempted so bold an experiment in the dramatization of war. Nowhere else has he made so emphatic an apology for disregarding the unities of time and place, nor put forth so clear a vindication of the rights of the imagination in the romantic drama.

This edition contains a complete glossary of words and phrases, as well as comprehensive notes on each act.

King Arthur and His Knights.

By Maude L. Radford. Illustrated by Walter J. Enright. Cloth, 12mo, 60 cents.

The stories in "King Arthur and His Knights" have been collected from Sir Thomas Malory's "Morte d' Arthur" and Tennyson's "Idyls of the King."

The growing interest in Anglo-Saxon mythology and the belief that American boys and girls should become familiar with the classic stories of our early literature is largely responsible for the preparation of this volume.

The King Arthur stories embody a deep and poetic message. They are of moral value to the children of this day, for they teach the best virtues of the chivalric age; gentleness to the weak, loyalty to friends, mercy to foes. The tales help to inculcate a love of truth and courage, and show the value of discipline and unselfishness.

Last Days of Pompeii.

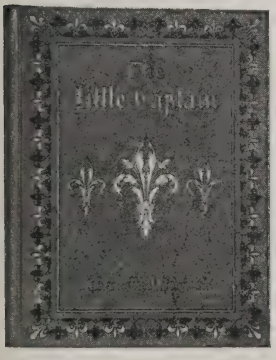
By Bulwer Lytton. Fifty-eight full-page monogravure illustrations. Special Cloth, Library Edition, $3.00. Half Calf, $5.00. Edition de Luxe, $6.00. Two Volumes, boxed.

Cover design by Miss Mary E. Phillips. The design in gold over Pompeian red is from a fresco which beautified the walls of the "House of Castor and Pollux." The obverse side has two horizontal panels, the upper one showing cupids racing in goat chariots, while the lower one is evolved from a Pompeian expression in black and white. The torch on the obverse side of the cover is symbolical of the destructive force of Vesuvius. The lettering used for the title of the work is an imitation of inscriptions found at Pompeii. On the title page is a reproduction of a mosaic border, in colors, said to have been discovered in the "House of the Faun."

The edition is printed from new plates in large type, on deckle edge paper, gilt tops.

Little Captain, The.

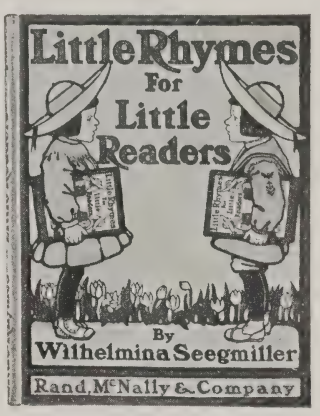
By Charlotte J. Cipriani. Illustrated, 4to, Cloth, 257 pages. Price, 75 cents.



A delightful tale of Savonarola's Florence. The author has aimed to tell this absorbing story in a manner which appeals to both old and young, but the child's point of view has been first considered. The great artistic, political, intellectual, and religious forces at work during the Renaissance were reflected in the life of a child at Florence at a time when the issues of our civilization were, one might almost say, focused there, and it is with this vital period of past history that the story deals.

Little Rhymes for Little Readers.

By Wilhelmina Seegmiller. Profusely Illustrated by Ruth M. Hallock. Cloth, Large Quarto, $1.00



In selecting a book of rhymes for children, one is invariably confronted by the problem of avoiding what is either trite or commonplace, or both. Many of the best of our children's books are marred by their poor English, by a tendency to vulgarity, or by carelessness in typography or design. Miss Seegmiller's "Little Rhymes for Little Readers" are delightfully simple, and have a touch of humor and childlikeness that will make them widely read by little children and by "children of a larger growth."

The book contains seventy-five drawings, many of them being full-page, done in Miss Hallock's most delightful manner. In point of literary value and artistic merit this is one of the most notable juveniles yet issued.

The type is large and well arranged and the book is printed in dark green ink on the best coated paper.

Little Fountain of Life, A.

By Marion Foster Washburne, Author of "Every Day Essays." Cloth, 232 pages, $1.00.

A refreshing love story full of humor and touched with pathos. The character drawing suggests "Mrs. Wiggs"; in fact, Miss 'Postrophe U might well have lived in the "cabbage patch." The scene of the story is laid in a Chicago "settlement," where the heroine discovers a little fountain of life, which wins back her health, her sanity, and, incidentally, her lost lover. It is a book that will give much pleasure, not only because of its delightful character drawing, but because of its wholesome romance.

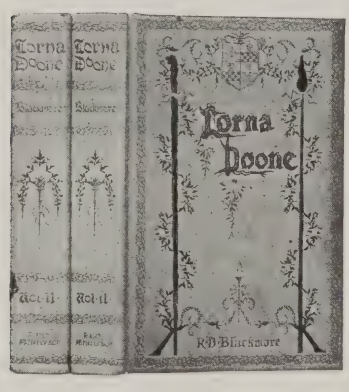
Lorna Doone.

By R. D. Blackmore. Large 12mo. Cloth, boxed. Price, $1.25. Single Volume. Illustrated.

The handsomest edition of this most popular classic ever published at so low a price. The beautiful artistic cover and the superb illustrations make it a particularly attractive book for gift purposes.

Lorna Doone.

By R. D. Blackmore. Cloth, $3.00. Half Calf, $5.00. Edition de Luxe, $6.00.



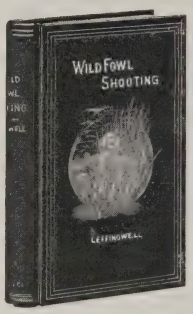
One of the accepted classics of the nineteenth century is Blackmore's delightful story of Lorna Doone. In this edition we have prepared a special two-volume set which is particularly attractive for gift purposes. It is printed in large type from new plates on deckle-edged paper, with a gilt top and attractive binding.

The illustrations in this edition make it absolutely unique and unusually attractive. They consist of more than forty full-page monogravure plates printed in sepia, and illustrate almost every section of the Land of the Doones. The originals of these illustrations were collected at great expense by Miss Mary E. Phillips, and reproduce with absolute fidelity the setting of this famous story.

The cover design is printed in four colors, and is symbolical of the spirit and the characters of the story. Surmounting the title of the book are the arms of the House of Lorne; on the left is Sir John Ridd's staff, on the right a distaff representing Lorna; below is the torch of Hymen, and about the whole is a border of ivy, signifying matrimony. The design is held together by clusters of English wild roses. On the back of the book is the coat of arms given to Sir John Ridd by the queen of James II.

Wild Fowl Shooting.

By William Bruce Leffingwell. Handsomely illustrated. Cloth, 8vo, $1.50. Half Morocco, $3.00.. Full Morocco, gilt edges, $4.50.



With one exception, no American has ever attempted to write a book exclusively on the subject of wild fowl shooting, so that this book, dealing particularly with the game of our inland waters, supplies a long felt want. Mr. Leffingwell is an acknowledged authority in woodland craft. His practical suggestions are invaluable to the hunter while his anecdotes and genuine nature studies make a book very interesting to the general reader.

Merchant Prince of Cornville.

By Samuel Eberly Gross. Cloth, 12mo. Price, 75 cents.

Samuel Eberly Gross.

A genuine comedy, rendered in poetry that is more than passable, and containing humor that is natural and irresistible.

"It will have an honored place in my library." — Hon. Lyman J. Gage, Secretary U. S. Treasury.

"I read the 'Merchant Prince of Cornville' with much interest and was charmed with its literary excellence and humor."— Judge A. T. Clearwater, Kingston, N. Y.

Mayville Class Abroad, The.

By E. M. Cobb. Cloth, 8vo. Illustrated. Price, 50 cents.

A series of letters written by members of the Mayville High School class while abroad. The letters cover a tour through Europe and Palestine. Not over the beaten paths of the globe trotter, but into the interior and by-places of the countries visited. It brings to the reader a new view-point of the marvelous beauties of the Holy Land.

Mexican Vistas.

By Harriott Wight Sherratt. Profusely illustrated. 12mo, Cloth, $1.50. Paper, 50 cents.

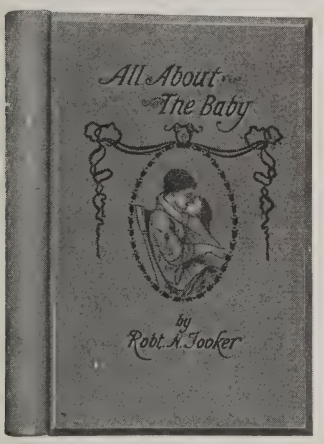
Harriott Wight Sherratt.

This is a story of a journey through Mexico, wherein are given charming descriptions of out-of-the-way places, scenery, customs, people, and things unfamiliar to the general reader, set forth in an entertaining manner. Mrs. Sherratt's keen observations are on everything she saw and experienced, and her bright and vivacious style of writing combine to a delightful story of the land.

All About the Baby.

By Dr. Robert N. Tooker. Illustrated with half-tones and colored plates.
12-mo, cloth, illustrated.....1.50

To meet the demand for a less expensive edition, this work, which has been out of print for three years, has been carefully revised and published in cheaper binding. It is considered one of the best works on the subject on the market, and at a popular price should find a ready sale by booksellers generally.



The author, who was formerly a prominent physician of Chicago, treats the subject in a popular yet scientific manner.

Modern Art Creations.

English Linen Cloth Binding, Gilt Edges, in Box, $15.00. Full Leather Binding, Richly Ornamented, in Box, $20.00.

Edition De Luxe. Genuine Morocco, Exquisitely Embossed, Inside of Covers Silk-Lined, in Box, $30.00.

Imperial Quarto (13x15 inches). Weighs 13 pounds, 8 ounces.

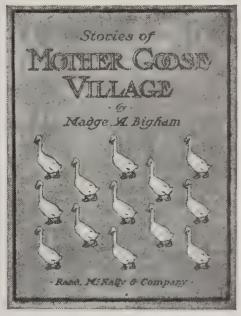
A volume of 239 Artotype Engravings of the most noted modern paintings of every land, selected with the purpose of illustrating the work of all schools and every phase of the art of to-day. Interleaved with 239 pages of descriptive, critical, and biographical text, by Michael Straus, lately Royal Art Commissioner for the Kingdom of Belgium.

The broad scope and beauty of this sumptuous volume is quite unparalleled, and in its production expense has not been spared.

The selection of subjects for reproduction, the text, the engravings, and the binding, are all the work of men of the highest eminence in their respective spheres.

Mother Goose Village.

By Madge L. Bigham. Illustrated in colors by Ella S. Brison. Large quarto, 196 pages, 75 cents.



It is quite possible that Mother Goose Village is not on any map, yet after reading Miss Bigham's charming account of the things that happened there, we are ready to believe in its existence. She tells us all about "Polly Flinder's Apron," "Tommy Grace's Party," "Simple Simon's Silken Coat," "Little Miss Muffet's Valentine," and, best of all, about the "Schoolmaster's Pie."

Children delight in discovering old friends in new situations, and this book will prove a perennial joy. The book is printed in four colors in the flat poster style, and will be a standard juvenile as long as Mother Goose is a part of our children's literature.

New Hamlet, The.

By William Hawley Smith, Author of "The Evolution of Dodd" and "The Promoters." Cloth, 50 cents.

The most original, unique, up-to-date, and altogether out-of-the-ordinary book of the season.

The plays of "Hamlet" and "Romeo and Juliet" have been cleverly interwoven, with all the tragic element in both left out. Hamlet marries Juliet and Romeo is wedded to Ophelia. The style of the work is genuinely Shakespearean, at once scholarly and racy. The dialogue is brimful of humor, satire, quips, and gibes of the most modern kind, yet there is not a line in it that would make the judicious grieve. It is a book that "all sorts and conditions of men" (and women, too) will read and laugh over.

"I will not pretend to tell how much I have enjoyed The New Hamlet—the new and old play. We have all laughed and laughed over it and have taken moral and practical lessons from it, which will bear fruit in our lives, I hope.

"It is at its best when read aloud, and we have had it that way several times."

—Edward E. Hale.

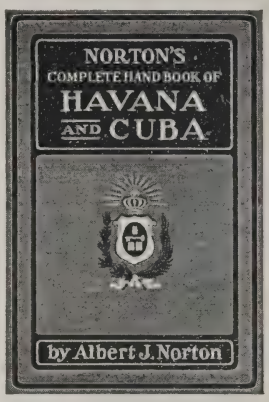
Journal of Marie Bashkirtseff.

Translated from the French by A. D. Hall. Cloth, 12mo, with Frontispiece, $1.25.

"The lesson of Marie Bashkirtseff's Journal may be summed up in this: It is a truthful exhibition of the passions and ambitions of not womankind alone, but of mankind in general. The Marie who is thus disclosed as a bird beating its wings against the bars of a cage is not an isolated case, but a type of the struggling multitude who are fighting the battles of life in our own midst. It is something gained to know that one of the number, fired with an extraordinary resolve, beset with temptations on every hand, burdened far beyond an ordinary strength, fought fiercely for glory, and although wounded often and sore, the record of her life laid before us as an open book contains so little that may not be forgiven and so much that is good."

Norton's Hand-Book of Havana and Cuba.

By Albert J. Norton. Illustrated. Cloth, 12mo. Price, $1.00.



An invaluable work for the tourist, settler and investor, and containing a vast fund of information for the general reader. A complete description of the resources of Cuba, its government under Spain, and under the United States; its judicial and school systems; the capacity of people for self government. The many attractions of beautiful Havana are set forth in an interesting manner. A specially engraved map of Havana accompanies the book.

Owl and the Woodchuck, The.

By William Harold Neidlinger. Illustrated by Walter Bobbett. Boards. Cloth Back. Price, 50 cents.

This is a nonsense story interspersed with bits of musical jingle and pictures of a whimsical attractiveness. Mr. Owl's song of spring and the woodchuck's jolly ballad of the silly farmer and his horse are set to gay little tunes with a tripping rhythm and a fascinating accompaniment. The woodchuck is the same mysterious animal that crawls out of his hole on Candlemas day, February 2nd, and looks at his shadow to see if spring is on the way. For all that, he is a nonsensical woodchuck, for he goes on a journey to ask Mr. Owl who is this Mr. Spring that everybody is talking about, because the woodchuck could see his own shadow? The owl does not explain himself, and the two friends part company, each convinced of the wonderful wisdom of the other.

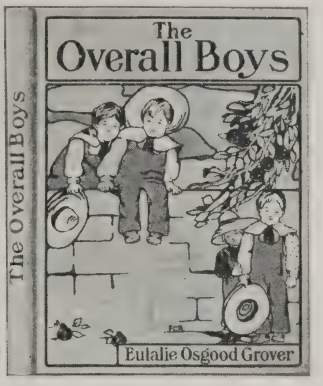
Overall Boys, The.

Text by Eulalie Osgood Grover, author of The Sunbonnet Babies' Book. Illustrations by Bertha L. Corbett, who originated the famous Sunbonnet Babies. Price, 75 cents.



"The Overall Boys" is in every way as attractive as the famous Sunbonnet Babies' Book and will be just as popular. The illustrations are beautifully printed in colors and the type is large and clear. It is the story of the rollicking adventures of four happy little boys, with Molly and May of sunbonnet fame joining in some of their games.

Parliamentary Lessons.

By Urquhart Lee. With an Indorsement by Hon. Thomas B. Reed. Cloth, Price, $1.00.

A hand-book of common parliamentary law arranged in eight lessons, making a complete course of instruction. Only the most simple forms are used but every question pertaining to the conducting of a meeting is fully explained. An invaluable work for the student or the novice called upon to preside over deliberative bodies.

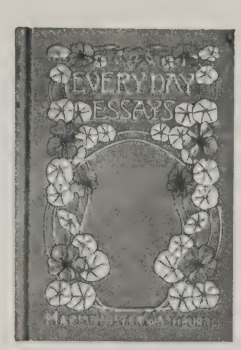
Unknown Life of Jesus Christ.

By Nicolas Notovitch. Cloth, 12mo, $1.00.

This work presents much curious information about the life of the Man of Galilee Portions of it are said to have been copied from an original manuscript discovered by the author in the Buddhist monasteries of India.

Every Day Essays.

By Marion Foster Washburne, Author of "A Little Fountain of Life." Illustrated by Ruth Mary Hallock. Cloth, 12mo, $1.25.



This is a volume of genial, buoyant, and sane observations upon everyday life. The headings of some of the chapters are: Every-Morning's Comedy, Mother and Child, An Irresponsible Ramble, The Day When Everything Is Wrong, Coming Down in the World, Aunt Catherine's Busy Day, and Types of Childhood. The book is elaborately illustrated by Miss Hallock, with pictures printed in sepia.

Prince of the House of David, The.

By J. H. Ingraham. Over thirty full-page illustrations in half-tone, and cover design, in four colors. Two volumes, Cloth, boxed, $2.00. Two volumes, half Calf, $5.00. Two volumes, Edition de Luxe, $6.00.

Among the many books treating of the life and actions of our Saviour, there is none that equals Mr. Ingraham's "Prince of the House of David." Told in a language that is beautiful in its simplicity, the story covers a period of three years and six months, embracing all the events of the life of John the Baptist, and of Jesus of Nazareth to the day of His ascension into heaven. Printed on deckle-edge paper, gilt tops, and containing over thirty half-tone pictures, illustrative of the people and scenes of biblical times, this book is a triumph of the printers' and binders' art, and is well worthy a place on the shelves of every library.

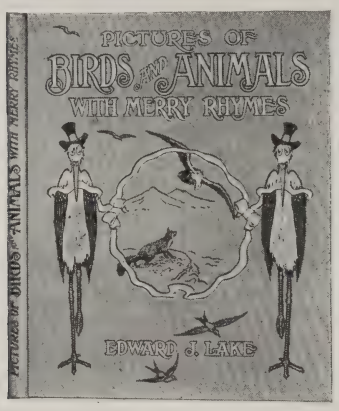
Pictures of Birds and Animals, with Merry Rhymes.

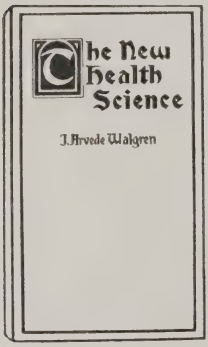
By Edward J. Lake, Professor of Art and Design, University of Illinois. Large quarto, size 9½x11½ inches. Price, $1.00.



At last here is a juvenile book which sets a new standard of excellence both in the character of its illustrations and in the beautiful manner in which it is printed. The pictures, both of wild and domestic animals, are reproduced from drawings by Edward J. Lake, Professor of Art and Design of the University of Illinois. They are so true to nature that the different denizens of the field and forest seem almost animated with life. The illustrations are printed in two-tone photo brown ink, with ornamental border designs on every page. The pictures are accompanied with many rhymes, and each picture and rhyme is presented in a way to instruct as well as entertain.

The New Health Science.

By J. Arvede Walgren. Tall 12 mo, cloth, stamped in colored ink and gold, gold top, $1.00. Presentation Edition, bound in mottled calf. Stamped in gold, gold top, $1.50.



This work by a new author takes up in an alluring way the secret of health and happiness. The teaching and the line of thought are altogether wholesome. The argument is in behalf of self-control, cheerfulness, and the cleanly life.

Wings and Stings.

By Agnes McClelland Daulton. Cloth, 12mo, 208 pages, 60 cents.

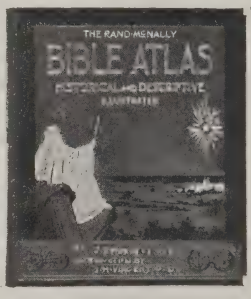
This little book has been written with but one object in view the bringing of the child near to Nature's heart. Every effort has been made to give to dry scientific facts the breath of out-of-doors. Believing that this can be done only through the story form, the bees, ants, birds, and blossoms have been made to tell their own life histories.

The book will bring to the boys and girls a vision of green fields, leafy forests, sunny meadows, and running brooks. It will make one hear the buzzing of bees, the song of birds, and breathe the fragrance of the clover.

The book is profusely illustrated with more than two-hundred pen and ink marginal drawings by the author. Altogether, this is one of the most attractive books on nature study for children. It is not a volume of scientific essays, but a series of dramatic stories giving the life history of the different insects.

Rand-McNally Bible Atlas, The. Historical and Descriptive.

By J. L. Hurlbut, D. D., with an introduction by J. H. Vincent, D. D. Illustrated. Size, 10x12 1/2 inches. 158 pages. Cloth, $2.75.



Especially prepared for the use of students and teachers of the Bible, and for Sunday-School instruction, containing maps, plans, review charts, colored diagrams, and illustrated with accurate views of the principal cities and localities known to Bible history. By Rev. J. L. Hurlbut, D. D., Associate Editor International Sunday-school Lesson Commentary, Superintendent of Normal Department Chautauqua Assembly, etc., with an introduction by Rev. J. H. Vincent, D. D., Director of the Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle, etc.

A valuable feature of the work is its maps illustrating the great empires of the ancient world: The world and the Bible lands, the Old Testament world, the empire of Chedorlaomer, the empire of Rameses II, the oriental world of the age of David, the Assyrian Empire, the empire of Nebuchadnezzar and its surroundings, the Persian Empire, B. C. 536-330; the division of Alexander's Empire, the New Testament world.

New half-tone illustrations, together with many valuable revisions in the text, are embodied in the new edition, thus enhancing the value of the work.

A complete index at the end of the book contains a list of all places named in the Bible.

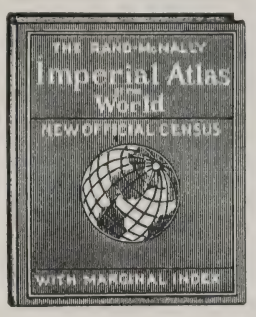
Printed matter relating to history, area, physical features, forestry, climate, agriculture, live stock, fisheries, manufactures, commerce, minerals, populations, railways, legal government, education, politics, etc. Designed to answer the demand for an atlas in a compact and convenient form. Four hundred pages of handsome maps, statistics and descriptions. Size, 3½x5¾ inches.

Rand-McNally Imperial Atlas of the World, The.

Size, 12x14 inches. Retail Price, Cloth, Colored Edges, $1.75.



The Rand-McNally atlases and maps are unrivalled in workmanship and subject matter by any similar publications in the United States. In consideration of this fact, the purchaser will be interested to know that the maps used in the Imperial Atlas are in every way the most satisfactory of their size and scale that we have thus far produced. The Imperial Atlas contains one hundred and fifty-eight pages of large scale colored maps, of each state and territory and of the principal cities of the United States; of the continents and their subdivisions, and of the provinces of Canada. It also contains new and accurate maps of Porto Rico, the Philippines, the Hawaiian Islands, etc. In addition to these maps the atlas contains colored plates showing the comparative distance of the planets from the sun, and the comparative size of the sun as seen from the planets, and vice versa; colored plates representing the phases of the moon, the theory of the tides, of the seasons and eclipses. The population of states, territories and counties, and of the cities, towns, boroughs and villages that appear in the latest official census of the United States are also given, together with the statistics indicating the value of foreign commerce, the imports and exports of the United States from 1852 to 1899, in millions of dollars. The atlas is equipped with a ready reference marginal index upon all the maps. As a reference book for the desk and the library the Imperial Atlas is unique.

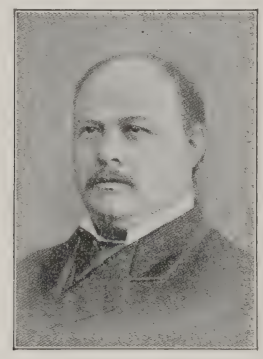
Reminiscences of William Wetmore Story.

By Mary E. Phillips. Illustrated. Cloth, 12mo, Gilt Top. Price, $1.75.

Perhaps we cannot better describe the scope and purpose of this charming book than by giving the title in full as it appears on the title page. Miss Phillips describes her book in this way: "Reminiscences of William Wetmore Story, the American sculptor and author, being incidents and anecdotes chronologically arranged, together with an account of his associations with famous people and his principal works in literature and sculpture."

Reed's Parliamentary Rules.

By Hon. Thomas B. Reed. Cloth, 75 cents; full seal grain flexible leather. $1.25.



Thomas B. Reed.

The Official Manual of Parliamentary Law.

A manual of parliamentary Law and Rules for the conduct of meetings, wh ch will be found to be invaluable to all those connected in any way with public life or corporate bodies, being no less necessary to the director of a village school or club than to the legislator or president of some great corporation.

"I commend the book most highly."—Wm. McKinley, President United States.

"The necessity for such a code is apparent."—John J. Ingalls, Ex-Senator.

Romola.

By George Eliot. Two volumes, boxed, 8vo, Cloth, $3.00. Half Calf, $5.00.

This is a special gift edition which has been prepared at great expense. The book is printed from new plates, and is elaborately illustrated with over fifty full-page monogravure plates printed in sepia. These include reproductions of famous paintings, photographs of historic scenes and portraits of persons related to the time and place of the story. These were collected largely from European sources and arranged for this edition by Miss Mary E. Phillips. The cover design, which is also by Miss Phillips, is Florentine in character and suggestive of the splendor of Florence at the time of the story. Altogether, this is one of the most attractive editions of George Eliot's famous story.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

By Harriet Beecher Stowe. Illustrated. Cloth, 12mo. Price, $1.25.

An entirely new edition of this great classic, printed in pleasing type upon deckle-edged paper, with gilt top. The binding is unique and striking, and the full-page illustrations, of which there are thirty, add fresh charm to the story. An engaging and little-known portrait of Mrs. Stowe serves as frontispiece. This elegant edition is sure to be a favorite.

Viking Tales.

By Jennie Hall. Illustrated by Victor R. Lambdin. Cloth, 12mo, 60 cents.

"Viking Tales" is another volume of classic stories retold for young people. It is more, however, than a book of legends, for it contains many of the most attractive accounts of the early explorations and adventures of the Norsemen, ending with the discovery of America by Lief Ericsen. The Norsemen were the most romantic people of the Northern seas, and the stories of their adventures, expeditions, and courageous fighting, are among the most fascinating classic literature.

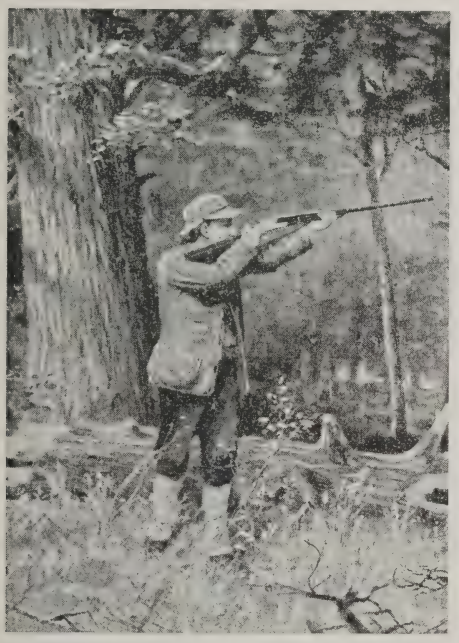
Sense and Satire.

By William L. Breyfogle. Illustrated. Cloth, 12mo. Price, $1.50.

This is a book of short verses, by Doctor Breyfogle, wherein is represented the nineteenth century philosophy of life as it is understood by the different types of mind with which the author has become acquainted. The volume is handsomely illustrated by John W. Breyfogle.

Shooting on Upland, Marsh and Stream.

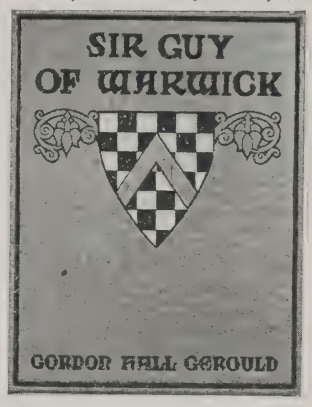
Edited by W. B. Leffingwell. Profusely Illustrated. Cloth 8vo, $1.50; Half Morocco, $3.00; Full Morocco, $4.50.



The different articles are written by seventeen well-known American sportsmen, among whom are such pleasant writers on shooting topics as T. S. Van Dyke, Amory B. Starr, George W. Baines, and C. R. Tinan. Each writer has selected the certain game bird or field topic with which he was most familiar, and the detail of each article shows intimate knowledge of the subject treated. The articles are in narrative style and the reader accompanies the writer on an imaginary shooting trip especially planned in quest of the bird selected. The description includes the birds' flights, habits, resorts, and treats of the scientific method of shooting ducks, prairie chickens, grouse, quail, snipe, wild turkeys, wild geese, plover, etc. It is a book in which old sportsmen will find many realistic scenes, and from which young ones will be able to gain a fair knowledge of the habits and methods of successful pursuit of the game birds.

Sir Guy of Warwick.

By Gordon Hall Gerould. Illustrated by Bror Nordfelt. Cloth, 12mo, $0.75.



To the lover of romance, possibly the most delightful period in the history of the world is to be discovered in the eleventh and twelfth centuries. That was a time when the feudal system was reaching the perfection of its development, when the highways of England, France and Italy swarmed with knights in search of adventure, when valor and true love were the social ideals. Mr. Gerould has rendered into pure and simple modern English one of the purest and sweetest romances of the best days of chivalry.

Shay's Telegraphic Cipher Code.

By Frank Shay. Full Flexible Morocco Binding. Price, $5.00.

A telegraphic code for the use of shippers, merchants, stock operators, stock brokers, miners, real estate dealers and business men generally.

The design of the present work is to supply a cipher book suitable for the use of business men and women. It is frequently of importance to transmit messages with absolute secrecy. This the simple arrangement of the present code will enable the inexperienced individual to do. Moreover, the use of the cipher in the transmission of long messages results in great economy. For instance, instead of telegraphing, "If we do not hear from you at once, we shall consider the business refused," the word "fallowist" will suffice between owners of Shay's Telegraphic Cipher Code. The book is adequately supplied with index, key, etc., and will be found of value by everyone in business.

Squirrel and the Crow, The.

By William Harold Neidlinger. Illustrated by Walter Bobbett. Paper. Price, 25 cents.

Beautiful melodies are chosen to assist in telling the interesting story of "The Squirrel and the Crow," and clever sketches, large and small, are profusely scattered throughout the volume.

Animal stories enchant all children and the picturesque situations, comic and serious, in which Mr. Owl, Mr. Dicky Duck, Mr. Bullfrog, Mr. Rabbit and the Monkey are entangled, are delightfully real. Color adds greater charm to Mr. Bobbett's excellent illustrations. A good story is told in beautiful, clear type from the entrance of Mr. Crow to his mad effort to escape from the infuriated Miss Squirrel, and her friends, which holds the child's breathless attention.

Sunbonnet Babies' Book.

By Eulalie Osgood Grover. Illustrated with nearly 100 drawings in four colors by Bertha L. Corbett. Cloth, large quarto, 75 cents.

The Sunbonnet Babies promise to take a place beside Kate Greenaway's children and Palmer Cox's brownies. They have traveled from one end of the country to the other on cards or valentines, but this is the only book written about them or illustrated by Miss Corbett. The fact that it is already in its seventy-fifth thousand suggests something of its popularity with little children. It is a book about Molly and May, two Sunbonnet Babies, who do all the things, and see all the sights, that real girls and boys do and see at the happy age of five or six.

The book is printed in large type and is illustrated throughout in four colors. The pictures lead irresistibly to the text, and the book has become one of the first to be placed in children's hands when they begin to read. Altogether, it is one of the daintiest picture books for children that has appeared in recent years.

Songs of the Open.

Words by Mary Grant O'Sheridan. Music by W. C. E. Seeboeck. Border decorations by E. B. Comstock and G. M. Hurst. Size, 9x11¾ inches, 108 pages, 31 songs. Price $1.00.

A book of Children's Nature Songs. Both words and music are original compositions. The composer's and author's names are sufficient guarantee of the high character of the work.

Stony Lonesome.

By Arthur J. Russell. With two hundred marginal drawings by Ruth M. Hallock. Cloth, 12mo, 75 cents.

This is a downeast story of a boy's town. The doings of "Pewee" Jackson, "Shorty" Hitchcock, "Mealey" Johnson, and the other members of the "gang" are told with fresh and delightful humor. Every one who has been a boy (and would like to be one) will laugh and grow young over this book.

"Stony Lonesome" is a sleepy New England village inhabited by a "gang" of boys, with here and there a parent or an "Uncle Ellery" to give a background to their pranks and plottings.

"Uncle Ellery," one of the "grown ups" of the book is the town oracle and coffin-maker. He is a philosopher and a staunch friend of the boys. In fact, we suspect he is only a gray-haired boy himself, for he says that "a boy is never grown up until it hurts him to fall out of a tree."

The marginal drawings by Miss Hallock, which enliven every page of the book, are as full of fun as the book itself.

Sword and Cross.

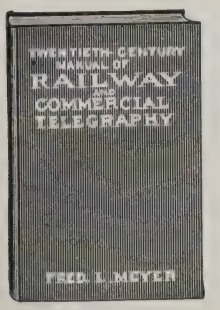
By Charles Eugene Banks, author of "Quiet Music," "Where Brooks Go Softly," etc. 12mo, Cloth. $1.25.

This is a volume of poems interpreting the silent strength, the quiet beauty, and the deep significance of nature in her gentler moods. They also touch the heart of humanity with a master hand, whether to expound its mysteries or to minister sympathy, and comfort.

Charles Eugene Banks.

Twentieth Century Manual of Railway and Commercial Telegraphy, The.—4th Edition. Revised and Enlarged.

By Fred L. Meyer. Illustrated with numerous cuts and engravings. Cloth, 12mo, $1.00.



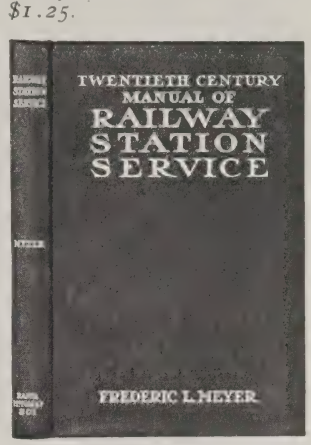
A thoroughly practical and instructive work on telegraphy. The most complete, comprehensive and thoroughly up-to-date book of its kind on the market. It embraces all kinds of practical train orders, railway and commercial messages, phrases, universal abbreviations, punctuations and other compilations of vital importance to both student and operator, covering, as it does, a great many branches of railway and commercial business unknown to the average operator, who has not had an opportunity to work on more than one or two roads.

"The Twentieth Century Manual of Railway and Commercial Telegraphy contains many practical points, and I am glad to see its publication as an aid to both railway and commercial telegraphers.

"I consider this work a distinct advantage to students of telegraphy, and I am glad to recommend it."—F. H. Tubbs, Superintendent of Western Union Telegraph Company, Chicago, Ill.

Twentieth Century Manual of Railway Station Service.

By Fred L. Meyer. Illustrated, Cloth 8vo. Price, $1.25.

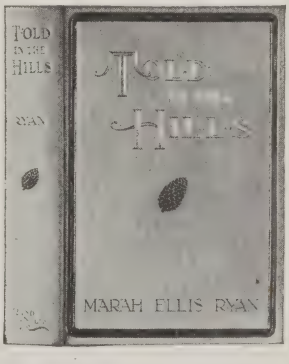


Just as the title indicates, this work covers every department of railway station service in a thoroughly practical and instructive way. The author has had a wide association with railroad work, and has supplemented his own knowledge by seeking assistance and information from men who have had from thirty to forty years' experience in station service.

Printed from large, clear type on extra heavy paper, and substantially bound in a rich, dark blue ribbed cloth, 8vo, size 6x9 inches. Illustrated with full-page facsimile reproductions of railroad forms and reports.

Told In the Hills.

By Marah Ellis Ryan. Holiday edition 12mo, Cloth. Beautifully illustrated, colored frontispiece. Boxed. Price, $1.50



A demand for a more substantial and artistic edition of this absorbing story of the great West has induced the publishers to present a gift edition illustrated with numerous full-page half-tones reproduced from drawings by John C. Gilbert, with frontispiece in colors. The volume is beautifully printed from large clear type on laid paper. Bound in a rich shade of light green cloth, stamped in gold and colored ink. Gold top. Each volume packed in separate box.

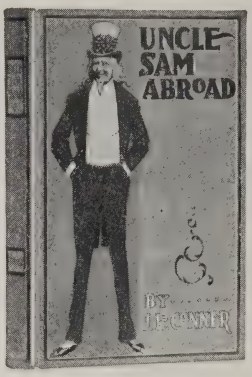
True Bear Stories.

By Joaquin Miller, author of "Songs of the Sierras," etc. Illustrations in black and white, and in colors, 12mo, Cloth. $1.00.

Mr. Miller has tried to show the bear as he is, not the traditional bear of the story-books. Bears have one thing in common—they are never cruel. They are generally full of homely, careless kindness, and are fond of music, as well as of honey, blackberries, nuts, fish, and other delicacies of the savage feast. The author of this book has brought the distinctive features of the different bears before the reader so as to instruct as well as to interest children and children's parents in the simple realities of bear life.

Uncle Sam Abroad.

By J. E. Conner. Cloth, 12mo, $1.25.



Lawyers, professors, teachers, and students will find in this book, in interesting and convenient form a complete treatment of a subject everybody wants to know about. It presents something after the manner of a series of University Extension lectures, information in regard to the diplomatic and consular service of the United States.

The book is cleverly written, is an entertaining and informing volume, and one which may be read by old and young with both pleasure and profit.—Toledo Blade.

JOSEPH MEDILL PATTERSON'S

REBELLION

Probably no book in recent years created the sensation which ollowed the publication of Mr. Patterson's "A Little Brother f the Rich."

his story was given a stage presentation and then two other heatrical productions—"The Fourth Estate" and "Dope"—aused thousands of persons to consider Mr Patterson an uthor of high aim and purpose. His previous novel was a iessage to the public concerning the idle rich and it made vast impression.

EBELLION is another message along entirely different nes, but calculated to arouse even more public interest than ny of his previous work.

Standard novel size. Illustrations from special paintings by Walter Dean Goldbeck.

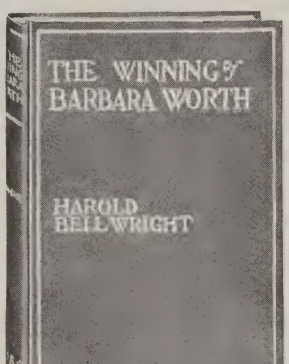
Books by Harold Bell Wright

Published by The Book Supply Company, Chicago
Sole Selling Agents to the trade: The Reilly & Britton Co.

Oregon Journal, Portland—"It is this almost clairvoyant power of reading the human soul th made Mr. Wright's books among the most remarkable works of the present age."



The Winning of Barbara Wo

First edition 175,000 copies.

A story of the Great Colorado Desert. Full of ac big incidents and the Spirit of the West. The note of the story is the reclamation of man thr the reclamation of the desert. It is more lik style of The Shepherd of the Hills than anything Mr. Wright has written, but in this story the pro and the incidents are much bigger.

This is Mr. Wright's first novel since The Calli Dan Matthews, and the greatest of his life work.

The publishers sent America's foremost illustr Mr. F. Graham Cootes, across the continent from York to California to make on the scenes of the the greatest pictures for this, the greatest book o year.

Uniform in binding and price with Mr. Wri other novels.

Chicago Evening Post—"Unquestionably the author knows the life with which he deals."
New York World—"Mr. Wright's books are wholesome in the best sense."
Chicago Examiner—"A skillfully mapped battle-field of human souls, relieved, it is true, by h but, for the most part, pathetic, and at times brooded over by the mystery of spirit-strength close, never-ending tragedy."

The Shepherd of the Hills

Illustrations by Cootes. 352 pages. 12mo. Cloth, $1.50

New York Times—"There are many bits of excellent description in the course of the story, and mosphere as fresh and sweet and free from modern grime as one would breathe on the Ozark themselves."

That Printer of Udell's

Illustrations by Gilbert. 348 pages. 12mo. Cloth, $1.50

Chicago Tribune—"Done to the life." Denver Times—"A tale of exalted ideal Nashville American—"It is human to the very core."

New York Tribune—"It embodies the aspiration, civic and moral, of the present day."
Chicago News—"Beautiful both in language and in sentiment."
Buffalo Evening News—"It represents dreams of artistic magnificence."
Philadelphia Sunday Dispatch—"The secret of his power is the same God-given secret that in Shakespeare and upheld Dickens."
Grand Rapids Herald—"It is the greatest story since Bunyan's 'Pilgrim's Progress.'"
Omaha World-Herald—"It is a classic in nature and spirit and rendering."
Richmond Journal—"The language throughout is exquisite—such as one might expect of Henr Dyke."
Wilmington News—"It is an insight into the temple of truth to be found in every man's life looks for it."
Birmingham Ledger—"It is beautiful in its wording, almost poetry. It is beautiful in its bind red and gold."

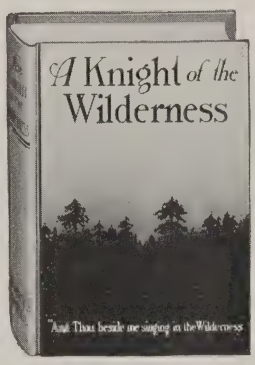
A Knight of the Wilderness



A Stirring Novel of the Open

By Oliver Marble Gale and Harriet Whee

Illustrated in color by Ivin Ney

This is not an historical novel, but among the st characters in the book Abraham Lincoln and J son Davis figure conspicuously. There is a h gripping love story set against a backgrou thrilling adventures, in which is woven skill the bigness, the freshness, the vigor and the spi and physical courage of that early period whe Middle West was the common meeting-grou the first white settlers and the Indian warri Chief Black Hawk.

The story has a forceful swing like a crisp, sweet breeze from pine fo and carries the reader with well-sustained interest through chapter chapter to a cleverly worked out denouement.

Mortimer Randolph, of Virginia, is portrayed as possessing a char and soul that make him in very truth "A Knight"—worthy to s with those of King Arthur's table round.

A Woman for Mayor

A Novel of Today

Timely and Interesting

By Helen M. Winslow

Former Editor of "The Club Woman."
Author of "Literary Boston of Today," "The President of Quex," "Concerning Polly," etc.

Illustrated by

Walter Dean Goldbeck

"A Woman for Mayor" is first of all a genuine love story of splendid merit. The fact that it is laid in an atmosphere of politics—red hot politics—serves only to strengthen the general plot. The present world-wide "suffrage" agitation—and the much-discu question as to women holding political office as a natural sequen their power to wield the ballot—makes this a most opportune story.

The story is full of excitement and plausibility. The fact that the n elected mayor marries the man who ran against her furnishes a thread which is worked out in most pleasing manner.

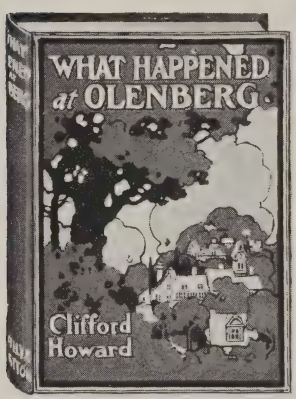
What Happened at Olenberg

A Story for Children

By

CLIFFORD HOWARD



A burlesque that will entertain children of all ages and their mothers and fathers as well. Every character is unique, from the pompous Burgomaster who holds an awful secret which is to be told on a certain day and which everybody knows before the date set for the telling, to the Town Crier whose bell dins the ears of the villagers.

In some respects the characters are as quaint as those of Dickens, but the story itself is not like his, for there is a Grand Prince who comes out of the forest to claim for his wife the owner of a certain ring—and thereby hangs a tale as different from anything Dickens ever wrote as day from night.

The eight colored pictures and many illustrations in black-and-white are the work of Emile A. Nelson at his best. They help the story to make for laughter.

Size 8vo. Beautifully printed; cloth bound, with fancy jacket in colors.

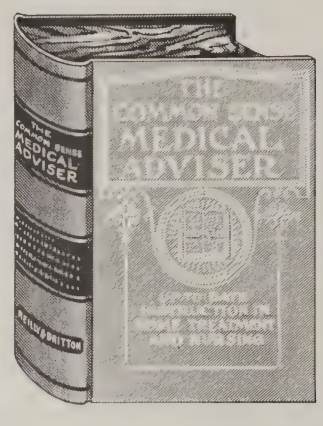
The Common Sense Medical Adviser

By Twelve Specialists

Covering the Whole Range of Home Treatment and Nursing

Edited by W. E. McVEY, B. S., M. D.



The largest and most comprehensive book of health published—strictly up-to-date in all departments. This book means A DOCTOR AND A NURSE constantly in the home, ready to be consulted at any critical moment of sudden illness or accident. Its contents cover all subjects and its advice is exactly in accord with the high class doctor of today. Each of the twelve departments was written by a specialist of renown.

NO HOME SHOULD BE WITHOUT THIS BOOK

It talks in plain home fashion in delicate terms and inoffensive manner—also tells when a Doctor should be called, for there are times when the regular family physician is necessary. But there are emergencies in every home which are fully met by this book, more often as a prevention of sickness, but frequently to allay suffering and save life.

All Diseases are Classified and the manner of diagnosis described—also what to do and how to do it. If medicine is prescribed the dose is fixed—in fact all medicines are tabulated under a Medicinal Dose List and a complete glossary defines every word likely to confuse. Diseases of Women and Children have special attention—also Chronic and General Diseases. Modern scientific advice on sanitation, disinfection, fresh air, pure water, exercise, stimulation, care of body, care of teeth—THE ART OF NURSING and first aid, all tend to make this the most dependable of home medical advisers.

THE COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER

is well illustrated with numerous accurate color plates, half-tones, drawings and diagrams. The illustrations showing the correct methods of applying tourniquets to stop bleeding are particularly plain and exceedingly valuable.

860 pages. Printed on extra paper, large type. Complete index. Glossary Materia Medica. Bound in durable buckram cloth with gold stamping side and back. Weight 4 lbs.

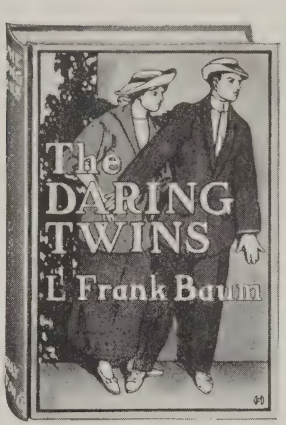
Mr. L. Frank Baum has yielded to the hundreds of requests that have been made of him by youngsters, both boys and girls, who in their early childhood read and loved his famous "Oz" books, to write a story for young folk of the ages between 12 and 18. His first offering along this new departure is

The Daring Twins

Something new in boys' and girls' literature—entirely away from the conventional.



A story of the real life of real boys and girls in a real family under real conditions.

While preparing this story Mr. Baum lived with his characters. He was determined that the book should be no fairy tale and indeed it is not. It has every element of the drama of life as it begins within the lives of children. The story is just as it should be—a mixture of the sublime and the ridiculous; the foibles and fancies of childhood, interspersed with humor and pathos.

The large demand for the books in this series is a fine tribute to the splendid wor of the author and the timeliness of his stories on a subject that is occupying so larg a share of the public notice.

The Airship Boys' Ocean Flyer

*THE AIRSHIP BOYS IN FINANCE, Or, The Flight of the Flying Cow is the fift title in this famous series. It tells how Old Brindle jumped over Niagara Falls, thi solving a big problem for the boys and thereby gaining them an audience with M
Morgan, the great financier, with whose aid The Universal Aerial Transportation C was established. BIG READING FOR BOYS!

*THE AIRSHIP BOYS' OCEAN FLYER, or, New York to London in Twelve Hou

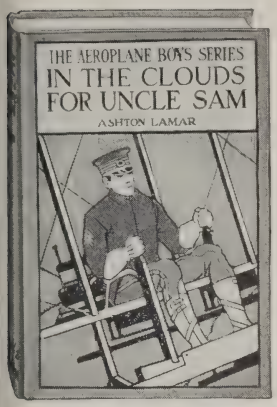
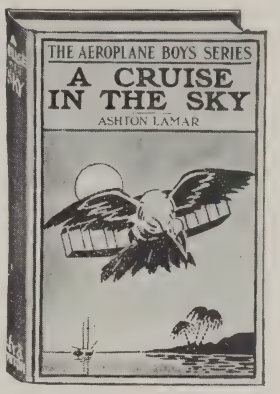
The Aeroplane Boys Series



By

ASHTON LAMAR

Six Titles



I In the Clouds for Uncle Sam
Or, Morey Marshall of the Signal Corps.

II The Stolen Aeroplane
Or, How Bud Wilson Made Good.

III The Aeroplane Express
Or, The Boy Aeronaut's Grit.

IV The Boy Aeronauts' Club
Or, Flying for Fun.

*V A Cruise in the Sky
Or, The Legend of the Great Pink Pearl.

*VI Battling the Big Horn
Or, The Aeroplane in the Rockies.

Mr. Lamar has given to each book an individual set of characters, but it is easy to see from the casual introduction of one boy character in one book to some other youthful character in another that as the series progresses all of the "Aeroplane Boys" will become more or less acquainted with each other. Like Mr. Sayler, author of "The Airship Boys," Mr. Lamar is correct in all airship details and his stories are to that extent founded upon fact.

It is safe to say that with every manual-training school, college and university experimenting with aeronautics, the American boy is thoroughly interested in books combining airship adventures. These books represent the very latest thought in boys' literature, carrying out the new idea of instructing the mind in real facts while stimulating the imagination and thinking power of the boy reader.

*VI The Boy Fortune Hunters in the South Seas

Mr. Akers' idea of what constitutes a good boys' book is finding hig favor among the boys themselves. This means that this series is n longer an experiment, but a pronounced success. The author has a knac of taking his readers into various parts of the world and giving them n only the adventure that can be found there, but also a local color whic proves to be instructive and entertaining. Each story is full of excit ment, yet clean, bright and up-to-date.

The make-up of the books is very attractive and each comes in a fanc colored jacket.

The Flying Girl

By Edith Van Dyne

Author of "Aunt Jane's Nieces" Series

A capital, up-to-the-minute story for girls and young people generally, in which the author is at her best. The story, while thrilling and full of adventure, is of that wholesome type such as parents will be glad to place in the hands of their girls. It tends toward out-of-door life, health, vigor and rosy cheeks. The youthful heroine is full of sparkling good nature, and through her adventures developes self-reliance, courage and activity which makes her an ideal type of Twentieth Century girlhood.

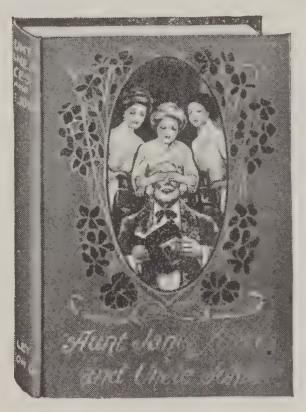
The Aunt Jane Series

Books for Girls

By Edith Van Dyne

Six Titles

I Aunt Jane's Nieces
II Aunt Jane's Nieces Abroad
III Aunt Jane's Nieces at Millville
IV Aunt Jane's Nieces at Work
V Aunt Jane's Nieces in Society
*VI Aunt Jane's Nieces and Uncle John



The launching of the sixth title in this series finds the AUNT JANE books well established with the public.

Mrs. Van Dyne's first book for girls, "Aunt Jane's Nieces," was praised as a decided forward step in girls' literature in that it chronicles the real doings of real girls in a most interesting manner. The second story, "Aunt Jane's Nieces Abroad," tells of a delightfully adventurous trip through Europe, and the third volume depicts a summer holiday of these interesting girls on a farm "at Millville." The fourth story shows them "at work" in the political arena, and in the fifth the "Nieces" make their debut into society. In the sixth volume Patsy and Beth take an automobile trip with Uncle John which turns out to be highly exciting.

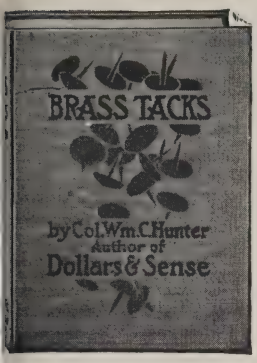
Books by Colonel William C. Hunter



Brass Tacks

By Colonel Wm. C. Hunter, author of "Dollars and Sense," etc.

The Author has this to say of BRASS TACKS: "BRASS TACKS isn't a pretty name. The name doesn't matter, anyway. It is the thing the name stands for. BRASS TACKS will stand for net concrete truth and it will help to digest and grind up the ideas that we take into our mental digestive apparatus. The writer has no strangle hold on knowledge, claims no originality, assumes no superiority and tells nothing new. He tells old things in a new way." BRASS TACKS is in every way a unique publication. It should have, if anything, a larger sale than DOLLARS AND SENSE, which reached an enormous circulation. BRASS TACKS is just the book to give away—just the book to read yourself.

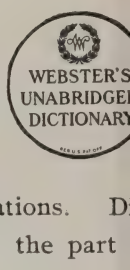
The circle trade-mark of the G. & C. Merriam Company has been advertised constantly for so long a time that the public has come to accept it as a guarantee of dictionary excellence. This circle is the means by which the public discriminates between the G. & C. Merriam Company Genuine Webster's Dictionaries and makeshift imitations. Dictionaries bearing this circle require no salesmanship on the part dealers. The public accepts them without question.

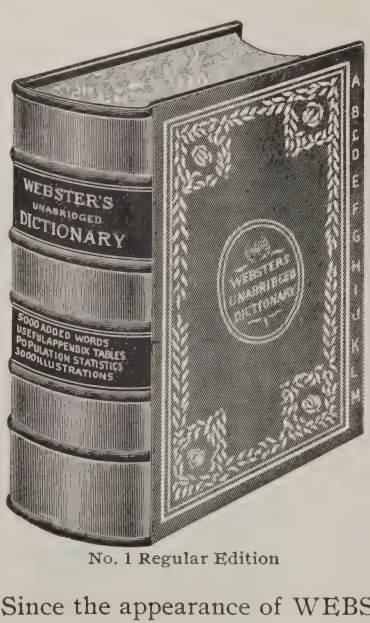


Webster's Unabridged Dictionary

Latest Editions

Published by G. & C. Merriam Co.

The Reilly & Britton Co., Selling Agents to the Trade



No. 1 Regular Edition

While Webster's International Dictionary is generally known as the leading authority in the English language, the publishers of the Webster series have recognized the necessity of popularizing the well-known Unabridged. This has been modernized and enriched by a New Supplement which brings the work well up-to-date as is evidenced by the following examples of new words now defined therein; radium, chauffeur, aeroplane, aerodrome, limousine, conferer, conservation, etc.,

Since the appearance of WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED DICTIONARY in popular form the old 1847 reprint has practically disappeared from the market. The Unabridged in its various bindings answers all purposes for those who require a large dictionary, well manufactured at a low price.

e Unabridged contains 1764 pages and over 118,000 words and meanings.
It is illustrated throughout the text with more than 3000 pictures and besides has 68 full pages of illustrations.
4 color pages displaying the arms and seals of the states and territories, arms of various nations, naval flags and pennants, the international code, and flags of the various nations.
Frontispiece of Noah Webster.
An explanatory and pronouncing vocabulary of the names of noted fictitious persons, places, etc.
New census tables of principal countries and cities of the world.
United States census for 1900.
Vocabularies of Scripture proper names, modern geographical names, common English Christian names, nicknames, etc.
2500 quotations, words, phrases, proverbs, and colloquial expressions.
Abbreviations and contractions.
Brief history of the English language.
Principals of pronunciation.
Orthography.
Rules for spelling, etc.

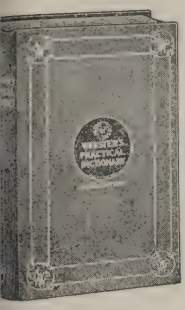
Webster's Practical Dictionary



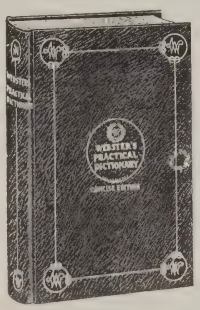
Latest Editions—Up-to-date

Authorized and Copyrighted by

G. & C. Merriam Co.

The Practical is all that its name implies—a practical dictionary of the English language, embodying the 31,465 words in practical use. While this dictionary is an abridgment of the well known Webster's Condensed Dictionary, it carries more words than any other handy sized dictionary, excepting the genuine Webster series, not to speak of its better illustrations and its definitions of later words, such as antitoxin, lyddite, chauffeur, automobile, radium, mercerized, limousine, etc. The authorship is the same as that of the Unabridged and Condensed ictionaries. Like the larger Websters, its authority is genuine and endorsed as such 7 educators. The Practical is published in three styles, designed to meet the needs the public at most reasonable prices.

Three editions as follows:



he Ideal edition contains 640 pages, including the dictionary roper with its 1200 illustrations and an appendix of 114 pages, ontaining:

AINSLIE, Peter.

¶ My Brother and I. A Brief Manual of the Principles that make for a wider Brotherhood with all Mankind. 12mo, boards..... .25

The author's little work, "God and Me," so popularly received, finds here its counterpart,—the former dealing with the individual's relation to God, this new booklet presenting with equal force our individual responsibility to our fellowmen. It is a pertinent and suggestive study for our times.

God and Me. 12mo, boards,..... ......25

AINSWORTH, Percy C.

¶ Threshold Grace. Meditations in the Psalms. 16mo, cloth..... .50

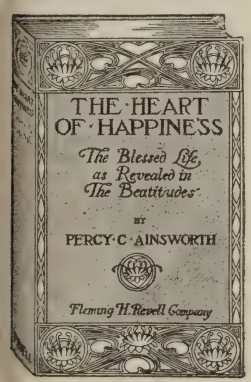
Studies in the Psalms, a subject above all others adapted to the unusual spiritual sympathy of Mr. Ainsworth. For freshness and suggestiveness that is unequalled and no student of the Psalter can neglect to study Mr. Ainsworth's method of treatment.



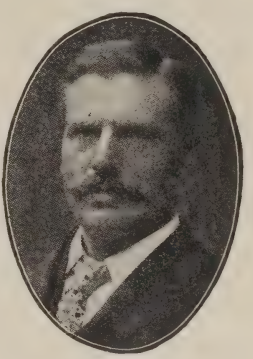
The Heart of Happiness. The Blessed Life as Revealed in the Beatitudes. Decorated in colors. 12mo, cloth, gilt top, boxed. 1.00

"We called attention recently to the book of unusual sermons by Percy C. Ainsworth, who died recently at the outset of what promised to be a great and useful career. We have now a second selection from his pulpit utterances called 'The Heart of Happiness,' made up of sermons on the Beatitudes. It has the same high qualities of spiritual insight and power of adaptation to the thoughts and needs of men."—Congregationalist.

The Pilgrim Church and Other Sermons. 12mo, cloth.....1.25

Sir Robertson Nicoll says: "Every page and almost every sentence is striking. It is above all forthright, simple and thrusting. Mr. Ainsworth's sermons have an extraordinary reality. They are sagacious and often beautiful, but they are more than that. They have each a central thought unfolding itself aud blossoming out into striking and often profound reflections. This is a book which must inevitably find its way into the hands of every preacher worthy of the name and multitudes who are not preachers will find in it the help that they need. It is truly a golden book."

AKED, Charles F., D.D.



Old Events and Modern Meanings. A Volume of Sermons. 12mo cloth, ...1.25

The first volume of Dr. Aked's American Addresses. As the New York Mail said: "His sermons prove that a really big man has come to town. They are singularly well adapted to the needs of the present day. They are short, practical, abounding in humor."

The Lord's Prayer. Its Meaning and Message To-day. 12mo, cloth.....1.00

"To understand how the model prayer of Jesus touches life at almost every part one must read such an exposition of its practical meanings as this. Dr. Aked is always fresh, and his works gleam with suggestions, but none more than this. Dr. Aked is to be thanked for drawing us back to realities. Perhaps we shall pray differently, with new meanings in our words, after we have read this book."—C. E. World.

The Courage of the Coward. International Leaders' Library. 12mo, cloth..... .50

"Dr. Aked has a freshness as of a bracing morning wind, and a brightness and color and picturesqueness in style. His diction is fine, his thoughts flow easily, a bit of humor bubbles over now and then, but through all there runs the seriousness of a man in earnest, with a message to deliver. It will do anyone good to read this. It is the manly outthinking of a real man."—The Examiner.

A LAYMAN.

¶ Five Minute Bible Readings. Introduction by Henry van Dyke. 8vo, cloth.....1.50

A wide and carefully selected collection of passages of Scripture appropriate, and arranged for, private worship at the family altar. Henry van Dyke says: "The book is meant to express and promote the spirit and practice of simple, thoughtful, helpful worship. I commend it warmly to those who do not wish to neglect in their homes the sweet and hallowed custom of united daily devotion."

ALCOCK, Deborah.

Under Calvin's Spell. A Tale of Heroic Times in Old Geneva. Illustrated, cloth..... †1.50

A historical novel of the time of Calvin and the Huguenots.

ALEXANDER, Charles M.

¶ Alexander's Gospel Songs, No. 2. Cloth binding .... .30
...Per 100, 25.00
Leatherette... .25
...Per 100, 20.00

Over a Million Sold of Alexander's Gospel Songs, No. 1

Alexander's Gospel Songs No. 1
12mo, cloth boards ..... .30
...Per 100, 25.00
12mo, Tag Boards ..... .15
...Per 100, 12.50

One who has been as influential in leading services of song as has Mr. Alexander is certainly the best judge of those hymns which tend to helpfulness in Evangelistic services. This collection has the best of the old and many of the new, all of which have been given added power under Mr. Alexander's consecrated leadership.

"Will rank high among hymn books."—Advance.

"I have seen God's Spirit move great throngs through these beautiful words and melodies."—J. WILBUR CHAPMAN.

ALLEN, Horace N., M.D.

Things Korean. 12mo, cloth, net,..... 1.25

"If you want some hours of delightful amusement, in which you will find that incidentally you are imbibing a great deal of information about that strange and interesting country and its people, you will buy the book. The book is episodical, anecdotal, and affords just that discursive and pleasant reading which everybody likes."—Toledo Blade.

ALLEN, Philip Loring.

America's Awakening. 12mo, cloth.....1.25
A striking interpretation of the moral wave as touching the average man in politics and business.

ALLEN, ROBERT, of Tippecanoe, Ind.

Letters of an Old Methodist to His Son in the Ministry. 12mo, cloth..... ... . 1.25

ANDUJAR, Manuel.

Spain of To-day from Within, With Autobiography of the Author. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth, ... 1.25.

"A work considerably different in tone and treatment from the usual book of travel. The author knows his country in timately. His narrative is candid and interesting, an authentic and entertaining comment on modern Spain and its matters of interest to the general reader—an honest inside view of a land that is particularly hard to get acquainted with."
—Cleveland Plain-Dealer.

ANDERSON, Sir Robert, K.C.B., LL.D.

Pseudo Criticism: The higher criticism and its counterfeit. 16mo, cloth..... ... ..75
An exposure by which a false system of Destructive Criticism has been discredited and almost supplanted.

The Bible and Modern Criticism. Large 8vo, cloth 1.50
"This doughty defense of the traditional theories of the Scriptures is written with the earnestness of deep conviction, in a straight-forward, dogmatic, eloquent style."
—Congregationalist.

ANGUS-GREEN.

The Cyclopedic Handbook to the Bible. An Introduction to the study of the Scriptures by the late Joseph Angus, M. A., M. D. Thoroughly revised and in part rewritten by Samuel G. Green, D. D. Popular Edition. 8vo, cloth 1.5

"In its present revised form much has been added from the gains acquired by a half-century of increasing knowledge while the original plan, with some rearrangement, remains the same. Its two divisions go into manifold details, historical, apologetic, hermeneutic, and others. With some concession to modern criticism, the general view maintained is strongly conservative."—The Outlook.

ARCTANDER, John W.

The Apostle of Alaska. The Story of William Duncan of Metlakahtla. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth,.... ....1.50

"An important historical document as well as a story of absorbing interest and an heroic record that will thrill the hearts of all lovers of golden deeds. It tells the story of William Duncan the missionary among the great detached section of the United States. Nothing could be more romantic, more thrilling, more redolent of patience and high courage, than this story of his life work—a thorough and absorbing record."—Minneapolis Tribune.

¶ARNOLD'S PRACTICAL COMMENTARY

Cloth ..... .50
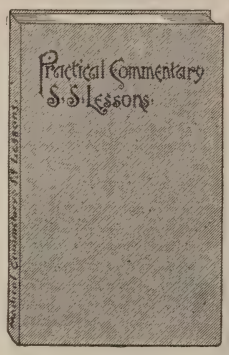
(postage 10c.)



For reliability, aptness of exposition and spiritual suggestion, this popular help is especially commended. With its hints to teachers, illustrations, blackboard exercises, questions, maps, etc., it has for many years supplied the need for a good, all-round commentary at a popular price.

ARRIGHI, Antonio Andrea.

¶ The Story of Antonio the Galley Slave. With Portrait. 12mo, cloth.....1.2

One of the most thrillin annals of modern history i found in this record of actua experiences in the life of An tonio Arrighi. The autho is his own story-teller. H fought under Garibaldi, as drummer boy in the seige Rome, 1849. There he wa taken prisoner and served fo three years as a galley slav Later he escaped to Americ in 1885, where he educate himself, returning to Italy t serve for nine years as Methodist Missionary in Flo ence. For the last 30 yea he has been minister of th Presbyterian Chapel, Italia Church, in Broome Stree New York.

ATKINS, Frederick A.

¶ Life Worth While. A Volume of Inspiration for Young Men. 12mo, cloth ..... .75

This new volume of talks to young men by Mr. Atkins contains the same tonic qualities that made MORAL MUSCLE, FIRST BATTLES and ASPIRATION AND ACHIEVEMENT so truly helpful. The author is a man of magnetic and winning personality. His appeal is particularly to young men. The virile and persuasive tone will stimulate to greater endeavor and higher achievement.

Aspiration and Achievement. A Young Man's Message to Young Men. 12mo, cloth, .35

BABCOCK, Maltbie Davenport, D.D.

The Joy of Work. Right Living Series. 12mo, autumnal boards, ink and gold stamping,  .35

"I hope that when I am dead I shall be remembered as one who worked! Heaven will be work; there will not be two unrelated existences, but the one will be a completion and development of the other." Maltbie D. Babcock.

Fragments That Remain: Sermons, Addresses and Prayers. Edited by Jessie B. Goetschius. 12mo, cloth, gilt top.....1.25

"Is as remarkable in its preparation as in its preservation of the Babcock tone and flavor. While the sermons were not reported verbatim, many clergymen and others who were close to Dr. Babcock commend the seeming accuracy of the writer in catching and preserving not only the thought, but in large measure the very words, phrases and sentences of the 'prince among preachers.'"—New York Observer.

Maltbie Davenport Babcock. A Biographical Sketch and Memorial by Charles E. Robinson, D. D. With portrait. 12mo, cloth 1.00

"It was indeed hard to give any true presentment of a man like Babcock, so vivid, so dazzling at times, so lovable always; but the writer's success is quite wonderful."—Henry van Dyke.

BABCOCK, Bernie.

An Uncrowned Queen. The Story of the Life of Frances E. Willard told for Young People. Illustrated. 12mo, cloth..... .75

BAIRD, Annie L. A.

Daybreak in Korea. A Tale of Transformation. Illustrated, 16mo, cloth ..... .60

"A keen, incisive story, which depicts the life of the Korean woman in a most revealing way. It is just the book for those who would quickly penetrate beyond outward appearances and see what moves the Korean mind."
—Dr. William Elliot Griffis.

¶ Sita. A Story of Child Marriage Fetters. 12mo, cloth 1.25

A story of native and mission life in India; a story dealing with the stress of famine and the pathetic condition of India's child-widows. Written by a medical missionary of the Christian Church, this engaging recital will awaken a wide sympathy and practical efforts for relief.

BALDWIN, Josephine L.

The Shepherd Psalm for Children. With halftone frontispiece and 13 outline illustrations. 16mo, cloth..... ..... .35

"We can say without reserve that it is equally adapted to teach the teacher how to teach, to teach the child how to learn, and to teach what ought to be learned. It would make a delightful gift book for any small child."—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

BALDWIN, M. S.

Life in a Look. 16mo, paper,..... .15

BALLARD, Susan.

Fairy Tales from Far Japan. New Edition, fully illustrated,..... ....1.00

The late Mrs. Isabella L. Bird Bishop said: "Miss Ballard has done English readers a great service in placing within their reach these most popular specimens of Japanese fairy-lore, showing the sort of pabulum on which Japanese children are reared. I have much pleasure in commending these charming tales to all who desire a glimpse of Japanese fairylore."

BANKS, Louis Albert, D. D.

Thirty-one Revival Sermons. On themes drawn from the lives of Elijah and Elisha. 12mo, cloth..... .....1.00

"That these sermons abound in illustrations and that they are extremely interesting goes without saying. These sermons seem to us to be the strongest that we have seen from the pen of Dr. Banks. They furnish inspiring devotional reading for preacher or layman."—United Presbyterian.

Unused Rainbows. Prayer Meeting Talks. 12mo, cloth, gilt top 1.00

BARNARD, Charles.

The Door in the Book. Illustrated by Mary A. Lathbury. 12mo, cloth..... .1.00

BATTEN, Samuel Zane, D. D.

¶ The Social Task of Christianity. A Summons to the New Crusade. 12mo, cloth.....1.25

A frank and clear statement of the meaning and method of Social Service. The author shows that Christianity is essentially social, and consequently cannot have its perfect work till it is realized in social life. There are many other books suggesting this task and dealing with phases of it; but this is the first definite and frank statement of the new task facing modern Christianity with a scientific and comprehensive program of action.

BAYLEY, Frank T.

"Little Ten-Minutes." Talks of a Pastor to his Children. 12mo, cloth..... .1.00

The Advance places Dr. Bayley with Hawthorne, Timothy Titcomb and Louise M. Alcott as a writer of talks for children. It says: "He seems to be able to create a good story out of the commonest experiences. He also knows a thousand good stories of history."

"It is a wonderful book; nowhere in the language can such a body of flashing wit, pungent illustration, homely phrase and absolute accuracy and aptness of figure be fonnd."—Brooklyn Eagle.

BEECHER, Thomas K., D. D.

In Time with the Stars. Stories for children. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth ..... .75
"Mr. Beecher's name is sufficient commendation of this charming collection, on which we have heretofore commented. Of course there is not a dull paragraph in the volume, while each story carries a sound lesson. It is a good addition to the library of children's classics."—The Outlook.

BEGBIE, Harold.

¶ The Shadow. By author of "Twice-Born Men." 12mo, cloth .1.25

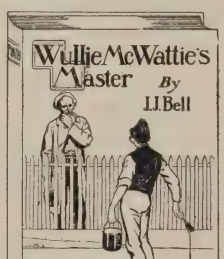
A new story by the novelist whose study of regeneration "Twice-Born Men," has made the religious world fairly gasp at its startling revelations of the almost overlooked proofs of the power of conversion to be found among the lowest humanity. His latest work is a careful and even brilliant study of modern life which will maintain the author's reputation. While it entertains, its definite purpose is to elevate and inspire. As the London Times says: "It is a definitely religious novel, but one written by a man of the world and an attractive writer."

Twice-Born Men. A Clinic in Regeneration. 12mo, cloth..... 1.25
A footnote in narrative to Prof. Wm. James' "The Varieties of Religious Experience."
Studies in the phenomena of conversion from the standpoint of the student of human nature.
Prof. William James, of Harvard, says: "Mr. Begbie's book is a wonderful set of stories splendidly worked up. It certainly needs no preface from me. I might as well call my book a foot-note to his. I am proud of the dedication and of the references and I wish the book a great success."

BELL, J. J.

¶ The Indiscretions of Maister Redhorn. Illustrated, 16mo, cloth..... .60

The thousands who have read Wullie McWattie's Master will need no introduction to this Scottish "penter" and his "pint o' view." The same dry Scottish humor, winning philosophy and human nature, fairly overflow the pages of this new story which have already made Bell a favorite. As the Indianapolis Star said of the former: "One hardly knows which is more appealing—'Wullie,' the mischievous boy, or Wullie's Master, the dear old man whose kind heart interferes with his stern resolutions and whose wholesome philosophy cheers and edifies."



Wullie McWattie's Master. Uniform with "Oh! Christina!" Illustrated, 16mo, cloth.....† .60

"Those of you who have been delighted with 'Wee Macgreegor' and have chortled with glee over the delights of 'Christina' will learn with pleasure that Bell has written another book of similar character. Wullie McWattie is a joy and the sketches are delightful. Mr. Bell's depiction of the little Scotch town, of the varied character and of the quaint atmosphere is humorous and vivid."
—Chicago Evening Journal.

Oh! Christina! Illustrated, 16mo, cloth, †.60
"OH! CHRISTINA! is quite as amusing as 'Wee Macgregor,' but with a quaint, bristling, slangy, good-hearted little girl as the exponent of Glasga' humor instead of a laddie. The book may be read in an hour, and that hour at least will be one of jollity."—The Outlook.

Whither Thou Goest. A Romance of the Clyde. 12mo, cloth,.....†1.20
"We all remember Mr. Bell as the author of 'Wee Macgreegor,' but good as it is, this new story is his best work—thus far. In it he strikes a new vein, perfectly irresistible to any one who loves a straightforward, honest tale. full of living, breathing characters whom one seems to have met and known."—Boston Times.

BEST, Nolan Rice.

Beyond the Natural Order. Essays on Prayer, the Miracles and the Incarnation. 16mo, cloth, ...  .75
A timely work by the editor of "The Interior."
"This is the best book on prayer and miracle I have ever read."—Dr. Alexander Whyte in the British Weekly.
"Mr. Best is well known in the Presbyterian Church as one of its most gifted men, and in the ranks of religious journalism as one of the discerning, devout and sane students of the times in which he lives. To the consideration and the unfolding of his themes, Mr. Best has brought the exercise of an independent judgment and a penetrating mind. His fresh and virile phraseology serves to bring out old and familiar truths into clearer light."—Western Christian Advocate.

¶ Happiness. Decorated, 8vo, cloth, gilt top1.50

This is the fourth in a quartette of beautiful gift books which began with FRIENDSHIP, and very naturally ends with HAPPINESS. Thousands who have been led into a deeper understanding of friendship will welcome this new volume on "what all the world's a-seeking"—happiness. The new book is a fitting companion volume to the first. Similar to FRIENDSHIP in its form it will yet be distinct in matters of cloth, cover design, title page and decorative page borders. Altogether it will be one of the season's most delightful gift books—the mechanical setting being worthy of the subject matter in every respect.

Comfort. Uniform with "FRIENDSHIP" and "WORK." Decorated, 8vo, cloth, ...1.50

The author of the famous classic "Friendship" has written upon a no less universal theme. In his most sympathetic vein he unfolds the consolations that may be derived from the Gospel of Comfort, The After Look, The Burden of the Past, The Burden of the Future, The Lonely Life, Trial as Discipline, Trial for Purity, Sorrow and Insight, The Mystery of Pain, The Empty Seat, etc.

BRYSON, Charles Lee.

¶ Woodsy Neighbors of Tan and Teckle. Illustrated by Charles Livingston Bull. 12mo, cloth..... 1.25

Futher adventures of Tan and Teckle and their tiny neighbors in field and forest with whom they come in daily contact The author fascinates children with his tales of minute creatures as "Uncle Remus" has done with his Bre'r Rabbit, Bre'r Fox and other animals of the woods. As the Denver Post says; "'Tan and Teckle' is but a live wire of interest which connects all human children big and little, with those millions of other children of the soil whose rights on earth are far better than ours, for each citizen does his duty well."

Tan and Teckle. Illustrated by Charles Livingston Bull. 12mo, cloth, ...1.25
"It is hard to tell of a book every line of which teems with the strange, yet simple, widely spread open and yet abstruse thesis, Life. 'Tan and Teckle' is but a live wire of interest which connects all human children, big and little, with those millions of other children of the soil whose rights on earth are far better than ours, for each citizen does his duty well."—Denver Post

¶ Messages from John's Gospel. 12mo, cloth, ... 1.00 or 1.25
These effective "daily messages" have for some time been a feature of "Association men" where they have called forth many expressions of gratitude and appreciation. Many who have been following them in the Y. M. C. A. journal will be glad to have them in book form for presentation and reference. The book will also be a source of daily inspiration to every man who makes it a part of his library.

BULLEN, FRANK T.

Denizens of the Deep. Fully illustrated. 8vo, cloth 1.75
"Mr. Bullen has done for the dwellers of the sea what Kipling, Thompson-Seton, and their followers have done for the frequenters of the jungle and forest. ..A fascinating volume which owes nothing of its success to its precursors. It is a new and little understood world that is opened up, and the value of the book lies in its truth, its charm, and the lively sympathy with every living thing."—N. Y. Tribune.

BUNKER, Alonzo, D. D.

Sketches from the Karen Hills. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth..... ....1.00
"No book of adventure has more thrilling experiences than those connected with the founding of Loikaw Mission and the actual contact with all sorts of wild animals and deadly serpents. One finds a miracle performed before one's very eyes, a savage tribe completely civilized and mainly Christianized, and that too, by the heroic efforts of one leader. One feels the thrill of missionary enterprise and closes the book with the prayer that he, too, may have the far vision."—Watchman.

CAMPBELL, James M.

¶ Grow Old Along With Me. 12mo, cloth, gilt top,.....1.25

The art of growing old gracefully has never been presented in a more sympathetic way than by the author of this delightful book. The title taken from Browning's Rabbi Ben Ezra springs from a common desire on the part of men and women to know how others look at life when the crest of the hill has been reached and the downward journey begun, Dr. Campbell's modern presentation of the subject is certain to awake a responsive chord in thousands who are beginning to taste "the last of life for which the first was made."

Similes and Figures from Alexander Maclaren. With an Appreciation by F. B. Meyer. 12mo, cloth, ... 1.00
"Any compilation of the figures and similes of this prince of preachers would be valuable. But one made by a man of the fine discrimination and thorough sympathy of Dr. Francis E. Clark, who knew Dr. Maclaren, and greatly enjoyed his preaching, must be of the greatest interest and worth. The study of these sketches of a master cannot but be of great value to any earnest preacher of the gospel. Their value, however, is not for the preacher alone. The selections illuminate many phases of Christian truth in a way to be most helpful to any one desiring 'the sincere milk of the word.'" —Presbyterian Advance.

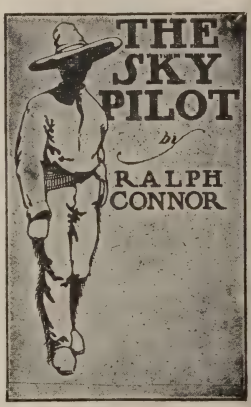
The Sky Pilot: A Tale of the Foothills. 12mo, cloth. Illustrated by Louis Rhead... 1.25



"Ralph Connor's 'Black Rock' was good, but 'The Sky Pilot' is better. The matter which he gives us is real life; virile, true, tender, humorous, pathetic, spiritual, wholesome. His Bret Harte manner in describing his life has at times a distinct and refreshing quality of literary workmanship; his style, fresh, crisp and terse, accords with the Western life, which he well understands."—The Outlook.

CONVICT NUMBER 1776.
An Open Letter to Society. Introduction by Maud Ballington Booth. 12mo, cloth ..... In Press
"I have always felt since I have been closely in touch with the prison world that there was only one standpoint from which this great problem could be thoroughly understood—the standpoint of the cell. Penologists and Phrenologists have written many volumes upon 'the criminal.' It is only fair the world should hear the other side."
Extract from Mrs. Booth's Introduction.
This is an awakening book. If its position is correct, it should bring about radical corrective action.

¶ The Measure of a Man. A Tale of the Big Woods. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth.....1.25

"The Measure of a Man" is Mr. Duncan's first full-sized novel having a distinct motif and purpose since "Dr. Luke of the Labrador." This tale of the big woods has for its hero, John Fairmeadow—every inch a man whom the Lumber Jacks of his parish in the pines looked up to as their Sky Pilot. Human nature in the rough is here portrayed with a faithfulness that is convincing. There is not lacking a pathetic tenderness that is ever found where hearts are akin. These contrasting elemental forces are handled with a master hand and with that inimitable style that has given Mr. Duncan's writings such high rank in literature as to compare is works with the classics of Dickens and Stevenson.

Norman Duncan has the real key to the boy heart and in Labrador he has opened up a field magnetic in its perils and thrills and endless excitements."—Examiner.

The Adventures of Billy Topsail. 12mo, illustrated..... †1.50

"It is a marvelously vivid and realistic narration, and this quality is reached through Mr. Duncan's skill in delineating the things that really happen up there. There was no need to invent conditions or imagine situations. The life of any lad of Billy Topsail's years up there is sufficiently romantic. It is this skill in the portrayal of actual conditions that lie ready to the hand of the intelligent observer that makes Mr. Duncan's Newfoundland stories so noteworthy. ¶ The Holy Gospel. A Parallel Presentation of the three Protestant and the Roman Catholic Versions. 8vo, cloth 1.00

The Three Hundredth Anniversary of the King James Bible version calls emphatic attention to the various translations now in use among English-speaking people. The purpose of this volume is to present in parallel columns, the three Protestant and one Roman Catholic versions now in common use, the object being to indicate how slight in any of these, is the divergence. The result gives added emphasis to the authority and preservation of the Book of Books.

GORDON, S. D.

¶ The Consummation of Calvary: Its Foreshadowings, Facts and Spirit. Idyll Envelope Series .25

This study of the essence of the Easter message, showing its application to everyday Christian life, should have a wide sale. In commenting upon the success of Mr. Gordon's works The United Presbyterian recently said: "Each of his works come with the force of a new revelation. His writings are now exerting a quiet influence in more than half a million homes and are among the most helpful that we could name for all classes of Christian people."

Crowding Out the Christ Child. Idyll Envelope Series..... .25

Quiet Talks About the Tempter. 12mo, cloth, ... .75

The different aspects of Temptation are considered here by Mr. Gordon. The subject is one eminently adapted to his habit of writing, replete as it is with insight into human nature and the temptation which assail it.

The Quietest Talk. A Footnote to "Quiet Talks on Home Ideals." 16mo, paper. .10

Quiet Talks with World Winners. 12mo, cloth. ..... .75

The chief business of the church is to take the gospel of Jesus to all men. The absorbing center of church action just now is in foreign mission lands. "World Winners" aims to give a bird's eye view of the world, in a warm, fresh way without the use of statistics; to make world winning the gripping purpose of every religious man and to make the man in humblest place feel that he can be helping swing a world up to God as he goes about his daily common place rounds.

Quiet Talks on Personal Problems. 12mo, cloth. ..... .75

"This is not a theological book, but takes the problems of every-day Christian life and seeks to make them clear and to show a solution. No one can read the book or even a few pages of it without gaining strength and courage for the conflicts of life. On the whole we pronounce this Mr. Gordon's best book."—The Watchman.

Quiet Talks about Jesus. 12mo, cloth..... .75

"Mr. Gordon has made a picture that will prove helpful to tens of thousands of readers. It would be an infinite gain if all our religious text-books were written as is this "Quiet Talks about Jesus." Rises to almost overpowering interest."—Syracuse Herald.

Quiet Talks on Home Ideals. 12mo, cloth, .75

"While something of a departure from the earlier volumes this new work is still distinctly devotional while dealing with such themes as companionship, marriage, the coming home, the new babe, and kindred themes. Characterized by the same directness, simplicity and frankness as his former books."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Quiet Talks on Service. 70th thousand. 12mo, cloth ..... .75

"They are really 'quiet talks' and yet with all their sweetness and gentleness, so clear powerful and convincing that one rises from his reading with a feeling that he has drunk deeply of a drug that has strengthened his soul for the combat of life. One cannot describe these 'quiet talks,' they must be read to be thoroughly appreciated."

GRIST, William Alexander

¶ The Historic Christ in the Faith of To-day. 8vo, cloth..... 2.50

This is more than a Life of Christ. It is an examination in the light of modern thought of Christ's place at the centre of faith. While the author is evangelical and conservative in the best sense of these words, he writes from a mind thoroughly familiar with all that has been said in recent years in critical circles, and from a heart inspired by his theme. It is a rare and most unusual combination of devotional sympathy and insight with scholarly acumen and culture, written in a style of singular lucidity and graphic power.

7. From Darkness to Light. By Mary Helm. A Study of Negro Progress.

8. Conservation of National Ideals.

This latest volume in the International Home Mission Study Course, dealing with such diverse themes as make up our national ideals, was committed to several specialists in their particular lines, and thus is presented a series of most important themes by well-known writers, fully qualified for such work. Quite apart from its use as a text book, this volume will be found of large interest to all Americans whose patriotism would conserve what is most worthy in all that America stands for.

¶ The Hero of Heroes. A Life of Christ for the Young. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth ... 1.25

Dr. Horton's Life of Christ for children is quite distinct from other lives of Jesus for young folks. The distinguished author's name is a guarantee that the story is charmingly told in a scholarly way. The child mind will be captivated by the sweet, simple language, and his eye will be delighted with the full page pictures in colors by the eminent artist James Clark, who made actual studies in the Holy Land for these illustrations.

The Triumphant Life: Life, Warfare and Victory through the Cross. 16mo, cloth, ... .50

"No devout Christian can read it with open heart without being lifted to a higher plane of faith and duty, and no Christian who has fallen into the pit of doubt and uncertainty can fail to see his doubts removed and his uncertainties changed into firm and joyous belief. It is a very helpful and stimulating book, full of the marrow of the Gospel."—Examiner.

A Devotional Commentary on St. Matthew, 12mo, cloth ... 1.00

"An excellent commentary in brief compass, designed to assist the fuller and richer use of Scripture in a devotional way, by a leading English divine, who has a way of getting at the heart of the gospel teaching. The notes are not overloaded with illustrative extracts, but their aim is to elucidate (and not obscure) the meaning of the text."—N. Y. Observer.

My Belief: Answers to Certain Religious Difficulties. 12mo, cloth ... 1.25

"A man who can give a clear and intelligible reason for every article of his faith has a timely message for an age which is full of religious questioning. Dr. Horton has delivered such a message wherein he deals with 'fifteen of the questions which confront the modern mind in the search for religious truth.' His love for the Bible and the inspiration of his faith are contagious."—Congregationalist.

"Takes up the Psalms as a whole at first, and then in a new manner classifies them into groups as the Messianic Psalms, Songs of Deliverance, National, Personal Psalms, etc., concluding with ten comprehensive studies in exegesis. The book will be prized by students of the Bible and by the minister as a handy reference book and commentary."—N. Y. Observer.

HUGHES, Rupert.

¶ Miss 318. A Story in Season and Out of Season. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth ... .75

"Is there any excuse for one more Christmas story?" "Surely nothing has been left unsaid." "The truth, perhaps." "The truth?—about Christmas! Would anybody care to read it?" "Perhaps." "But would anybody dare to publish it?" "Probably not." "That sounds interesting! What nobody would care to read and nobody would dare to publish, ought to be well worth writing."

The result was amazing. The first editor that saw it published it. It's appearance in The Saturday Evening Post brought forth a multitude of responses, all of them warm with approval.

¶ The Singer of the Kootenay. A Tale of To-day. 12mo, cloth..... ....1.20

The scene of action for Mr. Knowles' latest novel is in the Crow's Nest Pass of the Kootenay Mountains of British Columbia. To this dramatic field he has gone for local color and has taken every advantage of his wide knowledge, picturing life of every phase in his most artistic style. The author has been aptly called "the Ian Maclaren of Canada," and with each succeeding story since his initial volume, "St. Cuthbert's," he has perfected his literary form and increased his popularity. No less an authority than Sir Robertson Nicoll says: "THE ATTIC GUEST marks in every respect a great advance. Mr. Knowles has found himself and writes in his own way, and it is a good way."

The Handicap. 12mo, cloth ..... †1.20

"An infinitely human and appealing story is this narrative of the noble life of Dinny Riley, the witty, laughable, lovable Irishman, who set up his tavern in the Canadian Borderland. The novel has Mr. Knowles' usual tender-hearted pathos, but even more than ordinarily, this is lightened by a ready wit that time and again induces the reader's smiles. On the whole, we may say that this is the most consistently interesting tale that this author has done."
—Book News.

The Undertow A Tale of Both Sides of the Sea. 12mo, cloth..... .... †1.50

"The reader's interest is strongly held from the beginning. What is really the best part of the author's work is that which has to do in bringing out so finely and strongly the sharply defined characteristics of an intensely religious Scotch, Canadian-Scotch, home. No one could have described it so well who had not himself had some intimate knowledge of such a home."—Chicago Evening Post.

"What Ian Maclaren has done for his Scotch parish and what Barrie has done for Thrums, that Robert E. Knowles has done for his Canadian church folks. Mr. Knowles has written with a rare sense of humor which is not to be overlooked. Beyond the kindly humor of the sketches, they are in part as instinct with sentiment and pathos as the most lacrymose page of the 'Bonnie Brier Bush' or 'A Widow in Thrums.' It is a new field of romantic interest Mr. Knowles opens up in St. Cuthbert's'."—Albany Argus.

LAUGHLIN, Clara E.

¶ The Gleaners. A Novellette. Illustrated, decorated boards..... .75

Again Miss Laughlin has given us a master-piece in this story of present day life. Millet's picture, "The Gleaners," is the moving spirit of this little romance and, incidentally, one catches the inspiration the artist portrays in his immortal canvas. "The Gleaners" will be issued in similar style to "Everybody's Lonesome," of which the Toronto Globe said: "One of the successful writers of 'Good Cheer' stories for old and young is Miss Laughlin, and whoever reads one of her cheery little volumes desires more."

"Everybody's Lonesome." A True Fairy Story. Illustrated by A. I. Keller. 12mo, cloth, ... †.75

The best work that the author of "The Evolution of a Girl's Idea," has yet produced. Miss Laughlin knows the human heart, and the development of Mary Alice from a country girl to a popular social favorite is accomplished through the unfolding of the "secret" which is contained in the title of this story. So unfailing in its arm does the "secret" prove that all who feel its influence are immediately captivated. Millionaires, society leaders and even the King himself are fascinated by it.

¶ The Unsearchable Riches. 12mo, cloth. .1.25

The author so well and widely known through his large ministry in Southern California, now transferred to New York City, adds this new volume of sermonic essays to his earlier popular volumes. Few authors or preachers have so happy a faculty of practical illustration, or so thorough a grip on their readers' attention. The book is a series of connected devotional chapters of the highest order.

A Comfortable Faith. 12mo, cloth 1.00

"Under Mr. McLeod's gifted hand the most commonplace religious truth glitters with new fire. Few men have equalled his gift of expression and illustration. He argues by picture and convinces with his array of facts. The popularity of his previous books on both sides of the ocean assure a welcome for everything that comes from his pen.—Watchman.

¶ The Pedagogics of Preaching. A Short Essay in Practical Homiletics. 12mo, cloth . . . .50

It would be hard to find one better prepared both by study and practical training to write this book, than Doctor Mark. Much has been done for the teacher in showing him the practical application in his work of the findings of the new Psychology, but comparatively little has been done in the field of "Psychology and Preaching." This scholarly and yet popular book applies to the art of preaching methods which have long been followed in connection with the training of teachers.

MOORE, Pres. Walter W.

¶ The Indispensable Book. 16mo, cloth.... .75

"A very timely book, owing to the tercentenary of the English Bible by the President Union Theological Seminary, Richmond. "One of the most stimulating, inspiring and helpful books appearing in a long time—will carry conviction concerning the necessity of the Word of God in the moulding of all moral and spiritual life."—Christian Observer.

MOORE, William T., L.L.D.

A Comprehensive History of the Disciples of Christ. 12mo, cloth..... 3.50
Half Morocco..... 4.50
Full Morocco..... 6.00

"The facts concerning this vigorous American denomination are set forth in this extensive history. The book is well made and unusually flexible for so large a one, printed on good paper and in large, clear type. It is profusely illustrated with the pictures of leading men and historic buildings. The author has played a very important part in the history of the denomination and speaks out of an extensive and friendly personal acquaintance with men and events."

Supremacy of the Heart Life. A Plea for the Regnancy of Love. 8vo, cloth..... 1.25

"A strong persuasive plea for the regnancy of love. Will well repay thoughtful perusal and will be found provocative of and stimulating to thought."—Episcopal Recorder.

Preacher Problems. The Twentieth Century Preacher at His Work. 8vo, cloth..... 1.50

"Dr. Moore has placed the whole preaching fraternity under a debt of obligation. To young preachers, particularly, it will prove a worthy vade mecum. A man of wide as well as long experience in the ministry, and in the training of ministers, he has poured into this volume of thirty-six chapters his wealth of wisdom gleaned from a lifetime."—Christian Evangelist.

MOOREHEAD, Prof. W. G.

Outline Studies in the New Testament. Philippians to Hebrews. 12mo, cloth..... 1.20
"The analysis and treatment are marked with the same keenness and clearness noted in the earlier volumes. The most difficult passages are selected for special treatment, and the obscurities made plain. It is a book for thoughtful students of the Bible and will be found very helpful and satisfactory by preachers in preparation of sermons and by Bible class teachers."—The Watchman.

MORGAN, G. Campbell, D.D.

¶ Messages of the Books of the Bible. 3 vols, 12mo, cloth, each..... 1.00

I. Messages of the Books, Genesis-Esther.
II. Messages of the Books, Job-Malachi.
III. Messages of the Books, Matthew-Revelation.

This work is quite distinct from the author's "Analyzed Bible," and covers the whole range of Holy Writ from an original basis. Dr. Morgan here presents in a most scholarly series of Expositions the truly Spiritual messages or Keynotes of each of the separate books of the Bible, applying their various messages to the individual, the church and the nation to-day in a practical and convincing manner. Carefully arranged detailed charts accompany each of the sixty-six divisions, showing their essential messages and applications.

¶ The Study and Teaching of the English Bible. 16mo, cloth ..... .50
"Dr. Morgan has condensed in his clear, analytical fashion, a few great principles about the Book, and how to make its contents accessible to others. Many perplexed but earnest teachers, especially of men's classes, will be grateful for the light it throws on the heart of the problem of teaching the Bible, and for its mental quickening and heart-warming qualities."—S. S. Times.

The Bible and the Cross. 16mo, cloth ... .50
"The cross is an inexhaustible theme because it is the very centre of Christianity. Dr. Morgan considers the subject in the light of Bible teaching. His book is an interpretation of that teaching, and is charmingly lucid."—C. E. World.

The Missionary Manifesto, Being a Study of the Great Commission, 16mo, cloth,..... .75

"An admirable study of the four-fold commission of the risen Lord. Dr. Morgan discusses, with his usual clarity and force, his contention that we have in the four Gospels, not the record of one commission in different words, but four commissions or declarations, each having its special significance, each supplementing and broadening the others."—Examiner.

Mountains and Valleys in the Ministry of Jesus. Inner Light Series. 18mo boards,......25

Christian Principles. 16mo, cloth,..... .50
"It is certainly a great privilege to have in book form the able and interesting lectures Dr. Morgan recently delivered in this country. We find in them an intellectuality that is more marked than in others of the author's works, coupled with a deep spirituality, which makes the book all the more valuable."—Insitute Tie.

The Parables of the Kingdom. Expositions of Matt. XIII. 12mo, cloth..... 1.00
"Dr. Morgan in this series of discussions of the parables is at his best, for insight into the deeper meaning of the parabolic teaching, clearness of apprehension of the main truth of the passages, pre-eminent practicality, and sympathy with struggling human nature. An excellent example of expository literature."—New York Observer.

The Analyzed Bible, Dr. Morgan's Great Analytical Study of the Whole Bible. Each 12mo, cloth,.....1.00

"Those who have had the pleasure and profit of listening to Campbell Morgan's inimitable running comments or Bible readings, will find the same experiences in reading any of this series of books, which is finally to include the whole of the Old and New Testaments: The reader will lay this work down with the hope that the life of the author will be spared, till this, his crowning life's work, is accomplished."—Reformed Church Messenger.

¶ The Boy from Hollow Hut. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth..... 1.00

Mr. John Fox, Jr., has, in a fascinating way, acquainted the reading public with existing conditions among the Mountain Whites of Kentucky and Tennessee. In this same field Mrs. Mullins, of Louisville, has with her husband (President of the great Theological Seminary of that city), taken large interest in these people, and in this engaging little story has made a most successful effort to awaken a broader interest in, and sympathy for, a class too long neglected. It is a story of humor, pathos and purpose.

¶ The Master: or the Story of Stories Retold. 12mo, cloth. .... In Press

The oft told tale is ever new. The story of the Christ is a perennial spring. Notwithstanding all that has been written, there could but be a place for this work by a layman, whose departure from the conventional method of presenting the story of the Master, will make a strong appeal. It is a book for the home.

The widening scheme now being attempted in connection with the graded series of lessons is an opportune time for the study of this growing movement.

SANGSTER, Margaret E.

From My Youth Up. Personal Reminiscenses An Autobiography. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth. 1.50

"In the story of the early days of the writer there is a sweetness, truth, and simplicity, and a gentle humor, that of Barrie's "Margaret Ogilvie." It is all as entertaining, as fresh and charming, as any romance. For the rest, it portrays a life of dauntless courage, of high endeavor, spent in service, and serene through bitter trial, partly by temperament, partly by that inborn faith which upholds and enlarges and inspires. As a historic picture, both of domestic life and of a tremendous period, these pages are a remarkable work, and the atmosphere of fellowship and love and help which they carry make them invaluable."—N. Y. Times Sat. Review.

The Queenly Mother in the Realm of Home. Illustrated, 8vo, cloth.....1.50

"A welcome contribution to the literature of the home. Mrs. Sangster's wise counsel and uplifting thought make her messages, whether addressed directly to the mother or other members of the family circle, of prime importance. She deals with very practical things in a fine spirit, and the volume, to be read at first for the very pleasure that it will give, is one to be taken up time and again for the light it sheds on some special stage of development. It cannot fail to raise the level of home life, and so accomplishes a high and lasting purpose."—Newark Evening News.

Fairest Girlhood. Illustrated by character studies from life by Griselda Marshall McClure. 8vo, cloth.....1.50

"The book is beautifully made up in a manner appropriate to its title. Mrs. Sangster need make no apology for writing another book especially for girls. Her work has made her an authority. Her book is not alone for the college girl, the worker, the home maker, the girl in business. With keen insight into girl nature and a wide experience of world conditions, something is here said sympathetically which must appeal to all girlhood."—Washington Star.

¶ Some Great Leaders in the World Movement. The Cole Lectures for 1911, delivered before Vanderbilt University 12mo, cloth ... 1.25

Mr. Speer in his characteristic inspiring way has presented the keynote of the lives of six of the World's greatest missionaries: Raymond Lull, the crusading spirit in missions; William Carey, the problems of the pioneer; Alexander Duff, Missions and Education; Geo. Bowen, the ascetic ideal in missions; John Lawrence, Politics and Missions, and Charles G. Gordon, modern missionary knight-errancy.

¶ The Foreign Doctor: "The Hakim Sahib." A Biography of Joseph Plumb Cochran, M.D., of Persia. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth 1.50

Dr. Cochran came to a position of power in Western Persia which made his life as interesting as a romance. He was one of the central figures in the Kurdish invasion of Persia, and was the chief means of saving the city of Uramia. In no other biography is there as full an account of the actual medical work done by the medical missionary, and of the problem of the use of the political influence acquired by a man of Dr. Cochran's gifts and opportunities.

Christianity and the Nations. The Duff Lectures for 1910. 8vo, cloth..... 2.00

"The whole volume is aglow with the author's love of his work, warm with Christian love and optimistic through the power of faith. Dr. Speer does not close his eyes to the mistakes which missionaries have made, and he singles out for condemnation the diplomatic encroachments which nominally Christian states have made under cover of reprisal for injuries done missionary pioneers. No one familiar with the author's style needs to be told that the whole is presented in faultless English and with convincing logic."—The Continent.

STEINER, Edward A.

¶ The Broken Wall. Stories of the Mingling Folk. Illustrated 1.00

Professor Steiner has the story-teller's knack and uses his art with consummate skill in this collection, where will be found dramatic tragedy and profound pathos in strong contrast with keen humor and brilliant wit, all permeated by an uncompromising optimism. No man has probed the heart of the immigrant more deeply, and his interpretation of these Americans of tomorrow is at once a revelation and an inspiration: a liberal education in brotherhood.

"'Against the Current' is as frank a bit of autobiography as has been published for many a year. The author has for a long time made a close study of the problems of immigration, and has viewed the immigrant and investigated his needs and possibilities at his port of departure, in the steerage, and in the new conditions of the new world. The present volume discloses the secret of his sympathy and his success; for it tells frankly the story of his early life. His story is simply told, with a power and vividness which makes a strong appeal to the reader."

Bible Miniatures. One Hundred and Fifty Scriptural Character Studies. 12mo, cloth, ..1.25

"This is a gem of a little book. It contains character sketches of one hundred and fifty heroes and heroines of the Bible. The salient features of each life are finely and clearly drawn so that they stand out with distinctness, and with a few strong, incisive phrases the deepest spiritual lessons of each life is made to hold the gaze of the mind. It is remarkable how much is packed into these short, striking sentences, and that too, without confusing the reader."

The author says in the Preface, "Here is an other book of pictures and stories for the big children and small grown-up folks who enjoyed reading "Topsy-Turvy Land" and want to know more about Arabia. The camels are waiting and the caravan is ready to start." Young folks and children as well as their elders will be charmed with the strange stories of a strange land so entertainingly told and illustrated in eighteen chapters.
